

Locals and Personals

The Mrs. Hoots place out at Springbrook has been rented to a Portland man named Owen.

D. C. Rogers, wholesale lumber dealer of Portland, was a business visitor in Newberg this week.

D. B. Smith, who formerly owned a small place in the northwest part of town, was out from Portland the first of the week.

Rev. Homer L. Cox came out from Portland Wednesday afternoon to attend the revival services being held at Friends church.

Mrs. Robert Patterson has been out from Blaine during the week visiting with her parents, the Forkners, and with other relatives.

Ed McKern, who spent the holiday season visiting relatives and friends here, left for his home at Mabton, Washington, the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Crews, of Laurel, came by way of Newberg last Saturday when making a trip to Portland to spend a few days with friends in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Edwards have returned from their visit in Indiana, coming by the Northern Pacific instead of around by way of Southern California as they had intended. They are spending a few days with their son, W. F. Edwards, and family, at Vancouver, Washington, before settling down here again.

Mr. and Mrs. James Patterson, former residents of Newberg, who came out from Blaine to attend the funeral of a relative in Portland, spent the first of the week here. Mr. Patterson still has the contract for carrying the mail between Blaine and Beaver and his son, Bob, is carrier for this winter.

Cash Carter wrote home recently that he expected to see some of the historic spots of the old country, including the city of Rome, before he sailed from France on the homeward journey, but his father, Rev. Fred E. Carter, says he takes the story as an effort to sidetrack them and enable him to give them a surprise on his return which they expect at an early day.

Sheriff Henderson was down from the county seat Monday wearing a winter cap.

Miss Leona Curtis has accepted a position as bookkeeper with the Larkin-Prince Hardware Co.

L. E. Brouwer went to Newport the first of the week on business, where he lived for several years.

S. M. Calkins & Sons made a trip to Sheridan the first of the week where they sold three Oldsmobile trucks and one auto to the Graves Canning Co.

Mrs. Cynthia A. Vancil, aged 58 years, died at her home out west of Newberg Wednesday evening, leaving a husband and several children. The body is being prepared at the Hodson & Elliott undertaking parlors for shipment to Portland for burial.

In speaking of the high prices at which farm land is selling, Jesse Edwards, who is just home from an extended visit in Indiana, said he thought prices were out of reasonable reach here in Oregon when he went away, but he found land prices soaring in Indiana when he reached there. He cited an instance where an Iowa farmer sold out at $500 an acre and on going to Elwood, Indiana, jumped at a chance to buy a good corn farm at $325 an acre.

Attorney Milo C. King, of Gresham, came over Tuesday for a visit with his former Kansas friend, W. W. Colby, he having been a teacher in Kansas when Mr. Colby was county school superintendent. Mr. King is getting in a word, as opportunity affords, for his former college mate, Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, candidate for the republican nomination for president. They are graduates of the Iowa State University and Mr. King is enthusiastic in his praise of Lowden as a forceful, energetic man of affairs and he thinks he is the only one for president. He expects to devote a good deal of time in the interval before the date of the primary election visiting the smaller towns and cities of Oregon telling the people about Mr. Lowden and his candidacy.

"What Must I Do to Be Saved"

Revival Meetings
Friends Church each evening at 7:30. Come!

L. Ederer is moving with his family to 900 Milwaukie street, Portland.

The woman's home missionary society will occupy the pulpit at Dundee next Sunday at 11 o'clock in the morning.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Johnson, who spent two months or more here, left last week for their home at Iowa Falls, Iowa.

Mr. S. J. Madson went to McMinnville Tuesday for a visit at the home of her brother, C. B. Wilson, county clerk.

Mrs. Adelard Barrell, who spent several days here visiting her father, Abe Cooke, left for her home at Grants Pass on Tuesday.

Miss Pearl Moulds, of Petalich, Idaho, a former student in Pacific College, was here the latter part of last week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Henry Allen.

A. L. Gubser, brother-in-law of Fred Hutchens, who is yard foreman at the Inman-Paulsen mill in Portland, was out here on business the first of the week.

Ralph Dobbins, son of Levi Dobbins, died at an early hour Wednesday morning. Funeral services were held at the Christian church at 2 o'clock p. m. today.

D. E. Albright is moving to the farm below Dayton in the forks of the Yamhill and Willamette rivers, which he bought a short time ago. He grew up in Wabash county, Indiana, but has been on the coast for several years; ten of which he spent at Los Angeles.

Cicero A. Marr, who had been confined to his home for some time, with cancer of the bladder, died Tuesday evening, aged 66 years. He leaves a wife and one daughter, Mrs. Mamie Willis. Funeral services will be conducted at Friends church on Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

M. O. Evans, formerly of O. A. C., who was in Newberg Wednesday evening arranging for a meeting to be held at Springbrook in the interest of the Oregon Growers' Co-operative Association, said he had found in his travels about the state that the injury done by the extreme cold last month was spotted. In some sections he says little damage to fruit and walnut trees was shown, while in others it was more apparent. The most damage noted is in the low lands below Salem where trees were late in ripening up and were caught with some of the sap up. Berry vines were greatly protected by the heavy snow.

