†Loop Special Saturday & Sunday

J. D. Gordon and B. S. Cook were out from Portland Tuesday on business.

Mrs. Sisson spent Sunday in McMinnville, the guest of her son and family.

J. A. Waldron, of Oak Grove, was in Newberg Sunday, the guest of his son, J. R., and family.

Miss Ellen Gregory is home from Portland after several days spent there visiting friends and attending to some business matters.

Mrs. John Dunlap returned from the bedside of her grandson, Arta Dunlap, in Portland last Saturday, and reports him improving from his recent sickness.

James A. Kersey whose death is announced elsewhere in this issue, became a subscriber of the Graphic when the first issue appeared December 1, 1888, and was a continuous reader up to the time of his death, covering a little better than 29 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jones left Wednesday for an extended visit with their children. They will stop enroute at Portland to visit a daughter, at Redmond with another daughter, at Pocatello, Idaho, with a son and at Denver, Colorado, with a daughter.

On next Monday morning at 10 o'clock Miss Blythe Owen will give a short program at Wood-Mar Hall in connection with the college chapel exercises. She will play five Symphonic Etudes of Schumann, and Moskowski's "Caprice Espagnol." All music lovers will be welcome.

L. F. Hall received the sad news of the death of his sister, Mrs. Henry C. Hald, at her residence in Hood River, which occurred on February 15. Mrs. Hald was quite well known in Newberg, she having visited her brother here a number of times. She was 87 years old and a pioneer of Oregon.

Frank E. Vestal, who is holding down a claim at Suffolk, Montana, and who spent the greater part of the winter here and at Oregon City, left last Saturday with Enos Ellis with two car loads of milk cows which the latter bought up for a Montana man. The Graphic will keep Mr. Vestal posted on Newberg doings.

Mrs. Mott met with what might have been a serious accident Sunday evening at the corner of First and Main streets by being struck by a passing auto. She alighted from the 7 o'clock train and started around the car when she was struck by the auto which knocked her down and passed over one foot. Aside from a few bruises and a sprained foot she escaped without further injury.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Newlin received a letter a few days ago from their son, Claude, who is with an engineering corps in France. He said he was well and was housed and cared for better than he was while in camp on this side. He said also he had met Prof. W. I. Kelsey, who was president of Pacific College at one time, and who is engaged in Y. M. C. A. work over there. Mrs. Kelsey went over also to act in the capacity of mother to the soldier boys, she being one of many that were sent.

George Range, of McMinnville, visited over Sunday with his daughter in Newberg.

Mrs. C. R. Chapin and son, Bion, of Corvallis were week end visitors in Newberg.

David Martin, who has been very sick at times during the past few months, is again out these bright mornings frisking around like a spring colt in a back lot.

Mrs. Frank Curtis and Miss Leona were Portland visitors Saturday. Mrs. Curtis returned Saturday evening but Miss Leona remained for a more extended visit.

Misses Olive and Mable Stanbrough gave a Valentine party to a number of their friends Friday evening. Games and music occupied the time. Refreshments were served.

Charley Leavitt, who was a resident of Newberg for many years, was here from Eugene the first of the week calling on his old friends and looking after some business matters. He was on his way home from Hood River where he went to visit his son who is in the ministry there.

It is often said that corporations are soulless, but this was disproved Sunday when the engineer of the early train saw an auto stuck in the mud this side of McMinnville. He stopped his car and by attaching a rope to the auto dragged it to solid ground, greatly to the relief of the auto driver.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hodges and little one, of Seattle, who had been to Amity to attend the funeral of his aged mother, stopped over here the first of the week for a visit with Mrs. Hodges' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira K. Vantress. Mrs. Mabel Stout, another daughter, was also out from Portland with her children at the same time.

The Hillsboro Independent has this to say of L. H. Shirley, formerly of Newberg: "Lew Shirley, who is a member of the Spanish-American war veterans command guarding Portland industrial plants and docks, comes out home occasionally to spend the day with his family. He is stationed on a ship and does not walk a beat, having decided the better of some of the boys whose duty keeps them in the open. Other Washington county veterans in the guard, he says, are C. G. Sleeper and Charley Purdin."

The following item regarding Miss Hazel Wassam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Wassam, of Newberg, is taken from the Western Union News: "Portland, Oregon—On December 8 Miss Hazel Wassam perforated and transmitted fifty messages on the San Francisco Multiplex between 9:25 a. m. and 9:45 a. m. (twenty minutes) without a single RQ, Rerun or Retouch. Among these were several long Government messages. As Miss Wassam has been working as an operator only four months this is an excellent showing."

A Portland friend of the editor of the Graphic received a letter recently from his brother in France who said: "Did I ever tell you what the German prisoners think about us? One of the fellows slipped in a moment's conversation with one of them and he got this information: The German people honestly believe that America is bottled up so that a ship can never get out of the harbors. The prisoner would not believe that there are Americans over here and laughed at the idea that we could ever be a leading factor in the war. They see us but say we are English, or that we are some other people than Americans and are only hired by the American government."

Virgil Hinshaw was out from Vancouver Sunday.

Orville Hollingsworth came in from The Dalles Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. C. A. Keeney came home from St. Vincent's hospital in Portland last week.

Mrs. H. H. Peters, of Rex, attended church in Newberg Sunday morning and spent the afternoon with Mrs. Sarah Hicks.

Henry Schuette has gone to Bellingham, Washington, to assist his son in finishing up a new residence and will probably be away a couple of months.

