BURBANK STANDARD PRUNES WANTED

Portland Hotel Managers Say They Are the Best Ever Tried

A few days ago G. E. West, son of W. T. West, who lives out a mile and a half east of Newberg, called at the Graphic office to get some shipping tags and remarked that he wanted them to attach to sacks in which he was shipping seions out from Standard Burbank prune trees, to a nurseryman over in Washington.

On being questioned about the prunes he said he would bring some in as a sample, which he did a few days later, and for those who like a sweet prune certainly nothing more is to be desired than the Burbank.

They are considerably larger than the French prune and are better than a fig or raisin to eat without cooking. Little sugar is required for cooking them and they are exceedingly rich in flavor.

Last season West & Son placed some of the prunes in the hands of A. G. Clark, manager of the "Home Industry League," of Portland, for distribution and from the letters he received in answer from hotel managers who tested the prunes, the following notes are taken.

Hotel Benson

I am glad to tell you that the prunes I received are some of the most excellent I have ever handled and if there is any way of securing them for our hotel I would like to place an order at this time. I use from 75 to 100 pounds of dried prunes a week.

Multnomah Hotel

I had our chef prepare the prunes and he is unlimited in his praise of them. He claims they are a finer quality than any he has ever tried. They contain more meat and require less sugar for cooking than any other prune he has ever tried.

The Portland

If all the prunes are like the samples you sent me I predict a big future for them. As you know, prunes form a large part of the breakfast of many guests of a hotel and we would be very glad to be able to purchase such prunes as these.

Without doubt they are the finest prunes I have ever seen and I want the Hazelwood to be considered a prospective purchaser for a quantity when placed on the market.

Imperial Hotel

I was very much pleased with the taste and quality of the prunes, myself, as were our entire staff in the kitchen.

Chamber of Commerce Chef

My experience with prunes covers a long period of years and I feel free to endorse the "Burbank Standard" as very popular in many ways. If we can purchase them next season, I wish to do so.

SOUTH SEA ISLAND ILLUSTRATED LECTURE APPRECIATED

The stereopticon lecture given by Evangelist B. J. Cady in Duncan's hall last Saturday evening was enjoyed by a large and interested audience. Over one hundred slides were shown, giving our people a glimpse of the degradation of cannibalism and heathenism, and showing gratifying results from the gospel work which has been done among the islanders. The South Sea Island songs were especially appreciated.

Mr. Cady took Mark 16:15 as a basis for his remarks, which says, "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature." He believes that all Christians should help in some way toward giving the gospel light to every kindred, nation, tongue and people; and that "this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations, and then shall the end come." (Matthew 24:14.)

Reference was made to the enlightened age in which we now live, and a prophecy in Daniel 12:4 was given, which prophecy is rapidly fulfilling in the many valuable inventions that are developing in recent years, and the great increase of knowledge, as well as travel. Mr. Cady says these modern conveniences for rapid transit, as well as the great increase in literature, are designed of God to hasten the spread of the gospel.

SHALL NEWBERG HAVE A BAND?

There is a remarkably live movement throughout the country for the organization of brass bands, which extends from the cities to the small-country hamlets.

There should be a band in every progressive community for it is a positive benefit to everybody.

The American people are a musical people, the greatest lovers of music.

A brass band gives the best expression to the American love of music and is the music of the entire community.

Its music is the highest and best expression of public hospitality.

If all musicians and those interested in band work in and around Newberg will leave their names at Kienle's Music Store and state what instrument they desire to play, this will give us an estimate on what material we may expect.

If there are enough musicians to warrant starting a band in Newberg, a date and place of meeting will be announced the following week.

In Some Towns There is a Baby Who Can Live if You Say the Word

By BRUCE BARTON.

I sometimes picture it to myself this way. Suppose that somewhere down town in New York, or in Chicago or St. Louis, there were a huge auction room, where the lives of men and of little children were on sale.

Suppose that every day the auctioneer's red flag hung out as a sign that on that day so many men were to be allowed to die; so many women; and so many little ones.

Allowed to die, just for the lack of a few dollars. Just for the want of the little sum that would ransom them.

Suppose that were the case, I say to myself; could I possibly stay away? Is there any argument I could give to myself that would keep me from going there day after day, and buying with all my power? Buying men and women and children, at that auctioneer's block, with the dollars that would mean life to them?

It's not a very pretty picture; yet compared to the pictures that I have seen from stricken Armenia and Syria, and all the empires of the Near East, it is almost beautiful.

For men and women and children are dying over there—dying for the lack of sums that seem pitifully, miserably small.

I am not rich, and I have all the little worries that are common to us middle class folks. Worries about next year's income tax; and about the future of business, and where my income will go to if such and such things take place.

