Loop Special Saturday & Sunday

H. J. Maynard was a Sunday guest of Dayton friends.

Henry Ehret is working in a ship building plant at St. Johns.

Miss Leta Hoover, of Albany, and Miss Ethel Crayton, of Suver, are visiting friends here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Clemenson came out from Portland last Sunday for a visit with his mother.

N. T. McCoy and family visited over Sunday in McMinnville, guests of Mrs. McCoy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Duncan.

Just ask Dr. A. M. Davis how nearly he came landing a house-keeper recently—in fact, two attractive ones at the same drawing.

J. C. Lemon and family arrived home from a visit at their former home at Pratt, Kansas, on last Friday and say they had a fine time.

Mrs. J. A. Fastabend has been here from Astoria during the week visiting her daughter, Miss Violet, who is one of the office force at the cannery.

Miss Nettie Speicz accompanied her uncle, Ed Pratt, to his home at Redmond and will visit there until near the holidays when she will return.

An old-fashioned Box Social is being planned by the Newberg branch of the Red Cross to be staged in the Odd Fellows hall Friday night, January 4.

T. Symons, who has visited friends and relatives in Newberg for some time, left Sunday morning for Juneau, Alaska, where he has some business interests.

A gentleman named Bowers is here from Brownsville with his wife for a stay of a week or two. They are friends of Rev. and Mrs. Round and others in Newberg.

Roy Lyle, who has been out with a government surveying crew for the past few months, was at home Tuesday. He has gone to Portland, thinking of enlisting.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernhard Groth left on the train Tuesday evening for Fort Winfield Scott, California, he looking spick and span in the uniform of Second Lieutenant.

The Modern Woodmen will hold a district rally in Portland on the evening of December 22. The Newberg camp will furnish six recruits for initiation at that meeting.

Rev. E. S. Craven, a long-time resident here, was out from Portland Tuesday on business. He said his son-in-law, Dr. Roscoe Cahill, had enlisted for service in the army.

Mrs. Frank Zumwalt, Mrs. W. W. Nelson and Mrs. Swart were Portland visitors Saturday. The ladies attended the theatre in the evening, returning home on the "owl" car.

Mrs. L. L. Duncan and children, who expect to leave in a few days for Regina, Alberta, Canada, were entertained for dinner last Sunday by Mrs. Chas. Hulien.

C. H. Christenson, who spent some time in the W. E. White & Co. real estate office, is at home again, assisting in the care of Mrs. Christenson who is showing improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Maris were out from Portland Sunday visiting at the E. H. Woodward home. They were formerly residents here and are well known to many Newberg people.

Floyd Duncan, son of Henry Duncan, of St. Helens, was here the first of the week visiting his uncle, T. B. Duncan. He has now enlisted in the navy and has gone to San Francisco.

Mrs. W. E. White, who had a long spell of sickness, is now back at the real estate office looking after the details of the business, but finds time to do some knitting for the soldier boys.

Wm. Cullen went to Portland last Thursday and secured work in a box factory at Linton. His brother, Otie, from near Dundee, left a short time before for California and is working in the Mare Island navy yard.

Miss Esther Hollingsworth returned home from Corvallis the first of the week where she spent a few days with O. A. C. chums, and after remaining a day left for The Dalles where her brother, Orville, is located in business.

The W. W. Hollingsworth Co. was called over to the eastern slope of Parrott Mountain the first of the week on account of the death of Samuel L. Kelso who had been a resident of that section for the past thirty years or more.

A. B. Chandler was down from Bellvue Sunday visiting his half brother, Wm. Sargeant. Mr. Chandler held the office of county assessor several years ago and made a very competent and accommodating servant of the people.

W. F. Young, of Sherwood, has filed suit against Paul Fredericks to recover damages to the amount of $710 which he alleges dogs belonging to the defendant did to his sheep and goats. It is charged in the complaint that Fredericks knew that his dogs were mutton chasers and yet permitted them to run at large.

A recital will be given at the Presbyterian church on next Monday evening, December 17, at eight o'clock, under the direction of Miss Jessie Britt. Admission free. Everybody welcome.

H. D. Olsen, traveling freight agent for the Southern Pacific, was a caller at the Graphic office Tuesday. Some years ago he had charge of the office at Lafayette and consequently is quite well acquainted in Yamhill county.

Clyde Atkins, who moved to Willamina some time ago, stopped over in Newberg Tuesday while on his way to visit his sister on the lower Columbia who recently lost one son by death and who has three other sons in the army.

Wm. Hendershott, who was engaged in the hotel business in Newberg several years ago, came out from Portland last Saturday to make the annual inspection of Shiloh Post, G. A. R., and he don't look a day older than he did fifteen years ago.

R. H. Jacobson, who spent the farming season in the Alberta country, is at home again. He says he found the land he traded for to be about as represented to him but that it is so far out that he does not like to locate his family on it at present.

Arlie Evans writes home from France that he is now doing work in his line with six men under him and that Clarence Coe also has charge of a squad of men doing wire stringing and that they feel more like they were accomplishing something.

Hodson & Elliott were called to Salem last Saturday night to take charge of the body of John Baker whose home was on Dayton Avenue, and who died at the insane hospital where he was taken a few weeks ago. Burial was made here on Monday.

Rred Rader, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rader, writes home from Houston, Texas, that he is now a member of an aero squadron and that air craft are as thick there as automobiles are here and that they don't have to get out of the way of them.

Mrs. R. M. Faucet and Mrs. Leat McKenny, with their children, are here from Missouri and are expecting their husbands in a few days who are coming with a car load of household goods and stock. They have temporary quarters on Third street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Renard, of Odell, Nebraska, were in Newberg a couple of days last week, visiting their old Nebraska neighbors, Rev. and Mrs. S. P. Van Dyke and Mr. and Mrs. John W. Moore. They were on their way to California to spend the winter.