The First street Southern Pacific passenger station and express office was given a fresh coat of paint inside and out last week, adding much to its appearance.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Paulsen, 509 South College street, next Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. The program is in charge of Mrs. E. L. Evans. All interested in the work are invited to attend.

G. W. Dayton, who has been selling off his personal property, is arranging to try another location, hoping to get rid of the asthma which has been bothering him for several months. He has rented his farm to Walter Wilson.

Roy Heater, who grew up in Newberg and who has a large number of old schoolmates, relatives and friends here, came down as coach with the Salem high school team last Friday evening when they won the basket ball game in a contest with the Newberg high school team.

A. P. Johnson, former Newberger, who recently returned from Southern California, passed through Newberg Monday on the way from Corvallis to Portland. He said he had pleasant visits with a number of former Newberg people while he was away.

On Tuesday Rev. B. L. Hicks attended a banquet and meeting of the "Men and Millions Committee" of the Christian church, held at the Portland hotel, the object being to enlist the churches in Oregon in a campaign to raise a million dollars more to be added to the funds for the various activities of the church at large. Among the speakers were Pres. Cramblett, of Bethany University, W. Va., Dean Sanderson, of the Eugene Bible University, Dean Meldrum, of Spokane University, George Muckley, secretary of church extension work, K. C., Mrs. Effie Cunningham, national secretary Women's Board of Missions, Indianapolis, Grant K. Lewis, secretary American Christian Mission Society.

On Wednesday R. H. C. Bennett received a telegram from Washington, D. C., informing him that he had been appointed from the civil service list to a position as accountant in the ordinance department. He immediately wired his acceptance and is arranging to leave by the Southern route on next Tuesday to report for duty. Mrs. Bennett and the little daughter will remain here with the former's mother for the present and await further developments. Three months ago Mr. Bennett made application through the civil service commission for a permanent position in Washington as an accountant but had practically dismissed the matter from his mind and was taken quite by surprise on receiving the message Wednesday informing him of his appointment. For the past seven and a half years he has held a position as bookkeeper at the United States National Bank and has proved himself so efficient that his friends confidently expect that he will be advanced in the department work at Washington, if hard work and attention to detail will bring it. He has promised to give the readers of the Graphic an account of his "first impressions" as soon as he gets settled.

Bob Patterson was home from Vancouver Sunday on a short furlough.

J. E. Todd was down from McMinnville Tuesday looking after his Newberg interests.

Martin Burgett, from the mountain north of Springbrook, was in Newberg today.

Mrs. Saint, of Rex, spent the first of the week in Newberg visiting Mrs. M. Bowerman.

Miss Nellie Moore visited several days this week with friends and relatives in Portland.

"Dock" Rinard and Wilber Cook were down from the county seat Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. J. W. Fresh, of Coulee City, Washington, is in town visiting her brother, N. F. Byers.

C. M. Haney, who recently came to Newberg from Montana, has leased the Laurel Cottage property.

The Alpine Yodlers gave a very satisfactory program at Wood-Mar Hall on Thursday night of last week.

Miss Esther Pankey, of Central Point, Jackson county, visited here during the week with her friend, Miss Ellen Gregory.

Mrs. Ella Langellier has gone to Rimrock, Washington, to join her husband who went there a short time ago to assist their daughter in the post office.

The Graphic has been asked to urge farmers to fill out a farm and labor survey blank immediately and hand to the ones appointed in their respective districts to receive the same.

John C. Keller, who was here from Astoria on business Tuesday, was a pleasant caller at the Graphic office. He said that with three ship building plants running full handed and with the saw mills and canneries in operation Astoria was a busy city.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Moore, received a letter from their son, Marvin, the first of the week saying that his squadron had moved from Mt. Clemens, Michigan, to Hemstead, Long Island, N. Y., and that since arriving there he had met Charley Van Blaricom.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Grieve, of Twin Falls, Idaho, stopped off here on their return trip from Southern California, for a visit with their son and daughter who are students in college. They have rented a house on Second street and she will remain for some time.

Wednesday's Journal contained the following regarding the son of John C. Wood, of Newberg: "Herbert Wood, aged 18, formerly of Newberg, was badly scalded about the legs yesterday afternoon at the plant of the Union Meat Company, where he is employed. It is said by the other employees that the young man stepped backward into a vat of boiling water. He was taken to St. Vincent's hospital."

After three months' anxious waiting Mae B. Wallen received a letter Monday from her brother, Corporal Clifford A. Wallen, of the 31st aero squadron, who is "somewhere in France." The following are some extracts from his letter: "I am well and happy as ever, and hope you are the same. Thanks very much for the candy and things you folks sent. Will be glad to receive anything you send me at any time. I would have sent you something for your birthday but I couldn't get anything. We are having real nice weather now, although it was pretty cold for awhile this winter. There are a lot of fellows here from Salem so I don't get so very lonesome as you may suppose."

Dr. H. A. Littlefield has enlisted in the army and has received a commission as captain in the Surgical Reserve Corps. He was in Portland last Friday arranging some of his business affairs and ordering his uniform, as he is expected to be in readiness to answer to call within a week's Are Your Eyes Optically Correct?

There is one important requirement of

GLASSES

With it, they fit; without it, they don't.

Every eye is helped by having its focus correctly adjusted with lenses. Many eyes are irreparably injured by crude testing with drugs that poison and paralyze.

A skilled optometrist would not think of blinding you even temporarily to fit your eyes with glasses.

He knows the laws of optics and needs no such cloak to conceal his ignorance.

If you have never had your eyes sanely and rationally tested for glasses, suppose you call on
