BIRTH OF A NATION—A PROTEST

Editor Graphic—If the idea entertained by many good people is true, that this film, "The Birth of a Nation," is false and bad in influence over the young and uninstructed, then all guardians of youth in Newberg ought to see that their young people are kept away from it when it comes to this town.

A recent editorial in the Journal attributes to its teachings much of the recent shameful troubles at East St. Louis, and declares that the film not only teaches frightful lessons of race hatred, mob law and blood lust, but calls upon spectators "to approve and imitate them."

Some who have seen the film declare that a false impression is created with reference to the horrible Ku Klux Klan (one of the greatest disgraces to our nation that ever sprang up among us) that the impression is sedulously made that this Klan rose against the negro and his alleged irregularities, whereas the truth appears to be quite other than that.

The author of the book from which this fiery film was made is himself a man who appears to believe that the only thing to do with the negro is to deport or subjugate him; in other words, to make up for the evil done him in two centuries of slave-robbery and murder, by reducing him and his descendants to still further degradation.

Young people should be warned against this film apparently, as if against a pestilence, which once taken into the mind, they may never be able to shake off, no matter what kind of an outcry those who are financially interested may make. Our nation is now at war, and no one should be allowed to stir race hatreds into flame among us.—A Reader.

NORTH MAIN CLUB

The North Main Club held their semi-monthly meeting at Rose Lawn, the home of Mrs. D. Kaufman, on July 11.

The usual club matters were discussed and certain local improvements decided upon. The members then decided to join the National Food Conservation League and forwarded their names and other necessary information to Food Administrator, Washington, D. C., so that the necessary instructions, household tags and bulletins may be forwarded to them.

The next meeting of the Club will be held at Shady Glen, the home of Mrs. M. Moffitt, on July 25th.
