

Locals and Personals

An infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Warner died January 4.

Miss Louise Austin was down from Albany the latter part of last week visiting with relatives.

Robert Forsyth was out from Portland the first of the week visiting with Abe Cooke, west of town.

The college auxiliary will meet Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the S. M. Calkins home on South College street.

Mrs. Ella Lengellier, who spent several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Mitchell, at Tacoma, has returned to Newberg.

The store room occupied by the Vincent grocery is being divided by a partition and the east room has been leased to J. T. Church, a new man in town, who will put in a candy manufacturing plant and confectionery.

Russell Rowe, the only son of Newton V. Rowe, was run down by an automobile in McMinnville on Tuesday, and fatally injured, dying a few hours later. The Rowes moved from here to McMinnville a month ago. Funeral will be from the Baptist church, McMinnville, this, Thursday, afternoon at 2 o'clock.

J. C. Smith, who came to Carlton from Oklahoma last fall and who has been occupying the Baptist Manse, has bought the Ebbert farm of sixty-three acres near Newberg and will move on to it very shortly. Mr. Smith considers that he has made an excellent deal. There is a very large bearing prune orchard on the farm, and a prune dryer is included in the buildings on the place. The farm is about nine miles from Carlton and five miles from Newberg. Mr. Smith is expecting the arrival of his son from Oklahoma at an early date to help him handle the work on the farm, and while Mrs. Smith and he will go out to the farm, their daughter and her husband, who arrived in Oregon from the east about a month ago, will remain as tenants of the manse with the younger members of the family who are attending school here.—Carlton Sentinel.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Curtis, of Caldwell, Idaho, are in Newberg for a visit with his brother, Frank W. Curtis, and family.

Miss Marie Hanson, of the Portland public library, and Mrs. Florence Eves, of Rex, were callers at the Graphic office Monday.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis, on January 15, a son, Harold Jr., this being a second son, making a working team in the family.

Floyd Parker, who went to La Grande to assist his brother, W. S., in the department store during the holiday rush, has returned to Newberg.

Orville Smith, proprietor of the Newberg Restaurant, has been seriously sick for the past week with rheumatism but is said to be improving.

J. D. Gordon noted in the Graphic last week that Wm. Bell was advertising a cow for sale and he lost no time in coming from his place at Metzger, on the Oregon Electric, and making the purchase. It is risky to advertise a cow these days that you are loath to part with.

Rev. Virgil Fennell, traveling Sunday school worker of the Brethren church, will conduct a Sunday school institute at the Brethren church in Newberg, February 9 and 10, with illustrated lectures in the evening. Rev. Fennell is an interesting talker and a cordial invitation is extended to all to hear him at these services.

Our fellow townsman, J. L. Marshall, says he knew Governor Lowden in Hardin county, Iowa, when he was a young man and that he watched his progress with a great degree of interest, from the time he entered Penn College, as a student. He says he was a studious, exemplary young man and that his rise was rapid after his education was completed and he went to Chicago to engage in the practice of law. Mr. Marshall thinks the republican party will make no mistake, should he be nominated for president for he has full faith in his ability to fill the great office with credit to himself and the country.

Mrs. Mary C. Welch is visiting in Portland with her brother, N. C. Maris, and family.

The Woman's Legislative Council will meet Monday afternoon at 2:30 at the public library.

C. H. Saunders is located at 201 North Main street where he will do metal plating and polishing of all kinds.

Mrs. O. P. Taylor and her little granddaughter, Bettie Bands, of Seattle, are here visiting during the week at the J. T. Taylor home on North Meridian street.

Miss Sally Beck, census enumerator, says that anyone who may be missed in the count in Newberg may leave their names and street address at the Graphic office and they will be counted.

The Civic Improvement Club and Wednesday Club will give their annual Scholarship Loan Fund tea at the Commercial Club rooms Wednesday, January 28, from 2 to 5 o'clock. You are cordially invited to be present.

Will Rees will go to his former home in Indiana for a visit with relatives and for needed rest on account of ill health and during the interval Mrs. Rees will make her home in Portland.

Zimri Ellis, son of Enos Ellis, and Miss Kathleen Annita Chinn, of Dayton, were married at McMinnville on last Saturday. The young people will begin housekeeping in the Jackson property on Main street.

Mrs. Woolworth has sold her residence property located on the corner of North Meridian and Sheridan streets and is planning to move to Portland. She sold at a good advance over the price paid a year ago.

