Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Dunlap and son, Arta, of Portland, spent Saturday and Sunday with Newberg relatives. They were accompanied by Mrs. George Kaufmann who will spend some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Kaufman recuperating from a serious illness.

G. S. Nelson, the wood saw man who lives at Fourth and Meridian streets, received a severe injury to his right hand Wednesday morning when it came in contact with the saw. The thumb and fore finger were practically cut off but they were put back by Dr. Romig, who attended him, and he hopes to save them.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Staley and three daughters, of Chehalis Center, are leaving this week for an extended auto trip, expecting to be gone about four weeks. They will first go to Big Timber, Montana, where Mrs. Staley has relatives, and later they hope to meet a brother of Mr. Staley from Nebraska and a sister from North Dakota at Yellowstone Park, which they will explore.

The W. C. T. U. will hold their July birthday meeting, Wednesday, July 30, at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. W. W. Hollingsworth, corner of Fourth and College streets, with the Madams W. W. Hollingsworth, Paulsen, Vifcent, Hilbert and Miss Gladys Hannon as hostesses. Refreshments will be served. All are invited to come and join us in a social hour, and help in the big W. C. T. U. drive.

Prof. F. W. Pershio was home from the State University Saturday and Sunday.

The first threshing machine of the season passed through town Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barker are here from San Francisco visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira K. Vantress. He is engaged in the automobile business and is away on a short vacation.

Mrs. John Collison, of Harrison, Ontario, Canada, the grandmother of J. C. Lemon, and also his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Lemon, and sister, Miss Pauline, of Pratt, Kansas, are here on a visit and will remain some time.

Mrs. Fannie Case and three daughters are here from Curtis, Nebraska, visiting Mrs. Mary Briggs, the mother of Mrs. Case. The husband and father, who is a practicing physician, as well as a large land owner, expects to come out later.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul V. Maris and little daughter, in company with the farm agent of Benton county and his new wife, they having been married in Portland Sunday, stopped over here Sunday night when on their way to Corvallis from Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Wassam entertained out of town visitors at their home here Sunday. Among those present were Mrs. A. Joy, San Francisco, California, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bolen, Vancouver, Washington, Misses Annette Joy, Clara Bolen, Georgia Wassam and Merwin Whiter all of Portland. Mrs. Joy was especially pleased with Newberg and the surrounding country. She says the scenery of California cannot compare with Oregon scenery.

C. D. Childs and family, from Rockwell City, Iowa, arrived at Springbrook the first of the week and are located for the present in the Zimri Mills property. He is a brother-in-law of Rev. Carl F. Miller, of Springbrook. He followed merchandising in Rockwell and also published a paper there for a number of years. An invitation has been extended to him to come in and get a smell of printer's ink at any time in case of an attack of loneliness.

In a letter recently received by friends here in Newberg from Mrs. S. P. Van Dyke she said that they arrived safely at Grand Junction, Colorado, on July 16; just one month after they had left Newberg. They were both well and enjoying their trip. They spent some time among the wonderful sights in Yellowstone National Park. She said they had traveled over some fine roads, but had found some that were nearly impassable, and that required the constant use by the driver of both eyes, both hands and both feet to negotiate them safely. They have traveled 2,000 miles since leaving Newberg.

At a meeting of the college board held Monday evening, President Levi T. Pennington was granted a leave of absence for a year, in order to enable him to accept the position as director of the forward movement which is being inaugurated by the executive committee of the Five Years Meeting of Friends church. He left here the following morning for Richmond, Indiana, where he will take an active part on the program at a young people's conference, after which he will attend North Carolina Yearly Meeting at Guilford College. It is likely he will return here in August to attend a young people's conference which will be held on the college campus in Newberg. An acting president has not yet been elected for Pacific College, but Prof. F. W. Pershio will look after the various interests of the institution incident to the new year, beginning as soon as he returns from Eugene where he has been attending Summer School at the State University.

After being closed since last Sunday on account of Chautauqua, the Gospel tent will open again Friday evening, July 25, at 8 p. m. Evangelist A. R. Bell promises another most interesting series of Bible lectures.

The Women's Legislative Council will meet in regular session on next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the library. All members are urged to be present as there is important business to be transacted. By order of the President.

On Wednesday morning the few rolls of thunder that came from over, spreading clouds frightened a dog so that he slipped off the street into the Graphic office where he remained until a streak of reassuring sunshine was to be seen. That he was a "native son" was, of course, unquestioned.

J. F. Fulton, who is the proprietor of a grocery store at 273 Broadway, Portland, and who recently traded for the Braden property on Main street, was a caller at the Graphic office a few days ago. He lived at LaFayette at one time and says he knows Newberg so well and favorably that he expects to locate here as soon as he can dispose of his business in Portland.

Several hot steaming Sunday dinners were delayed in the serving last Sunday when the fire alarm called the people to a fire at the S. F. Lowe residence on the corner of Center and Hancock streets. In some unknown way the fire started in the garret but on account of its being seen early and prompt response to the call for assistance the damage done was small.

Miss Lydia Ehret, daughter of Henry Ehret, came home from Portland a couple of weeks ago where she had been employed in the Olds, Wortman & King department store, to prepare for her marriage to George Nolan, of Portland, who only recently returned from France where he served with the 148th Field Artillery. They go to Albany today where they will meet his army chaplain who will perform the marriage ceremony. An ocean voyage to Southern California is planned for a wedding tour, after which the young people will settle in a home in Portland.

Business as Usual.

Bob—Who was the handsome chap I saw you dancing with just after the intermission?

Anne—He is a stranger in town.

Bob—Dashing, isn't he?

Anne—Nerviest fellow I've ever seen.

Bob—I noticed he had his arm rather tightly about you.

Anne—I didn't mind that so much.

Bob—What then?

Anne—Do you know why he had me clutched that way?

Bob—Can't imagine.

Anne—Well, would you believe it, he had me that way so I couldn't escape, and all the time we were dancing he was trying to sell me some life insurance.

Before and After.

They were both suffragists—one very pretty and young and the other much older. The older one voiced her views very emphatically for the younger one's benefit. "I think it's very impractical for women to get married before they are thirty-five," she said. The young suffragist retorted instantly, "Yes, and I think it's very impractical for them to get married after they are thirty-five."