E. F. Green says that when he was in Portland recently he called on the officials of the Portland Gas Co. to inquire about the possibility of getting the company interested in piping gas out this way and on to the county seat. He found them not only willing but anxious to discuss the matter with him and he feels sure that if Newberg and McMinnville will get in and work for the proposition it may be worked through at an early day. The pipe line out to Hillsboro and Forest Grove is said by the gas company to have been patronized already away beyond their expectations. Many families, they say, are using gas for heating their houses.

Fred Clemenson, who is driving one of the Lichtenhaler trucks, had an experience a few days ago that he does not care to have repeated. On coming out from Portland with a load of freight he stopped on the streets of Sherwood with 400 pounds of giant powder and a like amount of black powder, which he was to deliver to a Sherwood party. He lighted a cigar as he stepped from the truck and on looking back after he had gone a few steps he saw that the match he dropped had ignited some oil and gasoline immediately under the machine, which was gaining rapidly in volume. He ran back to the truck, gave the crank a twist, which, happily, responded at the first turn, and jumping the seat he turned on the power and ran the truck to a safe distance, after which he breathed much easier, but he says no more hauling of high explosives for him.

Jesse Hobson and J. A. George were out from Portland on business today.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Morgan, of Chehalis Center, on Monday a daughter.

Miss Eva L. Ferree, of Salem, was a week end visitor at the S. E. Winchester home.

Glenn H. Sanders was here from Moscow, Idaho, last week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Sanders.

Mrs. McConnell returned to her home at Centralia, Washington, after a visit here of several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bixby.

G. S. Young, of Chehalis Center, who has been suffering for the past three weeks with pneumonia, is improving but is still under the care of Dr. Rankin and a nurse.

J. B. Rowan, who was living on Illinois street, has moved to a ranch located on the Mt. Hood road at Sandy, some 25 miles east of Gresham, which he recently bought.

Henry Craw has bought the Andrews place adjoining his home which now gives him twelve acres. He figures on devoting his time to poultry and berries and thinks he will set the Andrews tract of two acres to evergreen blackberries.

Ray Dunlap, who has been in Uncle Sam's service on the island of Cuba, and others of the West Indies, for some time, arrived home Saturday, giving his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dunlap, quite a surprise, as they were not expecting him.

In the basket ball game played on last Friday night between the Albany College and Pacific College teams on the home floor the score was 21 to 15 in favor of the home team, which with the exception of Elliott and Colcord, was made up of new material.

R. M. Sanders came in from Bend the latter part of last week for a visit with his brother who was here from Idaho, and also in connection with the sale of his residence property on the corner of Blaine and Hancock streets to E. E. Blaylock, of Newberg.

Johnny Morgan came in this, Thursday, morning from his farm at Three Hills, near Calgary, Alberta, for a month's visit with his brother, G. I. Morgan, who lives out north of town, and his brother-in-law, Bud Galloway, and other Newberg friends. "Jack" says he made good money on his crops last season and has purchased more land and equipment for next season. He read in the Calgary papers of the severe cold weather we had in the Willamette Valley.

SEE VALUE OF MOTOR TRUCK

French Business Men Realize That Their System of Freight Transportation is Obsolete.

That the war brought to France an object lesson in the utility of the motortruck as a means of freight transportation appears in plans now under way to develop a long haul system. It is hoped thereby to quicken the movement of goods and lessen the impatience of various business interests with the slowness of railway and waterway traffic. The practicability of the motortruck as a freight carrier was a revelation to Frenchmen of business who had depended in normal times on what would be held an abnormally slow service. From Havre to Paris by boat means often a journey of at least three months, and at the quickest, which requires special arrangement with the government, takes about four weeks. Commenting on railroad transportation between Paris and the seaports, a Paris business man is reported as saying that from Havre one must expect a delay of one or two months, from Bordeaux a delay of two or three months, and that "when goods for Paris reach Marseilles they stay there." The humorous exaggeration illustrates the condition which is turning Frenchmen to the hopeful project of long hauls by motortrucks, a solution which will probably develop because the nation is already provided with excellent roads.

TOWN GIRLS TO HAVE Y. W. C. A.

Association Maintains 52 Town Secretaries—Wants to Expand Work at Once.

"During the war girls all over the world had their first lesson in nation wide and world wide thinking," says Miss Mabel Head, director of Town and Country Work for the National Y. W. C. A.

"Girls learned something of the inspiration of working with hundreds and hundreds of other girls, unselfishly and unstintingly, through Red Cross work. Now the Y. W. C. A., through its world wide program of service for women, is planning to expand its work so that girls all over the world, and particularly in smaller communities, will not lose this experience. "Citizenship forums are being organized for girls in small communities, where girls may come together to learn more about their country and their responsibility to it and as citizens of the world.

"Reading courses have been planned at National Headquarters in New York so that a girl in any community may carry on a course of study, either by herself or with other girls, on a wide variety of subjects.

"The Y. W. C. A. has at present thirty-nine secretaries doing county work. This means that they travel about from one community to another helping girls to plan out social, recreational, educational and religious activities, for themselves and organizing them to carry on these activities. These secretaries work with the county agents of the Department of Agriculture in carrying on home economics work. They help plan pageants, arrange benefits, assist the girls in going to Y. W. C. A. summer conferences and help plan all sorts of social good times for the community."
