THE RIGHT KIND OF A MAN FOR SENATOR

R. N. Stanfield.

FARMER, STOCK RAISER AND PRODUCER

The State is entitled to the active services of a man who knows how to work. Work for the State generally and work for the people of the State, both individually and collectively.

Oregon does not need any orators for orators are a drug on the market, and like constitutional lawyers, they do not get anything.

The Federal Government needs all the assistance Oregon can give, but is not receiving it because it has not been put up to the department on a business basis.

To day business men are having more to do with the government affairs than ever before. We are spending twenty-four million dollars a day and the people who will pay this money are the people who actually create wealth, the farmer, producer and the toiler.

Our prosperity depends upon our continued industrial activities and every one of these should be maintained at maximum capacity.

The prosperity of the small farmer, the small producer and the small manufacturer is as essential to the State and the Nation as the prosperity of the big man and every one of our occupations should be given equal consideration regardless of the amount produced.

Every encouragement must be given to increase production and this can be obtained only through assurance that the small farmer as well as the big man is going to receive his proportionate share of the war expenditures, and that there will be a market for his products and a profit to him for his work, based proportionately upon his cost of production.

There must be equality in all phases of our State and National industry, and the small fellow must not be forgotten, overlooked or crowded out through the rush for big things and big orders and big accomplishments.

If the people of the State want a business man, a worker, a man who knows, is thoroughly acquainted with every phase of the industrial situation in Oregon, a man who is capable, honest and fearless, a man who has by his own labor and through his own advancement aided in the progress and development of Oregon, they want Robert N. Stanfield.

NOTHING TO SEE BUT RUINS

Succession of Earthquakes Has About Wiped Out Mendoza, Old City of the Argentine.

Mendoza, which is some six hundred miles from Buenos Aires, is one of the oldest cities in the Argentine, and certainly one of the most interesting. No situation could be more delightful. The city, which is built on a flat plain, lies directly at the foot of the Andes and enjoys a superb view of its beautiful snow-covered heights. One Captain Castillo, says a writer in Wide World Magazine, founded the city as far back as 1559, but it was entirely destroyed by an earthquake in 1861. Ruins of some of its ancient churches still exist, and very pathetic to look at are these relics. Unfortunately for Mendoza, it is always subject to earthquakes, and these visitations, which generally come three or four times in the year, never fail to cause the inhabitants the greatest terror. Owing to its predisposition to the natural phenomena, the new city is built with houses of one story only. The earthquake which occurred on the Ash Wednesday of 1904 was particularly severe. The disaster happened after sunset, when the churches were filled with worshippers. Thirteen thousand perished, and out of the whole population only 1,600 escaped. The most horrible phase of the disaster was that while people were burning or suffocating under the ruins a set of brigands plundered the place and robbed even the dying.

Prominent Progressives in Oregon Endorse Committeeman

Portland, Oregon, April 23, 1918.

To the Republican Voters of Oregon:
We, the undersigned, all formerly Progressives and now registered Republicans, wish to add our endorsement to the candidacy of Ralph E. Williams, of Portland, for re-election on May 17 to the position of Republican National Committeeman. We endorse his candidacy for the following definite reasons:

In the first place, if Mr. Williams had not invited and encouraged the Progressives to join with the Republicans of this state in 1916, there would have been no active co-operation between the two forces and Oregon would undoubtedly have been lost to the Republican cause. Mr. Williams advocated the adoption by the Republican National Committee of a similar program of amalgamation and co-operative action in the other states. If his suggestions concerning California and Washington had been followed, those two states would also have been found in the Republican column after the national election.

Mr. Williams' attitude of friendliness toward Colonel Roosevelt is generally known to Republican leaders throughout this country and state. The same spirit of unity which Mr. Williams was so largely instrumental in effecting in Oregon in 1916, he also strove successfully to bring about at the recent meeting of the Republican National Committee at St. Louis.

The new chairman of the Republican National Committee, Will H. Hays, who was elected at the St. Louis meeting, has joined with George W. Perkins, chairman of the Executive Committee of the for Progressive party, in commending Mr. Williams' efforts to achieve harmony at St. Louis. On the occasion of his recent visit to Portland, Mr. Hays called attention to the splendid spirit of harmony which now prevails among all elements of the Republican party in Oregon and earnestly urged that it be maintained.

Mr. Williams' record as an earnest supporter of the government in the energetic conduct of the war, is widely known, owing to the aid he has given all war activities.

We believe in all fairness that Mr. Williams' services as outlined above, entitle him to re-election. We also believe that you are entitled to know where we stand with regard to his candidacy and for that reason, we have addressed this statement to you.

Henry Waldo Coe, Progressive National Committeeman for Oregon.
Thomas B. Neuhausen, Ex-Chairman of State Progressive Party.
Geo. Arthur Brown, Ex-Chairman of Executive Committee, Progressive Party.

Stanfield Macdonald, Pres. of Assn. of Fathers of Oregon Soldiers and Sailors.

D. L. Povey, A. I. Moulton, F. H. Lewis, Progressive Members of Hughes Campaign Committee.

Charles W. Ackerman, Lon L. Parker, Oliver M. Hickey, Geo. B. Andrews, C. P. Bodley, Miss Vivian Flexner, Miss Mary E. Hill, Mrs. Maude M. Povey, Mrs. Anna E. Greville, Mrs. Maude L. Neuhausen, Mrs. Geo. I. Thompson.
