There have been 85 speed cases in the Sherwood District Justice Court, and the fines from them netted the county road fund $732.50, the little Ford being the smallest in the number according to the Justice.—Sherwood News.

Joseph Richmond left here Tuesday morning for Parkside, Saskatchewan, where he has two sons who are engaged in farming. He said that with a freeze in July and continued dry weather the grain crop throughout that country was cut short of the usual yield.

A California automobile tourist of pugnacious temperament got quite hot under the collar Wednesday morning when a Southern Pacific express truck alongside the down train that was standing at the station, blocked his way for a few minutes. He ignored the fact that he might have backed up and passed on the other side of the train and thus have lost less of his precious time than was wasted with his cuss words.

J. C. Lemon is home from Victoria, B. C., where he spent a few days visiting with a cousin.

H. R. Morris and George L. Kelly came home from their trip to Foley Springs Wednesday.

Mrs. Frank Curtis and Master Joe went to Portland last Friday for a few days' visit with her daughter, Miss Leona.

J. L. Hoskins received a telegram on Monday giving information of the death at Chico, California, of Alva P. Macy, former resident of this county.

F. H. McCarter, linotype operator of Portland, in company with T. X. Johnson, of Portland, spent a couple of hours in Newberg Tuesday while on their way to the Coast Mountains on a fishing trip.

Lowell Bristow, after an absence from Newberg of several years, has been visiting relatives here during the week. At present he is in the employ of a big electrical company of Seattle, but until recently had been working in Butte, Montana.

Up to the middle of July the W. C. T. U. had sent five ambulances and fifteen field kitchens, donated twenty stereomicrographs to the cantonments and expended $200,000 for comfort kits. It has adopted 400 French orphans and contributed generously to all relief work.

The Newberg W. C. T. U. is buying a Liberty Bond and to meet its last payment a food sale will be held in Grede's market next Saturday. More of Mrs. Round's famous tamales will be found there. Don't forget time and place if you want tamales and other good things. Get your supply for your Sunday dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Horning returned home the first of the week from Corvallis and Newport where they spent several weeks in recuperating their health and in visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Prof. and Mrs. C. C. Vincent, of Moscow, Idaho, where he is instructor in horticulture in the agricultural college.

Col. J. C. Cooper, of McMinnville, in sending notice of the proposed tour of the Western Walnut Association says: "You will please note that the party will take lunch at Newberg, so please tell George Kelly and others to have a glad handshake ready for the visitors. Some should hitch up their gas wagons and go along."

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Otis motored to Rockaway Saturday, remaining until Monday, when they brought home with them their children, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Van Atta and little daughter, Betty Jean, and also Walter's mother, Mrs. Mary Van Atta, all of McMinnville, who have been sojourning at the beach for two weeks.

He said there was ready sale for residence property in Portland at $3,000 to $3,500 and that some vacant lots were being sold at about fifty per cent of the prices of five years ago.

Ernest Duncan writes the Graphic from The Burke Foundation, White Plains, New York, that he went to the hospital the first of last February and has not been able to do anything since but thinks he will be sent back to duty soon. Of all the Newberg boys that have gone over he says the only one he has seen was Loran Randall, whom he was very glad to meet.

Mrs. Lottie Hannon says one of the most interesting meetings held in Portland last week was the "Patriotic War Service Conference" held by the State W. C. T. U. with prominent Chicago women in attendance. When the plans came from the government to bring co-ordination of existing women's organizations for war work, the government stated that the W. C. T. U. was the third organization to fall in line in patriotic service and that their work was already thoroughly organized and equipped for service.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Morris spent last week at Newport and on the Siletz River fishing, arriving home on Saturday. On first going to Newport they were unable to get accommodations and consequently went over in to the Siletz country beyond Norton's where they camped, fished and bought Indian baskets. C. A. employed an Indian as guide to take him far up stream where fishing was good and he says the Indian was some adept at casting the fly into far-away pools for the festive and unsuspecting trout. By making reservations in advance they were able to secure rooms at the Nicolai hotel at Nye Beach and consequently spent the last days of their vacation there.

