DUNDEE

Fred Kennedy and family moved to Newberg on Monday.

Mrs. Frank Crowell left on Tuesday for a visit in Seattle.

A special Thanksgiving service was held in the Dundee church Thursday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Bland Herring entertained their sons and their families at Sunday dinner.

James and Ray Allan went to Portland on Thanksgiving to witness the foot ball game and about for the O. A. C.

Paul Terry, who has been in the naval school at Mare Island, is now assistant naval postal clerk at the U. S. naval training station, San Francisco.

Rev. J. G. Alford, who has been Dundee's rural free delivery carrier, resigned three weeks ago, and his son, Lovell, the assistant carrier who has had charge of the work recently, has also resigned. Clarence D. Hess has been appointed to fill the position temporarily, until the postal authorities can arrange for a carrier's examination.

Thomas Warner and Wm. S. Allan, both of whom have two sons enlisted in the national guard branch of army service, have received letters recently from their sons congratulating Dundee on her splendid response to the call for Y. M. C. A. funds. One boy tells of the various entertainments and amusements that organization is giving in his particular camp and another speaks in most grateful manner of the stationery furnished and opportunities for writing letters home that would be lacking were it not for the Y. M. C. A.

On Sunday afternoon at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mollie Kellogg, Miss Olive Flemming and Henry Raymond, of St. Paul, were married. Rev. J. Stanford Moore officiating. About twenty-five relatives of both families were present. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond left on the afternoon train for Portland where they will make their home. Mr. Raymond being employed in a shipyard. On Saturday, one week before the wedding, a number of the friends of Miss Flemming's took her completely by surprise, when they gave her a miscellaneous shower. Many beautiful and useful articles were added to the hope chest. The best wishes of their Dundee friends go with the happy pair to the new home.

WEST CHEHALEM

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Seely spent Thanksgiving with relatives in Portland.

Rev. F. C. Stannard was with us Sunday and will be for some time hence. Come out and hear him.

DeVere Fendall went to Portland Turkey day to be one of the 5,000 spectators at the U. of O.—O. A. C. game.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Patton and Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Russell spent Thanksgiving day with friends in Marion county.

I. E. Sherwood, who has been working in Portland for some time, has given up work there and returned to his farm in this vicinity.

C. E. service next Sunday under the leadership of Lawrence Boyd, with a topic which should interest all comers, namely, "Here Am I, Send Me."

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Finch and family, Leonard and Beulah Versteeg and Lois and Kenneth Fendall all spent Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bush.

The C. E. social held last Friday was attended by a goodly number of young people who spent the evening in wholesome amusement. "Hooverized" refreshments in the shape of apples and pop corn were served during the evening. This was the first social meeting of the society and there will be others to follow which it will pay all young people to be watching for.

On Friday evening, December 14, the Ladies' Aid Society will hold their annual bazaar at the church. If past history is to be relied upon, there should not be any doubt in anybody's mind but that there will be something worth coming for.

Misses Ila and Gladys Heggard came out from Portland last week to spend their Thanksgiving vacations with the home folks. Both are attending school in Portland, Gladys in the public schools and Ila at Behnke-Walker Business College.

We who have known Mrs. Joanna Davis for many years were greatly surprised to hear that she had ceased to be known by that name, as the result of a preference for the name of Mrs. John Shearer. Many of us were inclined to doubt the early rumors to that effect, but with its verification we were obliged to throw our doubts aside, and we now unite in extending our heartiest congratulations. Both are well known in this community, Mr. Shearer being a G. A. R. veteran and long-time resident of Newberg, and Mrs. Shearer having spent the most of her life in West Chehalis.

REX

Mrs. W. Wright is on the 'sick list this week.

Rev. and Mrs. G. V. McClure were Portland visitors Monday and Tuesday.

O. Winters is exhibiting some very choice fowls at the Poultry Show in Portland this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gustin spent Sunday with their daughters who are attending school in Newberg.

Mrs. L. Brickley and daughter who have been visiting the Strate family since Thanksgiving, returned to their home in Portland Monday.

Clayton Peters and Cleon Ferguson returned from the Older Boy's Conference at Eugene Monday evening. They reported a splendid meeting.

Mrs. Roy Shreve who has been located in San Francisco the past few months is spending a few days of the week with her many friends in the community.

Ross Wiley who is in the commissary department at Camp Lewis spent Sunday with his folks and friends in this community. He was accompanied out from Portland by Robert Odell.

The ladies of the neighborhood met with Mrs. McClure Monday afternoon to discuss relief work for the Armenians and Assyrians. It was decided to begin operations as soon as particulars could be obtained as to the work. Mrs. Frost was elected President and Mrs. Jack Sawyer, Sec. Treas.

Somewhat of a surprise was the recent enlistment of Marvin Garland, Willard Wiley and Francis Jenkins and they are at present stationed at Vancouver, from where they will soon be removed to the training quarters of the army cooks in which department they wish to serve.

Several in the neighborhood upon seeing the bright banners of light streaming from the church windows Sunday evening, thought that the long sought after electricity had at last been installed at Rex. But it was the very next best thing—three large gasoline pressure lamps bought with the contributions of the neighborhood.

The four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Garland died at the A. L. Jenkins home Nov. 27. The funeral was held on the following Thursday as soon as the mother arrived from Seattle and interment was made in the cemetery near the Gibbs school house. The parents have the sympathy of their many friends at Rex in their bereavement.

RAYBELL

Mr. and Mrs. Chancey Gell entertained John and James Johnston on Thanksgiving day.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Larsen and family were Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ray.

Miss Maude Olson went to Portland last Thursday to enjoy Thanksgiving dinner with relatives.

Miss Anna Ringnes went to Portland Sunday to visit with friends.

The Parent-Teacher Association of Raybell District intend to hold a meeting next Saturday evening, December 8. After the program the ladies will sell coffee and "Hoover" cake, in order to raise money to frame a picture. We need one more in order to be up to the requirements of a standard school. Everyone is invited to come and enjoy the program.

Jack Larsen has built a new house for his pump and engine as a protection from the recent "moist" weather.

Miss Ringnes returned Saturday evening from a week's stay in Silverton and Salem. She attended teachers' institute at the latter place during the week.

These pupils were neither absent nor tardy during the last month of school: John and Donald McNamara, Norman Yeager, Frances Olson and Florence Ray.

George Hiller took a load of hogs to Newberg last week.

FERNWOOD

Samuel Moffatt was a guest at the T. E. Hobson home one day last week.

The Needle Craft Club will meet with Mrs. Gill on Thursday of this week.

The Misses Della and Freda Parrish came home from Portland Thursday night. Their

GERMANY'S COPPER SUPPLY.

Where Germany is obtaining her present supplies of copper is a question of considerable interest says the Scientific American. Before the war she obtained most of her copper from the United States, taking over one-third of our exports. She had a large stock at the outbreak of hostilities, but this must long before now have been depleted. Since Germany has extended her sphere of influence it is probable some supplies are coming from other countries. The Serbian copper mines are now being intensively exploited by the Germans and Austrians, and good copper deposits are also said to have been found in Poland. Work has begun in lead and copper mines in Kielce, and in Miedziana, Lysa Gora and Olkuss the methodical exploitation of these ores has recently been started.

COST AND POWER OF BIG GUNS.

There are now on the ships of the United States navy, according to Walter S. Meriwether, 124 guns of 14-inch caliber, built at an aggregate cost of $10,000,000. Writing in the Scientific American, he says that this cost does not include the carriages, "which weigh almost as much and whose recoil gear must take up a shock equal to that of 20 Pullman coaches running at 70 miles an hour and brought to an instant stop."