But I have a worse worry than that. The worry for what my conscience will say to me, if in this hour of the world's tribulation I do not do my share.

The worry lest in my ears for the rest of my life there should be the cry of a man, or a woman, or a little child whose life I might have saved.

For they are crying over there today, stretching out their weak, tired arms. And it's a marvellous thought to me, that modest as my income is, it's big enough to let me save the life of one of them—big enough to give me a man, or a woman, or a child who will never cease to be thankful that I did my part.

They are waiting for our power over there: yours and mine; a poor broken man broken by the war; and a woman, weak from her struggle and terror; and a baby who can live and grow up into useful manhood or womanhood, if only you say the word.

A COLD WEATHER WARNING TERROR OF HIGHWAY SPEEDERS

"Hard cranking and sluggishness of the motor in cold weather usually indicates a serious condition in the motor due to the use of a poor cold test oil, one that congeals or thickens and does not lubricate correctly in cold weather," said V. D. Miller of the Standard Oil Company yesterday.

"A poor cold test oil will not flow and properly lubricate until it has been warmed by the motor running for some fifteen to thirty minutes, during which time excessive friction is present and serious wear takes place in the cylinder and bearings. Motorists can avoid this danger and annoyance by using Zerolene which is refined from California crude of the naphthene series. This oil has a natural zero cold test because it contains no paraffine to congeal at low temperatures. It keeps the motor flexible and easy to turn over during cold weather and insures correct lubrication of the automobile right from the start."

M. J. and C. S. Haynes, of Sherwood were in town on business Monday. M. J. is the Sherwood justice of the peace who proved a terror last year to speeders on the new highway, and that he has been a somewhat active dispenser of justice is shown by the fact that he has turned in $1,180 in fines since he took office last summer. He believes that with the amount of traffic now using the Rex-Tigard road it will be absolutely necessary for the county to put a traffic officer regularly at work. Expense, he says, will be more than covered by fines. While not at his justice office Mr. Haynes conducts a lumber yard and has a thriving trucking business with Portland. His brother, C. S. Haynes, is the well known mill man.—Hillsboro Independent.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE FOR J. B. CROZIER

J. B. Crozier, who is living on the Craig Duer place out northwest of Newberg, was surprised Saturday evening when his neighbors came in to celebrate his birthday anniversary. They brought a graphophone, and before departing presented it to Mr. Crozier to assure him of the high esteem in which his friends hold him.

They also brought well filled baskets of refreshments but the climax was reached when Miss Fay Hawley entered with a beautiful birthday cake she had made in honor of the occasion. The cake was decorated with a wreath of pussy willows and violets, and the blazing candles proclaimed that Mr. Crozier was seventy-three years young.

FREE LECTURES CONTINUE

Evangelist B. J. Cady will continue stereopticon lectures in Duncan's hall, Newberg, next Saturday and Sunday evenings, February 22 and 23. The services begin at 7:45 each evening.

Subjects are as follows: Saturday night, "Heroes of the Church and Their Work;" Sunday night, "Antichrist and His Work as Foretold in the Scriptures." All are invited to attend.

BIG DRIVE FOR MEMBERSHIP

A membership drive for the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce has been launched by John L. Etheridge, of Portland, state chairman of the membership committee.

During the past month an office force, working overtime, has been perfecting the committee's organization for securing members for the new Chamber. A large room has been set aside specially for this purpose by Mr. Etheridge, manager and vice president, Morris Bros., Inc., Bond House, in the Morris Building, 308 Stark street, Portland.

The aim is to secure individual memberships from the representative citizens of every town, community and rural district of Oregon, and organization memberships from every local, commercial or development body.

Mr. F. C. Graham, of Cove Orchard, has been appointed chairman membership committee for Yamhill county. Also the following of Yamhill county have been appointed chairmen of the membership committee for their respective cities:

- John W. Bridwell, Amity.
- George Stickney, Carlton.
- J. L. Stuart, Dayton.
- Eugene Courtney, LaFayette.
- George L. Kelly, Newberg.
- E. C. Apperson, McMinnville.
- W. F. Nichols, Sheridan.
- Paul Fundman, Willamina.
- Sam Laughlin, Yamhill.

"Every citizen who has anything at stake in the state of Oregon, or who has an interest in the progress and development of his own section, or of the state as a whole, will be interested in the State Chamber of Commerce," said Chairman Etheridge. "Every organization whose purpose it is to advance the development of its local community or of the entire state should be affiliated."

"The State Chamber of Commerce is laid out on the broadest basis. Its organization plan is so safeguarded that no one section of Oregon, not even the metropolis, can control it. Portland has a representation of only two members on the board of fifteen directors, the other thirteen members of the board residing out in the state.