Dr. A. M. Davis is off for the mountains on a hunting trip.

Miss Alma Baker, of Turner, is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. John Gower. Prof. Anderson, who was in from Dundee Wednesday, said the Dundee school would open Monday.

F. E. Vestal has returned from Suffolk, Montana, where he proved up on a claim, and will remain in Oregon, for the present at least. He says the season has been very dry there.

Mrs. S. F. Wallace is spending some time in Portland visiting relatives and friends. Her daughter, Mrs. Rosalie Simms, is acting as housekeeper and keeping things in order during her absence.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Hoskins and little son arrived home Wednesday evening from Coos Bay where they went on a vacation and for a visit with Mrs. Hoskins' sister, Mrs. Scott. On the way home they also visited with relatives at Hamburg.

Mrs. M. J. Nash received the information a few days ago that her grandson, Van L. Nash, aged 19 years, had been wounded in France, and that another grandson, W. M. Bowers, of Amity, was missing and it is supposed that he was taken prisoner.

Mark Hester and family, of San Diego, California, who have been making an auto tour of the Northwest coast, were here the first of the week as guests of the C. S. Woodward family. Mr. Hester, who is a cousin of Dr. T. W. Hester, is trustee officer in San Diego.

Mrs. James N. Bradley and daughter, Mrs. L. L. Tallman, of Tacoma, and Miss Lucile Bradley, of New York City, spent ten days visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wendell, of Springbrook Heights. All were delighted with this beautiful valley and climate.

Elmer Armstrong came down from Salem Wednesday, bringing Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Toile and Mrs. Myrtle Stockman, of Windfall, Indiana, and Mrs. J. B. Moorman, of Salem, who are visiting with the J. G. Jackson family, who moved here recently, and are living in the Kaufman property on North River street.

Col. Pike has a hundred or more G. A. R. veterans and members of the W. R. C. listed to go to Portland next week to attend the National Encampment. He says an unusually large attendance is expected from all over the country as they are getting the lowest railroad rates that have ever been extended to them.

The Yamhill Electric Co. has a force of men at work repairing their recently burned building and will again occupy the corner room as soon as the job is completed. The worked over part will extend far enough to include the rooms formerly occupied by the Enterprise, which will be thrown together, making one large room.

S. P. Van Dyke has asked the Graphic to call the attention of the public to a noxious weed that is getting a start in this section, which he says spreads rapidly and smothers out everything else where it gets a footing as nothing will eat it. It grows from twelve to eighteen inches or more in height, has a yellowish colored bloom and is of stiff, woody fibre when dry. Some of it may be seen growing on East First street beyond the bridge. Mr. Van Dyke says that unless immediate war is made on this pest it will take the pasture lands.

OBITUARY

David Martin, son of Alfred and Anna Cox Martin, was born at New Burlington, Clinton county, Ohio, March 10, 1844.

His mother was a Friend. When he was nine years of age his father joined Friends by conviction at which time, he, with his brothers and sisters, became a member of the church. He was definitely converted in early manhood.

When eleven years of age he moved with his father's family to Iowa, where he was married to Evangeline Hanson in 1873.

To this union was born two sons, the older dying in infancy, and the younger, Alfred Calva Martin.

He brought his family to the vicinity of Newberg in 1883 where they have resided ever since. He died at his farm home August 6,

"It Serves You Right"

1918. He is survived by his wife, his son, A. C. Martin, a minister, and his wife and three brothers and sisters.

His life momentarily was a constant witness of God's saving and keeping power. He was a tender husband and father, faithful to every known duty. During his last illness his suffering at times was intense, but it was borne without complaint, and the glory of the Lord filled his soul with unbounded praise to his Maker.

Food Sale Saturday

At Crede's Market on Saturday the W. C. T. U. will hold a food sale, including Mrs. Round's make of tamales and other good things to eat.
