I. W. Hill and the Misses Mabel and Carrie Allen and Bernice Welch composed an auto party to the mountains near Tillamook last Sunday, leaving here at 4 o'clock in the morning and arrived home about dusk. They caught a nice string of fish and stopped at Mr. Hill's former home, which is only six miles from the ocean.

On Wednesday afternoon Dr. H. A. Littlefield received telephone communication from Portland telling of the sudden death of his brother-in-law, Judge W. L. Bradshaw, whose home has been in The Dalles for many years, though in his younger years he was a resident of Lafayette in this county. He was taken suddenly ill from heart trouble while on the bench hearing a case in Portland and died soon after adjourning court.

Jesse Hobson, who was here from Portland in company with Mrs. Hobson over Sunday attending Friends Yearly Meeting, said he had spent most of his time the past six months in Eastern Oregon selling farm tractors. The demand for these machines is rapidly increasing and he says a number of the big combination harvesters will be drawn by them this season, taking the place of a barn-lot of horses that here-to-fore have been used.

The plant of the Western Condensed Milk Co., of Newberg, has been sold to a Seattle company owning plants at Scio and in Washington. S. C. Jackson and R. J. Logan, in company with Judge Alex. Sweek and Oliver Jeffery, of Portland, were here Wednesday closing up the deal. Mr. Jackson and Mr. Logan informed the Graphic that they had new machinery on the road and that they expected to double the capacity of the plant.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Marshall, with their granddaughter, Mary Hamilton, left here Wednesday afternoon for Arlington, New Jersey, which is the home of the mother of the latter. Miss Hamilton will remain with her mother who desires to direct her education. Mr. and Mrs. Marshall will remain for some time and expect to visit New York, Washington, Philadelphia and other points before they return. If the weather does not get too tropical they may remain to attend the National G. A. R. Encampment.

W. W. Hollingsworth Co., undertakers, were called to St. Paul Wednesday evening to take charge of the body of Andrew Goedel, who died suddenly while riding in an automobile with one of his neighbors. On last Saturday evening they were also called to Sherwood to assist in the search for the bodies of two young men, Evan Owens, aged 16 years, and Wm. Christenson, aged 20 years, who were drowned in the Tualatin river while bathing. The funeral services were held jointly in Sherwood on Sunday, conducted by Rev's Butler of the Congregational church and Astleford of the Friends church.

OBITUARY OF MARSHALL SLEEPER

Marshall Sleeper was born in Racine county, Wis., Sept. 26, 1850. He was the son of Hubbard and Floretta Sleeper. He was married at Neilsville, Wisconsin, April 4, 1888, to Ada Hodges, going from there to South Dakota where he lived until the spring of 1906 when he moved to Newberg, Oregon. He died Friday, June 15, 1917, at the farm home on Chehalis Mountain, eight miles northwest of Newberg.

The deceased leaves to mourn, a sorrowing wife and one son, Mont B., also one sister and three brothers in Minnesota.

Mr. Sleeper led a quiet life, was a good neighbor and counted his friends by the score.

Funeral services were held from the Hollingsworth chapel Monday at 10 o'clock, conducted by Rev. F. C. Stannard. The remains were laid to rest in the Friends cemetery.

DEMONSTRATION IN SIGHT SINGING

A demonstration in sight singing is to be given with pupils of the Dundee school at 4 p. m. Saturday, June 23.

The purpose of the demonstration is to prove to our State Superintendent Churchill and all who may be present that sight singing may be taught in public instruction under a credit system as other branches are taught, and that teachers who know nothing about sight singing may qualify to do the work in a period of one to three months.

Teachers, school board members and all who may feel interested are earnestly requested to witness the demonstration.

The exercises are to be conducted in the school building. J. P. Powell.

WATCH THIS SPACE EACH WEEK FOR CANNERY NOTES

Did you notice the new flag flying over the cannery building? It was raised without any ceremony, but it signifies to the fullest extent the patriotic sentiment of those connected with the plant.

About one year ago the Valley Canning Company started the erection of the first unit of what will eventually be the most up-to-the-minute cannery of the Pacific Coast. Today the people of this section should be well proud of the fact that such an industry is to be operated in Newberg, the output of which this year will run into thousands of dollars, besides giving employment to a large number of people for about ten months in the year, and distributing a no small amount of money among the growers of the entire county as well as parts of Marion and Washington counties.

This week we are canning gooseberries, an article that has heretofore gone begging for a market, and are offering 3 cents per pound for all the growers wish to deliver. Oregon Champion Gooseberries are a very profitable berry to grow, easy to handle and net good returns. We desire to make future contracts for about ten acres of them.

How does your garden grow? If you notice that your seeds are not growing as they should, we ask you to inform us regarding the conditions that do not appear just right and we will assist to whatever extent we are able in information as to what should be done.

Improvements are fast nearing completion, the painters are now putting on the finishing touches. Our new offices are quite complete and we ask you to call at any time you are near the cannery. There will be an inspection day in the near future when the general public will have an opportunity to inspect the plant and its operations.

Boost for your home cannery all the time. It is making the prices the other fellows have to pay, and we will pay the highest prices for a term of years. We need all the fruit products in this section to make the business a success.

Yours for a bigger cannery, Valley Canning Company.
