SI DRAFT SAYS

If a fly gets on your old pet cow or horse if you'll gently inject a "squirt" of Conkey's Fly Knock-er into his left ear he'll roll over dead and he'll stay dead, too. The boys at the Big Hardware Store say it's a money maker for the farmers. Get a can on 15 days free trial—money refunded if you don't like it.

Attorney Clarence Butt was in the county seat on business Monday.

Dr. and Mrs. Stuart were here from Oregon City the first of the week.

Mrs. Foster was up from Oswego Sunday visiting her son-in-law, J. L. Van Blaricom.

John Hamblin, of Yamhill, has rented the Joseph Stephens place out on the Dayton road.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Cobb and little one who have been here from Toledo on a visit with relatives are returning home today.

Thomas Rood and W. E. Terrell are building a new bungalow for Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Tallman out in the Springbrook neighborhood.

Josiah Philips, of Marion, Indiana, is visiting with his niece, Mrs. L. M. Carey. Although he is 77 years old he is quite well preserved.

Robert Dann and Paul Elliott are off for Clem, Gilliam county, for harvesting. They hear that crops are good in that section but about a month late this season.

On Tuesday four of the officials of the United States National Bank, of Portland, spent the afternoon in Newberg and were shown through the juice plant and the cannery by President Woodworth and Cashier Galt of the First National Bank of Newberg. They were J. C. Ainsworth, president; R. Lea Barnes, vice-president; R. W. Schmeer, cashier; Paul S. Dick, assistant cashier. They expressed themselves as being well pleased with what they saw.

Eli Hadley and family were out from Portland last week in their car.

State Forester and Mrs. Elliott were down from Salem the latter part of last week.

Dr. Clarence A. Eldridge, of Salem, spent Sunday with his parents near Champoeg.

S. B. Dodge is home from Spokane where he went to register for the public land drawing.

Mrs. Guy V. Abernethy and friend, Miss Lola Ruble, came down from Salem and spent Sunday at the home of the former.

Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Holt, L. P. Moore and family and Rev. and Mrs. Hiram Gould have gone on an auto trip over the Columbia River Highway today.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Anderson, in company with Portland friends and D. D. Coulson and family, are making a tour of the seaside beaches this week in their autos.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Larkin and two daughters, who are farming in the south part of the county, came down on the train Tuesday morning for a visit with relatives.

Dr. E. A. Romig and A. P. Oliver left town Tuesday morning in the former's auto, with plenty of fishing tackle, a good-sized can of worms and with countenances beaming with expectancy.

On last Monday E. H. Sensesich, cashier, and Attorney O. L. Price, assistant to the president of the Northwestern National Bank, of Portland, were callers in Newberg.

Seth Dodge, clerk in the post office, is off for his annual vacation and has gone to Seattle, having first visited with relatives and friends in Tacoma and Puallup, where he formerly lived.

W. R. Ballard is arranging to go to Grangeville, Idaho, to look after his property interests there. Mrs. Ballard left today for Melba, Idaho, where she will spend several weeks with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Gibson, of Coffeyville, Kansas, who are returning from a trip to the far north in Alaska, where the sun never sets, came out from Portland last Sunday and after attending Friends church in the morning, called in the afternoon on their former friends, H. M. Williams and sisters and Mrs. M. H. Bowerman. This is their second trip to Oregon and they are so delighted with the country and our cool summer weather they said they would remain until the baking was over in Kansas.

A. P. Johnson, of Corvallis, was in town the first of the week.

Miss Helen Duncan, of Portland, visited in Newberg last Sunday with Mrs. S. P. Timberlake.

Bert Hogle and Miss Marie Shelton, employes at Hazelwood's, in Portland, visited in Newberg Tuesday with Miss Hulda Gilbert.

A gentleman named Smith, who was down from Dayton Wednesday with a load of loganberries and peaches, said his peach crop was good this season.

Rev. B. L. Hicks went to Falls City last Monday to spend his vacation fishing and hunting, and there is a suspicion out that Cupid may have something to do with his frequent calls in that direction.

S. F. Wallace, with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Simms and babe, went to Corvallis last Sunday where they have a store similar to the one here. They are moving to a new and better location.

The residence of Fred Gearin, across the river in Marion county, was destroyed by fire at noon on Friday. It was a well built house of modern design and construction, comparatively new and costing three to four thousand dollars.

Patrick Geelan, whose home was across the river in Marion county died at St. Vincent's hospital in Portland last Saturday at the age of 84 years. The funeral was conducted at the Catholic church in St. Paul, of which deceased was a member, on Monday.

Mrs. Pearl Stretch and little sixteen-months-old son were here from California the first of the week visiting her sister, Mrs. Fannie Brouillette, and other relatives. They have now gone to Toledo for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Cobb.

Dr. T. W. Hester and Joe Hollingsworth are home from their auto trip to various points in Tillamook county and say fishing is good, both in the streams and the surf. The doctor landed a twenty pound salmon in Trask river. They left their families comfortably located at the Mc-Philips camp where they will remain a month or more.

S. E. Cummins was over from Carlton Wednesday showing plans for a new farm residence he proposes to build at a cost of something around $3,500. He has a deep well with pressure tank and will have water piped all over the house. He will also have the building wired and hopes to get electric lights later on, as the "juice" is now only a half mile away.

