$1.50 Per Year in Advance

THURSDAY, JULY 11 1918,

TO THE PUBLIC

I have sold the Newberg Enterprise to E. H. Woodward, proprietor of the Newberg Graphic. The sale includes the title of the paper and the subscription list. All Enterprise subscription accounts are now payable to Mr. Woodward and all unexpired subscriptions will be transferred to the subscription list of the Graphic with the proper credit. All accounts for advertising and job printing due the Enterprise are payable to me.

I cannot leave the newspaper field in Newberg without expressing my appreciation of the many courtesies and expressions of good will shown me during the past eighteen months. The work has been most enjoyable and has not been entirely without reward.

But Newberg is not a "two-newspaper" town and especially is the territory inadequate for two businesses to be conducted with a reasonable profit in these war times. The wisdom of the consolidation of the two papers has been apparent to and negotiated by the owners for some time. The recent fire brought the opportunity of effecting this consolidation and it has been arranged satisfactorily to the parties involved.

We hope that the patrons of the Enterprise may give the Graphic the same loyal support they have given the Enterprise in the past and feel sure that the move is in accord with the spirit of retrenchment demanded by the present day conditions.

SIMON S. DOW.

The statement given above by Mr. Dow is easily understood and no further explanation of the transaction is necessary.

I wish to say, however, that the relation between Mr. Dow and myself have always been pleasant and agreeable and I have found him to be a worthy competitor. He is an all round good fellow and if he and his estimable family should decide to go elsewhere, Newberg will be the loser.

In the future, as in the past, I shall endeavor to give Newberg just as good a newspaper as the patronage received will justify, and nothing more can be reasonably asked for by the public.

E. H. WOODWARD.

The date of the Chautauqua opening in Newberg, Saturday, July 20, is not far away and it is time to be getting interested. If by chance no one calls on you for the sale of season tickets, take note of window cards indicating where tickets are on sale and do your duty as a public spirited citizen.

The rumor that continues to come in to the effect that the paving of the Portland road is not to be completed this season appears to be unfounded. The Graphic is informed that the force that has been stationed at Rex is to be sent to Tillamook the latter part of next week, but that getting out the crushed rock will be continued and that the "hot stuff" will be sent out from the Portland plant to complete the work. It is not believable that the State Highway Commission would allow the contractors to leave this job with a few short patches unfinished, and we have no idea that such a thing is at all contemplated.

Dr. Esther Lovejoy, of Portland, who spent several months in France doing Red Cross medical service, mostly among refugee children, made a vigorous, straight-from-the-shoulder talk at the city park on last Sunday afternoon, telling in an interesting way of her experiences and easily demonstrating to her hearers what she would do to a Hun, should she meet one on the battle front.

QUESTION OF NERVE

Once more stress is placed on the fact that women conductors checked an impending panic when a subway train ran wild in New York City, says the Philadelphia Telegraph. From this one would naturally gather that it is unusual for women to meet a big emergency without some hysteria, but is this the right impression? There is reason to believe that man is not superior to woman in the matter of nerve. Is it the man who remains calm and knows just what to do when something happens to the children? Is it the man who, while walking along the street, tears his petticoat in strips and binds up the bleeding hurts of some injured person? Is it the man who can sit in a dental chair and knit a sweater while having teeth repaired? Many men, of course, are justified in boasting of their nerve, but a great surgeon who has to have a cool, collected nurse at his side during a critical operation will tell you that it is not always the woman who grows faint and has to be carried out.—The Optimist.

CONSERVE WATER SUPPLY BY PREVENTING LEAKS

The importance of a good water supply was fully demonstrated at the fire on First street last week. Had the supply been short and the pressure low it is easy to speculate on what the damage might have been in addition to what it was.

Every resident of Newberg is interested in this important matter and should do their best to save water by preventing all leaks in faucets and toilets. Water wasted in this way does no one any good, while it cuts the supply in the reservoirs which must be depended on in case of fire.

Do your duty as a good citizen—that word neglect may cost you dearly in lost property.

ROOF PAINT FOR TREE WOUNDS

Many orchardists and tree surgeons have found that the best and most economical way of treating tree wounds of all kinds is to cover them with roof paint. It is easy to apply and farmers throughout the country have used it with benefit in the treatment of abrasions, cuts and grafting. It is heavy enough in body to form a thick coating over the wound, thus preventing insects and the elements from harming the tree. It is also very easy to apply.