Mrs. Mary E. Bankson has returned from Corvallis and is located in the second cottage north of the Anderson Motor Co. store on North Meridian street. She is in much better health than she was when she went away.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Parker, who have been spending their time at the Turner farm for the past few weeks, are here arranging their household affairs with a view of continuing their stay on the farm for some time, where L. M. says he expects to forward some improvement work on the place.

State Forester and Mrs. Elliott, of Salem, stopped over here Monday when on their way home from Forest Grove where they went to see their son, John, who is located there in the garage business with another young man named Tallman. They are agents for the Cole, Chevrolet and Reo machines and also handle automobile accessories.

E. A. Ellis has bought of Dan E. Balch the building on the northwest corner of First and Main streets, now occupied by George Hardwick with his second hand stock, which he will convert into a headquarters for his auto jitney business and in addition will put in an auto repair shop. He says he will get busy with his plans just as soon as he can get possession.

George Howland will have charge of the work on the new addition to the cannery which will cost $35,000 to $45,000. He will work a large force of men, twenty-five or more at times, as the job must be completed early in May in order to be out of the way for the opening of the season's run. The underdrainage at the plant is such that excavation work can be carried on during wet weather, if necessary.

J. L. Haworth has been making maple syrup out at his Springbrook home and he brought in a sample as proof of the quality which proved to be O. K. He says he tapped a few young trees at his place during the freezing and thawing weather and got a good flow of sap which he boiled down in a big kettle, making five gallons of table syrup. After taking a look at the big maple trees in the vicinity of the Friends church on South College street he estimated that fifty gallons of syrup might have been made from the sap had these trees been tapped early. The flow now, he says, is not as good as it was a short time ago. With the present price of sugar 'tis sweet to even think of maple syrup.

John U. Smith has completed his work as census enumerator for the West Chehalis district and he says his long legs were just the thing in carrying him over the Chehalis Mountain section, where he cut across the country afoot, being directed to farm houses by the crowing roosters when his pocket compass failed to point in the direction he thought he ought to go to find a streak of light in the woods. He says also that he found an intelligent class of people blessed with large families and many milk cows, and was given good beds to sleep in and a kindly welcome around open fires at night. He has a call to go to the Gales Creek district in Washington county to assist in completing the enumeration there.

Mrs. Walter Ricks is out from Portland visiting Mrs. I. W. Hill and Miss Carrie Allen.

The Pacific College basketball team has a game billed for Saturday night on the home floor, the North Pacific Dental College team being the contenders.

The sale of the M. D. Ebbert farm of 63 acres in West Chehalis is noted in an item taken from the Carlton Sentinel. The selling price is said to have been $25,000.

S. J. Madson has gone back to first principles, in fact as well as in name, for he is again doing "day-light saving" out on the Madson farm where he was brought up.

Mrs. C. H. Natwick has been here from Medford during the past week visiting her daughter, Miss Orbie, who has a position as bookkeeper with the Yamhill Electric Co.

The American Legion team has a double header basketball game scheduled for Friday night at the high school gym, the outside contending parties being Corvallis and Vancouver.

Rev. Clarkson Hinshaw had planned to go to Greenleaf, Idaho, this week to begin a series of special meetings but it has been called off on account of the prevalence of a number of contagious diseases that are gripping that community.

August Schaad, in company with his son, Fred, his brother-in-law, G. W. Bartruff, of Eustis, Nebraska, and another Nebraska man, have gone to Newport for a view of the Pacific. Mr. Bartruff came out from Nebraska to take his mother back with him, she having been here for some time visiting her daughter, Mrs. August Schaad.

Word comes from Cornell that Prof. Ralph W. Rees was married on last Friday to Miss Norma Anderson, the ceremony being performed in the University chapel at 4 o'clock p. m. Miss Anderson comes from an old Virginia family, is a graduate of O. A. C. and has been doing laboratory work in Cornell University. The groom is the eldest son of J. H. Rees. He graduated from Pacific College in 1907 and later from O. A. C. where he taught for several years following his graduation. He is making good at Cornell and is recognized as a leading authority in horticulture.

The choir of the Baptist church will render on Sunday evening at 7:30 sharp their fourth musical service. This choir under the direction of W. Y. Arthur has been giving the last Sunday evening of each month to the musical end of the Christian work, and singing the anthems and solos that are dear to many of us. The choir has been singing at these services in order to show the beautiful works of music that have been written, bearing on the Scripture. The program for Sunday evening is very attractive in all details and "The King of Love My Shepherd Is" by Harry Rowe Shelly, has a theme that one will remember in years to come. Mr. Arthur will sing as the offertory Dudley Buck's "Fear Ye Not, O Israel." The male quartet that has been organized will sing that old time melody, "Am I a Soldier of the Cross," with the Hallelujah refrain.