Sam Lashier, former Newberg printer, former Portland vegetarian restaurant manager and now traveling auditor for the Seventh Day Adventist church, with headquarters in Walla Walla, where he has been located for the past ten years, is in Newberg today, and of course came in for a grand-grasp at the Graphic office. Mr. Lashier practically grew up in Newberg, but he has been away so long he has a pilot, in the person of John Shearer, showing him about.

E. L. Evans and family enjoyed a visit on Friday and Saturday of last week with Miss Maude Evans and her mother who were here from Los Angeles. Miss Evans visited her Newberg cousins six years ago. Since that time she has spent two years in Pratt University, New York, and taught one year in the Jacob Reis Settlement School in New York City. She is now head of the Domestic Science and Domestic Art department of the State Normal at Los Angeles where they have an enrollment of 1700. She has the supervision of all the girls who go out through the city teaching domestic science.

C. E. Burke, of Springbrook, says he expects to make a trip to Pacific City next Monday for a load of salmon.

Rev. and Mrs. Melville T. Wire were here from Gresham the first of the week visiting at the home of his parents, Rev. and Mrs. M. E. Wire.

Bert Miller is off for his annual vacation, and on Tuesday evening left for Albany, where he expected to be joined by his father, H. G. Miller, and a fishing trip in the Coast Mountains in the region of Denzer, was arranged for. Mrs. Miller will visit with relatives at Corvallis in the meantime.

S. S. Jennings, with his daughter, Miss Mable, and her friend, Miss Hayes, and A. L. Gubser, who came through from North Bend, Coos county, in a car, arrived here Tuesday evening and say they had a good trip out. They are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Hutchens, out east of Newberg.

W. J. Saunders is building for Dr. A. M. Davis an auto garage on the back of his lot, south of the Miller Mercantile Co. store, and when the doctor gets his bachelor quarters worked over, it is but reasonable to suppose that real family life will begin there—seeing there are so many home-makers on the waiting list.

Mrs. Arthur Heston and two little girls were here from Portland last Sunday visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Holst. Mr. Heston, who learned steamboating on Lake Coeur d'Alene, Washington, where he spent ten years, has bought the steamer "LaCenter," which plies between Portland and LaCenter, and is said to be making good money.

Rev. O. T. Goettel, the pastor of the Nazarene church, who came here from Pomona, California, a short time ago, is embarking in the Belgian hare business. He and his father received eight pedigreed hares from Los Angeles the first of the week, each one of which is said to be in the blue blooded class and calculated for show stuff. They are not of the largest breed of hares, but they certainly show classy breeding.

John Wood, who is harvesting a crop of blackcap berries out on the side of Chehalem Mountain, is paying one and a half cents a pound for picking, and he furnishes the following list of names of his pickers and what each one made on Wednesday of last week: Ruth Stoll, $3.05; Margaret St. Germain, $3.03; Carrie Wood, $2.52; Mary Courtney, $2.50; Vlasta Kutchanek, $2.43; Willa Courtney, $2.30; Mrs. Ruth Phillips, $1.97; Mrs. C. H. Stoll, $1.50; James Stoll, $1.50.

Ray Ego and Walter Davis who live on Chehalem Mountain had an auto accident on the Columbia Highway last Sunday evening. They were on the return trip, with young Davis driving, and when rounding a curve the steering gear gave way and the car plunged over a cliff a distance of forty feet, landing against the flume of the Bridal Vail Lumber Co., where it came to a very sudden stop. Davis held onto the steering wheel and held his seat but Ego was thrown through the wind-shield, the glass cutting one forearm, though not seriously. The machine, which was a Ford, was not badly damaged and Ego, who was in Newberg Wednesday afternoon, said he was able to go to work again. On being asked what he thought of the outlook when they went over the bluff, he said it was all over in so short a time there was little time for thinking, as the grade was about half pitch. He said the machine was going at about twelve miles an hour.

"IT SERVES YOU RIGHT"

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Morris went to Portland Wednesday evening in their car to meet the latter's sister, Mrs. B. E. Balzer, and two children, Mary and James, of Peoria, Illinois, who are out for a visit of several weeks.

G. W. James, George L. Keltz, Lynn B. Ferguson and L. C. Palmer got away to Spokane last Friday night in time to register for the Colville Indian land drawing. On Saturday they saw the city and also took a ride out to Coeur d'Alene. This trip took Mr. James farther away from Oregon than he had ever been before, and he was much impressed with Spokane as an inland city.

A CALL TO BADGERS

The executive committee of the Badger State Association met at the home of L. A. Moore and decided to hold their first semi-annual picnic dinner in the Newberg City Park Tuesday, August 8.

The chairmen of the following committees were appointed, with instructions to choose necessary helpers, and they have reported as follows:

General arrangements—J. W. Moore, F. L. Ames, B. F. Hevland, H. Pittman.

Table committee—Mesdames C. Scott, S. E. Newhouse, L. S. Otis; Pittman.

Program committee—Mesdames Charles Churchill, Cooper, Cora Deidericks.

Dinner will be served at the noon hour; will call to order at 1:30 for the program and short business session. The ladies are asked to bring cups, knives, forks and teaspoons for their own family. Plates will be furnished by the association, and will also furnish coffee and sugar. Those who have cream to spare may bring some for coffee.

There will be someone in the park about 9 o'clock to look after any who may come on the train.

Bring well filled baskets and come and enjoy an old-fashioned picnic. Let us all "lend a hand" in making it the very best yet.

N. L. Wiley, Pres.
F. Carlisle, Vice-Pres.
Mrs. L. A. Moore,
Sec'y. and Treas.

WEST CHEHALEM
