

WON FAME AS ADMINISTRATOR

Mr. William Macgregor Will Long Be Remembered for His Good Work in West Africa.

Sir William Macgregor was not the least of the bits of good luck which this empire owes to the Scottish strain of it. In the far-sundered areas of West Africa and the Western Pacific he achieved distinction which will not pass.

The world knew more of him as Pacific high commissioner than as governor of Lagos, but to many Europeans in West Africa, and to those folk of long memories, the African races, he will always be Macgregor of Lagos, the pioneer sanitarian who began processes which have made Lagos a place livable for the European and more livable than ever before to its teeming African population.

The pedant may say that "circumstances" scarcely applies where the benefactor has only cleansed air and roads and purified water sources; nevertheless, to no man could it be attacked more fully than to Macgregor for his work in that steady hive of activity. The natives had a real affection for him, for they knew he believed in them, and Africans, like most other sons of Adam, esteem that even above good drains and pure water. He had a very clear appreciation of the terrible danger of German rule in the tropics just because of its thoroughness.

There are endless stories of him on the coast. One is of an official who, after a tour in the bush, told the governor of an exceptional juju he had seen—"exactly like a human being, sir, only, of course, of wood."

"None so exceptional," Macgregor remarked, and followed it up with a chuckling soliloquy, "I've seen some in the ser-vice."—Manchester Guardian.

PLENTY OF ROOM IN TRUNK

Small Receipts Once Sufficed to Carry All the Worldly Goods of Noted New Englander.

Following the discovery, not long ago, of an interesting old trunk in which Daniel Webster carried his legal papers comes the finding of another old trunk that George Nixon Briggs, a former governor of Massachusetts, carried on his back when he pilgrimaged from the town of Hudson, N. Y., to Adams, Mass., there to begin studying law. Governor Briggs has not remained so fixed in memory as Daniel Webster, but he was a famous man in his time, and is interesting today because at the national temperance convention in 1832 he took a stand for total abstinence. Later, as president of the Massachusetts Legislative Temperance society, he marched in procession through the streets of Boston, although on this occasion there is no record that he carried his trunk.

The trunk, incidentally, is one of the little ones common a hundred years ago, and Governor Briggs in later years repaired it, and affixed a card telling how he had brought it with him to Massachusetts. "It contained," he wrote, "my entire worldly estate, all of which was not worth $10."—Christian Science Monitor.

"Mugwump"

The modern word mugwump is derived from the Algonquin "mugquomp," meaning a great man, a chief, and is said to have been used among the Indians and whites of Massachusetts and Connecticut in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. The word was later used in a humorous, or satirical sense, and was applied to a person who thought himself of consequence and importance. In this sense the word was long in local use and often appeared in print. In U. S. political history the term was first applied in 1834 to the independent members of the Republican party who openly refused to support the nominees of the party for president of the United States, and either voted for the Democratic or Prohibition party or abstained from voting. The word was not generally known in any sense before that time, but it caught the popular fancy and was at once accepted by the independents themselves as an honorable title.

Thirst and Starvation!

The thing most likely to bring your battery to an untimely end is THIRST. The prevention is so easy no motorman should neglect it. Look at your battery YOURSELF, once in two weeks, put distilled water in to fill one half inch above the plates.

The other great enemy of battery life is STARVATION, and is less understood by the average motorist. To keep in good health, your battery must be supplied, by the generator, with electricity at all times, for lights, starter and ignition.

YOU CAN'T TAKE OUT MORE THAN YOU PUT IN OR YOU'LL HAVE A STARVED BATTERY.

Advise with us, it will cost you nothing for testing and distilled water. We make repairs promptly. A service battery for you while yours is being charged.

Bean Power Sprayers

Have now reached such tremendous national sale that the manufacturers are the first to carry full page space in the Saturday Evening Post and Country Gentleman. Read this advertisement which will appear in these publications, issue of January 10th, 1920. You cannot afford to use any other than the Bean Power Sprayer.

John Bean, Inventor
He Showed the Way in 1883 to Save Millions of Fruit Trees from Pests

The 36-Year Development
The 1920 Bean Power Sprayer Different from Others in Money Saving Ways.

IN 1883, John Bean, inventor of the double-acting force pump for well purposes, owned a fruit orchard near San Jose, California. His trees were suffering from San Jose Scale, imported from China, unwittingly by James Lick Observatory fame, and the primitive spray pumps of the time were inadequate. He saw the need for more efficient spraying, and his inventive genius soon had worked out the first high pressure spray pump with air chamber. Success was instantaneous. Requests from friends soon induced him to manufacture the machine. The result was that millions of California fruit trees were quickly saved from pests that had blighted many yields.

The third generation of the family are the active manufacturers of "BEAN" Power Sprayers today. And the present machine—a family pride—still retains John Bean's basic principles. TODAY, wherever men have ten acres of fruit or more, you will almost invariably find power sprayers of which the famous "BEAN" was the forerunner and remains the leader. San Jose Scale is now practically unknown in California where more "BEAN" Sprayers are used than all other makes combined. Many of the country's greatest orchards are now equipped with "BEAN" Power Sprayers exclusively. For the "BEAN," the pioneer in 1883, is the world's leading sprayer now.

In the Matter of the Guardianship of the Estate of James Lloyd Sawyer and Show Paulmer Burtress Sawyer, Gause minors

On this, the 7th day of January, 1920, come L. N. Sawyer and S. L. Parrett and present their verified petition in due form, showing that James Lloyd Sawyer and Paulmer Burtress Sawyer are minors and reside with their father at Monument in the state of Kansas; and that they own in fee real property situated in Yamhill County, State of Oregon, that needs the care and attention of a guardian, and that their said property is of the probable value of $1,000.00, and that they have no guardian of their estate in the state of Oregon; and praying this Court to appoint the petitioner, S. L. Parrett, a resident of this county and state, guardian of the said estate of said minors located in this county and state; and it appearing to the Court proper so to do: It is, therefore, ordered by this Court that said petition for the appointment of said guardian for said estate of said minors be heard by this Court at the usual place of holding this Court in the court house in McMinnville, in Yamhill County, Oregon, on Saturday, the 14th day of February, 1920, at eleven o'clock A. M. of said day, and that all persons interested in this proceeding or in said minors or in their said estate are hereby required to be and appear at the time and place appointed for hearing said petition and then and there show cause, if any they have, why said S. L. Parrett should not be appointed guardian of the said estate of said minors situated in this county and state in accordance with the prayer of said petition, and, in order to give due notice of said hearing to all persons interested in this matter, it is ordered that a copy of this order be published once a week for four successive weeks prior to the time for said hearing in the Newberg Graphic, a newspaper of general circulation, published in this county.

Are Your Teeth Bothering You?
Nearly everybody has something the matter with the teeth, but keeps on postponing a visit to the dentist. Some people are afraid of pain, some afraid of the price, and some don't want to lose the time. All these people should know about the Registered Dentists using the E. R. Parker System. First, there is no fear of pain when dental work is done under the E. R. Parker System. Second, the prices are moderate, and every patient is guaranteed full satisfaction. Third, fewer visits are required, and out-of-town visitors are given special attention, so they need not call so often. If your teeth are bothering you, remember that the longer you neglect them, the more you suffer and the more it will cost you in the end. There are twenty-four E. R. Parker System offices in different cities, the nearest office being at PORTLAND, OREGON.

Build It Now
Both labor and materials are available once more and a great deal of government building, state work and factory construction already is under way. Measure the sensible way—framing, siding, trim, doors, shingles and Beaver Board—the manufactured lumber, knotless and crackless—for the walls and ceilings. Speak to us about it today.
