$1.50 Per Year in Advance

THURSDAY, JANUARY 25, 1917

An Astoria man asks $1000 damages in a suit against a policeman who killed his dog. Quitclaim bills of sale might easily be obtained for numbers of dogs about Newberg at a less figure.

The Southern Pacific log train that is coming in daily now makes music that has a pleasing sound to many ears. It means work for a large number of hands and this means the payment of many grocery bills and other accounts.

A Methodist minister, aged 70 years, goes from Oregon to Vancouver, Wash., to obtain a marriage license, thus putting a question mark before his name, along with the common herd who flock in that direction when they want to wed.

The bachelors about town who failed to show up at the Parent-Teacher Association feed given in the Odd Fellows' hall on last Saturday were shortsighted, considering the opportunity afforded for the selection of home-makers, with such an array of promising looking school-ma'ams from over the county in attendance.

In the "twenty-five-years-ago" column of the Oregonian mention is made of shoals of smelt having entered the Cowlitz river and says "this is taken by many to indicate that winter is over." Since the toothsome little smelt have not shown up so far this season to cut the high living cost, should we conclude that Mr. Frog is a little bit previous in his announcement of spring-time?

Newberg is not treating St. Paul fairly in endeavoring to establish a rural route to that point and thereby causing the abolishment of the St. Paul postoffice. St. Paul is a progressive and prepossessing town, with a number of businesses represented, a community of energetic and ambitious citizens, and the postoffice that has not so long been reestablished is a pleasure and convenience to them. It would be an injustice and poor judgment on the part of the government to again take away this office and nip the enterprise of one community by virtually making it a suburb of another.—Woodburn Independent.

Verily the Independent man is seeing things. There are a number of people who reside near Newberg, just across the river, who are petitioning for a rural route to start from this point as it would give them mail delivery at their doors a day earlier than they are now getting it. Would the Independent man do differently if he was located as these people are? We think not.

The time was when a young man attending college who took any active interest in religious work of any kind was looked upon as something of a "sissy," but happily, that day is past and the Y. M. C. A. now has a prominent place in all the colleges in the country. In this connection we cite the following which recently appeared in the O. A. C. Barometer:

Guy Hobgood, former star sprinter and graduate of 1915, is a firm believer in participation in Y. M. C. A. and church work while at college. Mr. Hobgood is now county agricultural agent in the state of Wyoming. In a letter to Mr. Huffman, secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., our former athlete writes as follows: "I consider that the training which I got through the Y. M. C. A. and church, while at college, to be one of my greatest assets, and whatever success I may have will be due to that training more than to any one line of training which I have had. I have noticed that the college student who scoffs at the idea of wasting time in the Y. M. C. A. work while at college, is pretty sure to make a failure of life. In my college career I established a reputation in athletics equaled by but few. I attribute these successes to living the life which is taught through the Y. M. C. A. and similar organizations."

WHAT IS A PARTY?

"Put the party, the party emblem and the party creed out of every state and county election, just as they are already barred from city and judicial elections, and we will have a better government and one which will do more for the people," said Governor Frazier of North Dakota in his inaugural address.

And yet no party was ever more closely organized than the farmers' party to which the governor belongs. He owes his position to party politics of the most effective and machine-like character. It was not Republican politics or Democratic politics, but it was party politics just the same—agrarian party politics.

Now we are not finding any fault here with Governor Frazier's party or its policies; it may be all right; it hasn't had a chance yet to show that it is, or that it isn't. But, to assume that party politics has been cast out of North Dakota, is to fail to call things by their right names. What has happened is that a new party has taken the place of the old ones. They had to have a new party to throw out the old ones. That is the only way we can carry on political changes in this country. The people have to organize around some idea; that makes a party and when enough of them join the party and work together, as they did in North Dakota, they control the situation. Calling a movement like that Nonpartisan does not make it any less partisan.—Minneapolis Tribune.

A GOOD MEASURE

The Public Convenience and Necessity measure asked by the Oregon Railroad Commission as an extension of its power is a good proposition. It tends to protect the public and encourage investment of capital by assuring it a square deal and freedom from piratical competition. It would cost the tax payers no additional money and would come within the scope of the present commission.

It is now established as a recognized fact that competition in the public utility field is a useless duplication of functions and an added expense to consumers.

There is no excuse for competition when the rates and service of a public service corporation are regulated by the state and it is not an adopted principle that if the state is to regulate the activity of these corporations it must, in justice, protect them from useless competition.

Wisconsin, California, Illinois and many other leading states have adopted this principle and hold that so long as an existing company in a given field is rendering sufficient and satisfactory service, unwarranted competition will not be permitted.

This policy has done much to encourage the investment of capital in large power enterprises in California and would be a great inducement to such undertakings in Oregon.—Pacific Coast Manufacturer.

DUNDEE

Miss Sally Adams, of Seattle, is visiting her aunt, Miss Sally Beck.

Mrs. Roy Eddens and little daughter are visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Eddens.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rienenberg, of Portland, are spending the spring at Otterbrook.

Mrs. E. S. Greer left Wednesday for a visit with her mother and brother in Spokane.

Rev. F. Stanford Moore's mother and Mrs. Gill, of Portland, visited Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Dearborn on Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Bailey have the sympathy of their neighbors and friends over the loss of their baby girl born on Monday morning.

On the first Friday in February the regular business meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the church. The program will be under the direction of the systematic giving department.

A very largely attended meeting of the Dundee Woman's Club was held at Community hall on Thursday. After the business meeting and roll call a short program was given, after which Mrs. H. F. Cutting assisted by Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Marr served refreshments.

On Friday evening eleven autos filled with basket ball enthusiasts came down from Amity to enjoy the game between Amity and Dundee. The Amity team was the heavier but was handicapped by lack of chance to practice on a smooth floor. However, the game was an exciting one, ending in victory for Dundee.

On Friday afternoon the fourteenth anniversary of the local W. C. T. U. was held at Mrs. Langellier's. Mrs. Helen Harford, of Newberg, who organized the Dundee branch of the W. C. T. U., was present and gave an address. Five charter members were also present, Mesdames Mary Broadwell, B. S. Hunter, Sarah Minchin, A. J. Palmer and John Parrett. A history of the Dundee Union and its work was given by the local president, Miss May Smith. Among the interesting items given were the following: 138 business meetings, 45 public meetings, 32 social meetings, 12 silver medal contests, 3 gold medal contests, 5 institutes, and 3 essay contests. Mrs. Sarah Minchin led the devotional exercises and Miss Edith Minchin read extracts from the press reports of the union for the past fourteen years. The Crusade Glory Song was sung and addresses given by Mrs. Evangeline Martin, Rev. Moore and R. W. Swink. Mrs. Langellier, Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Wm. Greenwell and Miss Arlene Dillinger served the refreshments which were not only "good eats" but very tempting and tastefully served. (Ye reporter has heeded the editorial in a recent copy of the Graphic and demands a credit mark for avoiding the "dainty refreshments.")

On Saturday evening a free entertainments of mirth, music and song was given at community hall by the Dundee Woman's Club. The program was arranged by Mrs. H. F. Cutting and the success of the evening's entertainment was due to her untiring efforts. The ladies of the club extend their hearty thanks to talent contributed from Newberg, Dayton and McMinnville. Every number on the program was enjoyed and Climate and Food. In the arctic regions human food is almost exclusively animal, because that is the only sort which is available in quantity. In the tropics, where vegetable food is abundant and animal foods readily decay, plant products are and always have been of very great importance in the diet. In temperate regions all kinds of food may be secured, and it seems reasonable to suppose that all kinds have always been eaten as they are today.