A professional tree surgeon and pruner who is taking care of some 20,000 trees, writes enthusiastically about it for use on citrus trees. "It is," he says, "the best thing I have ever used or heard of, and being so well satisfied I heartily recommend Oronite roof paint to any and all orchardists who may be interested in such a paint."

The use of this paint is undoubtedly the best, most convenient and economical way of healing abrasions of trees, and it greatly prolongs their life and productiveness.

OREGON'S CONTRIBUTION OF SHIPS

Twenty-two finished hulls were contributed to the Government in the Portland-Columbia River district on Thursday of last week. Of these 20 were for the Government and two were for private owners. The aggregate tonnage was 90,000 ton.

While the 22 vessels were ready for launching, and two more could have been turned loose on the ways, making a total of 24, by stretching a point, fresher conditions at and near Portland made the launching of the majority of them impracticable.

The ships launched are the Nashotah, built by the Grant Smith Ship Company at Portland; the Maratanza and Wanzu, products of the Sommarstrom yards at Columbia City, and the Benvola and Cottrel, constructed by the McEachern Ship Company at Astoria.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS RECEIVE LETTER FROM ENGLAND'S KING

Mrs. Hurlston has furnished the Graphic a copy of The Daily Mirror, published in London, which contains a fac-simile of a letter written by the King of England, a copy of which is to be handed to every American soldier passing through England.

The letter reads: Soldiers of the United States, the people of the British Isles welcome you on your way to take your stand beside the armies of many Nations now fighting in the Old World the great battle of human freedom.

The Allies will gain new heart and spirit in your company.

I wish that I could shake the hand of each one of you and bid you God-speed on your mission.

HELP PREVENT FOREST FIRES

A dangerous forest-fire season is here. All forest travelers—autoists, campers, fishermen, hunters, and others—are warned to be careful with fire in the open. The present extremely dry condition of the woods, due to drought and drying winds, makes them especially susceptible to fire, and unusual care is necessary to prevent destructive conflagrations. The co-operation of everyone using the forests is needed to keep them green and attractive. By building small camp fires in safe places and completely extinguishing them before leaving, one of the chief causes of forest fires may be removed. Smokers should be cautious with burning tobacco and matches. No patriotic tourist will purposely start a fire and endanger the timber and forage of the forests. Aside from the commercial value of the woods, which can be figured in dollars and cents, there is their value from a recreational and aesthetic standpoint which can only be estimated. Help keep the forests valuable by preventing forest fires.

SERVICES AT NEWBERG CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN

On next Sunday morning Bro. Skaags, of Vancouver, will preach. Brother Skaags is the minister who baptized and ordained our pastor, and is one of the best known of our pioneer preachers.

In the evening there will be union services in the park. Let us support these meetings with our prayers and attendance.

A number from the church are attending the convention at Turner.

There will be no Christian Endeavor meeting next Sunday evening as a large delegation will attend the convention on that day. Those desiring to go in the truck should meet at the church. It leaves promptly at 6:30 Sunday morning.

For the summer months the Junior meetings will be discontinued as their superintendent is out of town. The Juniors are asked to meet with the Y. P. S. C. E., and the Junior committee will see that they have a part on the program of every meeting.

PRESBYTERIAN

Morning worship at 11, mid-summer communion.

Evening open-air union service in the park at 8, Evangelist Jeambey speaking on "Paul at Mars Hill."

Afternoon service in the park at 3, especially adapted to young people. All young people of the whole town invited.

Wednesday evening meeting at 8, July 17, topic, "Missionary News."

Friday, July 12, Ladies' Aid Society meets at home of Mrs. C. A. Morris, at 2:30 p. m. All our ladies are invited, of church and congregation.

BAPTIST

What's the use of prayer, anyhow? Do you know? It sometimes seems a rather useless practice, doesn't it? And even after experiences that have made us say we would never doubt again, too! Well, we have all had your experience, friend, and most of us have lived through it only to be firmer believers in prayer. On Sunday morning we shall discuss this interesting subject. Get down your Bible and find Job 21: 15, then come to the Sunday morning service to hear the answer.

The evening service will be held in the park as usual for the summer. We invite you to enjoy a good service with us under the leadership of Evangelist Jeambey.

The other services of the church are worthy of your attention. The Sunday school meets at 10 a. m. and the B. Y. P. U. at 7 p. m.
