

AN APPEAL TO WOMEN

The governor of the state of Oregon has proclaimed Saturday, September 15, as registration day for women 16 years old and up.

It is within the power of almost every woman to unite with some existing association in co-operative service, but if for any reason she is unable to do so it need be no barrier to her usefulness.

Register as a home worker. Sign the Hoover housewife pledge if she is a homemaker and systematize her home economics along the same lines as those in which the vast body of homemakers throughout the land are uniting—the food saving army.

The call is therefore to you, mother and sister, to do your part and register, joining the vast army of mothers and sisters who are serving their country. And your loyalty to its aims will increase as the days go by. Register yourself in your own precinct for such work as you can do. "Your country needs you." Marie K. Evans, Chairman Woman's Com., Council of National Defense.

REX

Miss Fleda Kane is at home again after working this summer in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Wiley attended the Bales funeral at Newberg Sunday afternoon.

Rev. and Mrs. McClure and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. McCaffree attended the all day meeting at Springbrook Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. N. L. Wiley's sister, Mrs. Eva J. Cook, and daughter, Miss Retta, of Whittier, California, left for their home Wednesday after visiting several weeks at Rex and adjacent towns.

Several from Rex attended the week end meeting of the Friends church at Springbrook Friday and Saturday, ending up with an all day meeting Sunday. Rev. McClure attended the ministers' conference Friday afternoon. Rev. Astleford, of Sherwood, was the principal speaker during the meetings.

Chas. Garland and Willard Wiley returned last week from the harvest fields of Eastern Oregon.

Rev. and Mrs. McClure attended quarterly meeting in Portland Saturday, returning home Sunday morning.

Mrs. A. J. Heskett went to Portland Thursday afternoon to meet Mr. Heskett who had completed his summer Chautauqua work with the Ellison-White people. They both returned home Monday evening.

Mrs. Florence Eves left for Portland Saturday to be with her friend, Mrs. Hanson, of that city, who is in a critical condition and not expected to survive. Mrs. Hanson and a daughter, Miss Marie, were guests at the Wiley and Eves homes a few weeks ago.

Quite a number of men are working on the road near Tualatin which necessitates going back and forth on the train and jitney, while some are camping near the work. The contractor expects to continue operations all through the winter months so it will give steady employment to those desiring it.

Somewhat of an innovation in social activities in the neighborhood was the breakfast given by Mrs. Ed Bacon between the hours of seven and nine. All were requested to come in their regular morning costumes, and many and varied was the raiment in which they appeared. Some of the husbands were base enough to hint that never in their married life had their wives appeared in such gorgeous kimonas or befrilled caps to fry their bacon and make their coffee, but men are poor observers at best, and always color blind. A delicious breakfast was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Erma Kane, and all stayed nobly by the board even unto the last waffle. It is superfluous to add that all enjoyed to the utmost Mrs. Bacon's hospitality and trust it is but a starter to future early morning festivities although several husbands hint darkly that in the future when breakfast invitations are sent abroad that they will be there.

Tuesday evening was the scene of much jollity at Rex when the young people of the Christian Endeavor society entertained the young people of the several church societies of Newberg and Springbrook. There were about one hundred present all told and the evening was started with a delicious hot supper to which all did ample justice. A huge bonfire was lighted on the school house yard and by its light contests and games were held until it was time to go home, when the evening was ended by singing "America" and "Blest be the Tie that Binds." Rev. Carter, the new pastor of the Friends church at Newberg, and his daughter were present.

CHEHALEM CENTER

Miss Florence Leloh, of Newberg, visited friends over Sunday in the community.

Rev. Aaron M. Bray filled the pulpit Sunday in the absence of E. L. Hodson who is on the sick list.

Quite a number of our people are out in the hop yards in the surrounding country.

K. L. Tangen is home again after an extended visit with his daughter, Mrs. G. I. Grimes, of Fernwood.

Mrs. Marie Evans and mother, Mrs. C. Clemenson, were visitors Sunday at the home of Mrs. Mary Christianson.

The boys C. C. A. C. held an ice cream social at the home of Forrest Staley last Saturday evening. Quite a number of the young folks were present and all had a very pleasant time.

Next Saturday at the school house the ladies can register to do their "bit." This has to be done so that our President Wilson can know, in time of need, where to find efficient women to help carry on the work of the nation. Don't be willing to fold your arms and let others do your work as all have a duty to perform. Remember, Saturday, the 15th, 1 to 6 o'clock p. m.

FERNWOOD

The drought seems to be well broken and we are again listening to the "patter of the rain upon the roof."

The Parent-Teacher Association held their regular monthly meeting last Friday p. m.

Miss Ethel Ross is enjoying a visit with relatives in Los Gatos, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Hobson and baby visited at the paternal home on Sunday.

Mrs. George Woolston and daughter, Neva, and son, Frank, were guests at the Ross home over Sunday.

W. A. Parrish and daughter, Elva, went to the Coast one day last week in their car.

Some of the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gill met at the Gill home on Saturday evening to celebrate the seventh wedding anniversary. The event was a surprise for Mr. Gill. The evening was pleasantly spent at 500. After presenting the host and hostess with a handsome rug as a token of the regard in which they were held the guests departed, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Gill many happy returns of the anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Parker, of Portland, spent a few hours at the Hobson home Sunday. Mrs. Parker is a niece of Mrs. Hobson.

Wallace Jones has returned from Eastern Washington where he was employed in the harvest fields.