Clyde Braden, who bought a two-year-old black bear in September of an itinerant showman for five dollars, butchered the animal and shipped the carcass to Portland Tuesday morning. The bear had been well fed and was fat enough to make very savory meat.

Mrs. McCrea had a message from her son, Archie, of Camp Greene, North Carolina, the first of the week, saying he was starting for home in company with his wife who went to him a short time ago. He was given a discharge on account of disability.

C. A. Bristow was down from Parrott Mountain Wednesday, not exactly looking for a new housekeeper but just indicating that he would be pleased to greet Mrs. Bristow in the homecoming, who has been visiting relatives in Missouri for the past two months.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Spaulding are now at home in the Spaulding property on the corner of Sheridan and Edwards streets and Cliff may be seen going about town picking up the necessary odds and ends that go to supply a home, all the same as a "family man."

The Methodist Sunday school has established a post office system for the purpose of distributing the papers and cards to the children. A case containing 110 pigeon holes has been provided and at the close of the school each pupil will be handed their papers as they pass out.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Byers went to Sheridan the first of the week for a visit with their son, G. W. Byers Jr., and family. G. W. Jr. is now in the flour milling business at Sheridan, he having traded his dairy ranch at Toledo, Lincoln county, some time ago for the Sheridan gristmill.

While we have had considerable rain lately the ground is not wet down to any depth, apparently. Parties who have been attempting to dig holes for telephone poles out west of town say that at a depth of two feet the ground is so dry and hard no satisfactory progress can be made.

Mrs. W. W. Nelson, superintendent of knitting for the Red Cross, asks women and girls who will do knitting to leave their names at the J. B. Mount hardware store. She also requests those who are knitting sweaters to hurry them in as early as possible as they are needed.

Carl Clark, who is ranching out east of Stockton, California, spent a day in Newberg last week visiting his uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Hester. He and his wife came north to visit his brother, Roy R. Clark, and wife previous to their departure for France where he is to engage in army Y. M. C. A. work.

Edward D. Landingham, who had been sick with cancer of the stomach for several months, died at his home on North River street Wednesday night, aged 38 years. He leaves a widow and two children. They formerly lived at Cloverdale, Tillamook county, where he was engaged in the dairy business. Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

It will be of interest to many Newberg people to know that the American Bible Society, which is distributing $400,000 worth of New Testaments to the soldiers, has for its president James Wood, a member of the Friends church. He is clerk of New York Yearly Meeting, and was a prominent delegate to the recent Five Years Meeting, of which he was formerly presiding clerk.

Sheldon A. Stubbs, who has made two or three attempts to break into the army, was seen going down school street at double quick time at an early hour Wednesday morning, apparently in training for service abroad at the head of a column of Kaiser chasers, but it was soon discovered that it was the echoes of a dog fight around the corner on First that quickened his pace.

Miss Elizabeth Pichette, who is doing dining room work at the Imperial, received a telegram today from Mare Island giving information of the death from pneumonia of her only brother, Seipe Pichette, who was in the navy. The body will be sent to Roseburg for burial. Of the large number of men of this community who have enlisted in the various lines of service, this is the first death to be recorded.

C. B. Wilson, who passed through Newberg Wednesday morning on his way to Portland to attend a meeting of the county clerks of the state, said that owing to the heavy enlistments made lately he thought it likely this county would not have to furnish any men in the next draft call. He said also that a number of pretty good McMinnville men who had offered their services lately had been turned down in the examinations, showing that there are so many to choose from they are scanning them closely.

"I. S. Y. R."

ARE you going to cut a wide swath Christmas, or are you going to be rational in your Christmas purchases and gifts? During these stressful days a dollar should be spent where it will accomplish good. The times are too critical to buy trash for gifts, and all gifts should be given with an eye single to giving real service.

A useless gift is a valueless gift. A gift that promotes comfort, accomplishes a given result, actually does something toward making easier the path of life, is a blessing to the giver and the give-ee. A few suggestions:

An Electric Washer

Does it fine. Costs 2c a washing.

An Electric Range

Does it best. Costs no more than wood.

An Electric Sewing Machine

A million stitches for a dime. The easiest stitches one ever took.

An Electric Percolator

Coffee connoisseurs all say, "Some coffee."

An Electric Grill

The young lady says, "It beats the bunch."

See the Majestic Heater

It literally "shoots" heat at you.

Any of these devices can be had on liberal terms.

Yamhill Electric Co.

"It Serves You Right"

Joe Nelson writes home from France that his prohibition proclivities have been greatly strengthened by recent experiences he has had. Says that when he first landed there he drank of the universal beverage of France, native wine, but that on getting out into the interior later and witnessing the bare-footed peasant folk treading the wine press, his appetite for wine suddenly left him. Just a matter of taste, of course, and all in the way one has been brought up.

In a letter written November 27 from Camp Mills, New York, by Linus J. Judd, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Judd and a nephew of Jasper Bales, he speaks of the cold weather they have to endure in drilling, but does not say anything about the lack of proper shelter and other comforts that have been recently complained of through the press so bitterly. Said he was invited to New York City for Thanksgiving dinner and was expecting to respond, though he realized as never before that there was nothing like mother's cooking.

H. E. Offel returned home a few days ago from a visit of several weeks in Portland where he took time to see the stock show, the land products show and the exhibit of poultry, all of which he says he enjoyed intensely, though he was considerably mortified on account of a lack of participation in the land products show by Yamhill county, and thinks we should not fail in this particular another year. He says he was much impressed with a new one-man harvester that is being manufactured by a Portland firm and thinks it is going to be worth considering.