"Eastern Oregon is represented by six directors, residing in different sections of that great region, the development of which contributes so heavily to the taxable wealth and commercial prosperity of the state. Seven directors reside in different parts of Western Oregon, including representation from the Rogue River Valley, the Coos Bay country, the port region at the mouth of the Columbia River and the East and West sides, as well as the Northern and Southern ends of the Willamette Valley.

"Such a representation precludes the possibility of the state organization being used selfishly to promote the interests of the metropolis or of any one section as against the interests of any other section or of the state as a whole.

"Industrially, the diversified interests of the state are also represented. Livestock, agriculture, fruit, timber, manufacturing, merchandising and foreign commerce are all represented on the board.

"Such an organization can be made a gigantic power for the material progress of Oregon. Its work is needed. The success of its mission depends primarily upon the character, number and geographical distribution of its members.

"There are three classes of memberships: First, 'Commercial,' comprising local Chambers of Commerce and Commercial Clubs; second, 'Association,' being associations organized for promoting any industrial, agricultural or other industries and not organized for private purposes; and finally, the 'Individual,' non-voting memberships. The annual fee for the 'Commercial' membership is $10 for each one hundred members and $10 additional for each additional major fraction thereof. The fee for 'Association' memberships is $20 per year. An annual minimum fee of $5 is to be paid by the 'Individual,' non-voting members.

PERMANENT HOME FOR STOCK SHOW

Northwest Breeders and Dairymen Unite on a Plan for Building

Leading dairymen and livestock breeders of Oregon, Idaho, Washington and Montana have re-organized and now compose the directors of the Pacific International Livestock Exposition. The next exhibition and sales will be held November 15-23 in a spacious and modern exposition building, to cost a quarter of a million dollars. During the week beginning February 24, stockmen of the northwest and others interested in the livestock industry will raise through stock subscriptions about $150,000. This amount was pledged at a recent conference of the breeders and dairymen, held at Portland.

Willamette Valley counties will subscribe for stock, according to their respective livestock valuations, as follows:

| County | Livestock Valuation | Sub. for Expo. |
|------------|---------------------|----------------|
| Benton | $ 421,160 | $2,000 |
| Clackamas | 724,815 | 6,000 |
| Linn | 1,388,095 | 6,000 |
| Marion | 1,122,485 | 6,000 |
| Lane | 984,395 | 6,000 |
| Polk | 464,220 | 3,000 |
| Washington | 874,330 | 2,500 |
| Yamhill | 834,560 | 3,500 |

The remainder of the state is in proportionate amounts. The present total assessed valuation of the livestock of Oregon is $40,644,939.

Portland, conceded to be the proper center for the Annual Livestock Show and sales, has agreed to match dollar for dollar, all that is subscribed by the upstate counties and representative breeders of the Spokane country and Central Washington, as well as Idaho and Montana. California stockmen are also actively interested.

A. J. Johnson is director for Benton county; Grant Dimmick for Clackamas; E. D. Cusick for Linn; P. E. Snodgrass for Lane; G. W. Eyre for Marion; C. L. Hawley for Polk; Thomas Carmichael for Washington; Frank Brown for Yamhill. Mr. Brown was recently elected president of the Board of Directors of the Pacific International Livestock Exposition.

YAMHILL COUNTY SHORTHORN BULL BOUND FOR JAPAN

Two notable Shorthorn sales are reported made here this week that place Carlton "on the map" with Shorthorn breeders not only of this country but of the world.

Frank Brown, of Craigielea farm, reports the sale of the Shorthorn bull, Diamond Perfection, champion at last year's Pacific International Live Stock Show, to Mrs. Olive Saunders, of Ellensburg, Washington, for $3,000, which sounds pretty big to some of us. Mr. Brown shipped two heifers to the Conger sale, at Chicago, and has gone there, where he may make some purchases.

Foot hills farm, two miles west of Carlton, owned by W. B. Ayer and managed by Robert G. Fowler, specializes in the milking strain of Shorthorns. The farm has recently sold the bull, Voyager, of this breed, to the Japanese government. He is a very promising young bull and should be a valuable addition to the government herd. He will go to San Francisco by express Saturday.—Carlton Sentinel.

DUNDEE FELLOWS AT O. A. C.

O. A. C., Corvallis, February 18—Elmo Shannahan and David Marr, popular Dundee men, are rapidly breaking into college activities here. Both Marr and Shannahan have made the glee club and both men are Sigma Phi Epsilon pledges. Their basket ball experience at Dundee and Pacific College makes them valuable additions to the house team. Marr is taking a course in commerce and Shannahan one in horticulture. Instead of regular infantry drill Shannahan is taking up work in the cadet signal corps.

acquainted with the aims and purposes of the State Chamber and until the great majority of them are enrolled will the membership committee feel that it has accomplished the work which it was appointed to undertake."
