U. S. G. Miller has had a force of men at work during the week excavating for the basement of the new residence he is planning to build on the northeast corner of Meridian and Hancock streets. S. E. Watkins who is drawing the plans for the house, was out from Portland a few days ago getting a sketch of what is desired. There is to be seven or eight rooms and the square colonial style of architecture will be followed. Mr. Miller says he is finding it difficult to secure satisfactory contractors who can begin the work as early as he desires.

The High Cost of Cooking

Has been solved by Electrical genius. There is every likelihood that wood will be very much higher this season than last. Wood, sawing and putting into the basement will doubtless average close to $7.00 the cord. The trouble begins with splitting, elevating, taking out ashes, and smoke, soot, dust, incident to the use of wood.

If you cook with Electricity all these troublesome things are eliminated and you can save money by using it. Our special COOKING RATE OF 4C per kilowatt hour beats $5.00 wood.

We have a number of customers using electricity EXCLUSIVELY for cooking purposes. Food is better prepared, goes farther, tastes better and costs less than when cooked the old way. The Electric Range is perfect. We sell the famous Westinghouse-Copeland Steel Range at cost. The automatic feature of this stove is a marvel. Call at our office and let us explain the workings of this stove. You will buy one some time, why not now?

The regular monthly meeting of the Red Cross occurred last Tuesday evening with a larger number present than usual as the members wished to show their appreciation of the efficient leadership they have had during the past month. After a short business session, R. J. Moore made a few remarks in which he spoke of the faithful service of Mrs. Baird, as chairman of the Newberg Branch and presented her with a gold thimble from the members of the Newberg Branch as a slight token of the high esteem in which she is held by every one who is interested in Red Cross work.

On last Saturday, by invitation of E. O. Van Oedol, manager of the milk condensers, farmers and dairymen to the number of about 150 gathered in Duncan's hall for a love feast, when ice cream and cigars were free to all. Mr. Henningsen, of the Henningsen Produce Co., the new owners of the plant, was in attendance to address the meeting. Good feeling prevailed and it is apparent that the new company has made a favorable impression on the cow men, for they are said to be responding well to the call for milk with which to start the plant. The fires were started at the plant the first of the week and Mr. Van Oedol says the outlook is good for a milk supply.
