FARM BUREAUS START THINGS

Farm bureaus in Oregon study their own needs and make and direct their own plans of work. Neither Washington nor the state agricultural college attempts to say what lines of work—crops, dairying, live stock, poultry, irrigation and drainage, fruit growing or plant protection—the farmers in any community shall begin and carry on. Both the federal and the state departments help organize the county and community so that the things selected by the farmers will be done in an organized way, but the real movement is from the farm through the college to Washington. Farmers are helped, not hampered.

Notice to Contractors

Sealed proposals will be received by the County Court of Yamhill County, Oregon, until ten o'clock in the forenoon on the 19th day of April, 1919, for constructing a six foot culvert about 48 feet in length and making a fill of approximately 5,000 yards at the location of the present bridge near the School House in School District No. 12 and about two miles Easterly from Whiteson in Yamhill County, Oregon, on the County Road leading from Dayton to Amity, as per specifications on file in the office of the County Clerk of Yamhill County, Oregon. Alternative bids will be received for the construction of said culvert with reinforced concrete and for constructing same of armo corrugated iron culvert material.

No proposal or bid will be considered unless accompanied by a draft or certified check payable to the order of C. B. Wilson, County Clerk, in amount equal to five per cent of the aggregate amount of such proposal or bid, to be forfeited as fixed and liquidated damages in case the bidder neglects or refuses to enter into the necessary contract and furnish a suitable bond in the sum of fifty per cent of the amount of the contract, in the event the contract is awarded to said bidder, said bond to be approved by the County Court of Yamhill County, and the work embraced in the contract shall be completed to the satisfaction of the County Court within six weeks from the date of the awarding of the contract.

The specifications, maps, plans and profiles, as well as form of the contract and estimate of quantities may be examined by prospective bidders at the office of the County Clerk in the Court House at McMinnville, Oregon, and all proposals must be made on forms and in accordance with instructions forming a part of the specifications above referred to.

The right to reject any and all bids is hereby reserved.

This notice is given by order of the County Court of Yamhill County, Oregon.

C. B. Wilson, Clerk.
