Rev. B. L. Hicks who attended the annual gathering of the Christian church at Turner last week says the attendance was large and the reports from the various sections very gratifying.

E. P. Hamilton has leased the Depot Livery Stable of Joe Hess and will use it in connection with his wood business by tearing out the stalls and utilizing the yard that has been used as a stock pen.

David Coyle, brother of Mrs. J. B. Mount, who recently returned from Iowa where he spent the past two years, is in town. He says business conditions are not as good in Iowa as they are reported to be further east.

Mrs. Eva H. Hull, her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Foster, of Columbus, Ohio, and Prof. Alexander Hull, left here Wednesday for Port Orford, Curry county, where they will spend several weeks visiting with a brother of Mrs. Hull and Mrs. Foster.

Miss Dorothy Ehret arrived home last week from Whittier, California, where she spent eight months. She says it is pleasing to get back to the green fields of Oregon again where nature smiles from growing trees and babbling brooks.

C. C. Harman and H. P. Burnham, of Sherwood, have been bringing berries of the "Phenomenal" variety to the juice plant, of enormous size, twenty-one berries weighing a pound. They are practically the same as the loganberry, though they are supposed to be not quite so tart.

Professors M. D. Hawkins and Harold Taggart who resigned their respective positions on the faculty of Pacific College at the close of the school year, expect to enter the University of California at the beginning of the new year in August. Claude Newlin, of the class of 1911, and Ellis Pickett, of the class of 1915, Pacific College, are also thinking of going to Berkeley for work in the university.

Delay in picking berries, occasioned by the rain, called for a grand rush, when the clouds rolled by, and consequently things piled up. At the juice plant 40,000 pounds of loganberries were received on Tuesday and more than 30,000 pounds on Wednesday, making it necessary for the force to work long into the night to take care of what was offered. More than 20,000 gallons of juice is already bottled, and barrels are now being filled and put into cold storage. Jones Bros. are beginning to wonder where the berries are coming from, and seem to be in doubt as to whether or not it will be necessary to build a reservoir to hold the juice, since the middle of the picking season, only, has been reached.

Pratt K. Siltan, democratic candidate for sheriff, was in town Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Howland have gone to Carson Springs for a stay of several weeks.

President Pennington and family who camped on the Santiam river out east of Salem last week are home again and report a poor catch of fish, the streams being too full for good fishing. W. E. Crozer brought them down from Rosedale Monday.

W. E. White and A. P. Oliver attended the meeting of the Interstate Realty Association in Portland the first of the week and say they had a most glorious time. Mr. White took part in the five-minute speech-making contest, and although first prize went to C. R. Belknap, of Warrenton, and second prize to M. J. Lee, of Canby, he came in for "favorable mention" in the report given by the Oregonian, which said he told of "our fine streets and roads, the sawmill, creamery, loganberry and canneries plants, of the great fruit farms that abound on the fertile soil about the city," and further that "Newberg is a good place for wornout ministers."

On Tuesday Miss Esther Miles received a card from Oskaloosa, Iowa, giving information of the drowning of James and William Kelsey, the sons of Prof. W. Irving Kelsey, who was at one time President of Pacific College. The card stated that the boys went for a hike with some Boy Scouts on Friday of last week and at Skunk river they went wading. James stepped into a hole beyond his depth and William went to his rescue but failed in the attempt, both being drowned. Their father was away at Minneapolis at the time. The boys were twelve to fourteen years old and are remembered here as bright little fellows, as they were when the family lived in Newberg.

C. Y. P. U. NOTES

Good reports are coming from the Springbrook society. There were fifty in attendance at one of their recent meetings and good lively interest and enthusiasm is manifest among those who attend. Robert Dann's visit to this society explaining the work of the C. E. of the Friends denomination was very interesting and profitable. Lyle Hubbard will lead the meeting next Sunday evening.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church will have a leaderless meeting next Sunday evening, owing to the fact that Miss Grace Wilson was booked to lead and she will accompany the other members of the Union Executive Board to Rex, where they will have charge of the 8 o'clock service on Sunday evening. Miss Katherine Romig, with Miss Ethel Morris of the Presbyterian Society, will sing a

John Hanson will lead the meeting at the Baptist church next Sunday evening, considering the topic "Enthusiasm; Its Value and How to Cultivate It." Bert Miller led the last Sunday evening meeting and nearly everyone in attendance took part and made the meeting very interesting and profitable to those present.

Let's all join with our several pastors in making the next six weeks of evening Union services of the churches a grand success and we will be benefitted by attending these services and the presence of the Union young people will add enthusiasm and interest.

REUNION AND RALLY OF A. O. U. W. MEMBERS

All A. O. U. W. members in this county are cordially invited and urgently requested to meet in McMinnville Saturday evening, July 29, at a reunion and rally, at which the grand lodge officers will be present and address the meeting. Supper will be served. The affair promises to be highly enjoyable, as well as profitable, in acquainting the members with the present gratifying condition of the order and other information that every member should have. The A. O. U. W. has recently published a splendid statement showing a margin of safety of over $91,000 and assets sufficient to meet all certificates as they mature by their terms. Every member in the county is invited to this meeting.

LOST HIS CUD

Alleging that he was deprived of the ability to chew tobacco by injuries he suffered when a wagon on which he was riding and a street car collided, Robert Bowman, a teamster, is suing the Indianapolis Traction & Terminal company for $5000 damages. Bowman was driving a load of sand. He was thrown off to the pavement and his lower jaw was dislocated.

His complaint says he had used tobacco for years, and since the accident has been "deprived of the pleasure and enjoyment" he formerly had.

SOME RAIN FOR JULY

From the evening Telegram the following is gleaned:

In the last 45 years there has been no other July so wet as the present one to date. Farther back than 1871 there was no weather bureau at Portland and no official records of the elements were kept. To and including July 17 up to 10 o'clock this morning the rainfall at Portland totaled 2.01 inches. Covering the same period, the rainfall in 1909 to and including July 17 amounted to 1.49 inches, which is the nearest approach to the present showing of the month. During the entire month of July in 1909 the precipitation was 2.26 inches. In the 24 hours ending at 8 o'clock this morning the rainfall at Portland was .69 of an inch.
