

Fred McCrea is out from Portland visiting his mother.

Mrs. Charles Scott has been down from Salem during the week visiting with friends.

The grand jury indicted John C. Peterson on two charges, one for forgery and the other for larceny, and his trial is set for next Monday. He will be defended by Brownell, of Oregon City, and Klika, of McMinnville.

The Misses Barbara Morris and Fern Sherlock were over Sunday visitors in Portland.

D. P. Strait, recently deceased, left a will in which he named his son, F. L. Strait, as his executor.

Rev. George F. Round was called to Myrtle Creek two weeks ago on account of the serious illness of a daughter and Mrs. Round went last week. They returned today, the daughter being much improved.

Axum Newby was visited by a former Iowa friend named John Baldwin last week.

Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Moses, formerly of Scio, are here and are closing a deal for a home.

Mrs. B. E. Herrick was over from Carlton last Saturday visiting her sister, Mrs. J. B. Mount.

Mrs. R. W. Lee was out from Portland the first of the week visiting Mrs. Wm. Paxson.

Rev. Fred E. Carter went to Portland Monday to attend an official church board meeting.

The prospects for "Bill the plumber" becoming a family man appear to be brightening since he has bought the Laurel Cottage property.

George L. Kely, foreman of the grand jury, was on duty at McMinnville for a couple days the first of the week. J. C. Colcord and Dr. Davis were in attendance as trial jurors.

Wm. Cordier has sold his 18-acre tract out at the foot of Chehalis Mountain to Wm. Schaad.

Mrs. Doris Hill was out from Portland last Sunday for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Arlie Evans.

Wallace H. Lee, president of Albany College, will preach both morning and evening at the Presbyterian church next Sunday, February 8.

James Soper has rented the front part of the store room adjoining the Newberg Feed Store and is fitting it up for a stock of wall paper and paints which he will carry.

C. L. Tuffley, who owned the bungalow on Fifth street built by Joe Hollingsworth, has sold out and will return to his former home in Montana where he owns a ranch.

S. B. Hutchinson and daughter, Miss Margaret, of Logan, Montana, brother-in-law and niece of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Pyle, are here on a visit of a few weeks before going to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Parker have gone to Turner to remain on the farm during the season and it is expected that Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Parker will return to their home in Newberg.

The body of Wm. F. Cray, aged 51 years, who died the first of the week on the Sykes place across the river near St. Paul, was prepared for shipment to Fairview, Montana, by the W. W. Hollingsworth Co.

On Friday night the Pacific College team will play Philomath College a game of basket ball on the home floor and on Saturday night they will go to Portland to play the North Pacific Dental College team.

Dr. Daniels, who was compelled to give up his chiropractic practice here a year or more ago, has returned and has associated himself with Dr. M. Adell Gochnour, the new firm name being Drs. Gochnour & Daniels.

Rev. W. P. Mulheron, who is making his home with his daughter, Mrs. H. C. Paulsen, on South College street, will be 90 years old March 14 should he survive that length of time, which seems doubtful, as he has been falling rapidly for several days.

Frank Zumwalt has returned from a stay of three weeks on his Polk county farm where he chased the hens for extra cackles while he awaited the swelling of the fruit buds in the big prune orchard—prospecting for the coming crop year.

Oliver F. Kilham, director of agriculture at the high school, is feeling about as frisky as a spring colt turned out in the back pasture lot—it is a boy, the first born, with all the earmarks of a farmer's son, and he showed up at the Kilham home at an early hour today.

C. J. Edwards, who was out from Tillamook last Saturday, said the Coast Power Co., of which he is the head, was rushed to keep up with the orders received for electric lights and power. He now has reliable help, with both his son, Lloyd, and Clarence Coe on the job.

Mr. Jones, who bought the Perkins property just west of Newberg, has sold that and bought the J. C. Pope three-acre tract on West First street for $2,500. Mrs. Pope has since bought the Mrs. Barbara Austin property on the corner of Center and Second streets for $1,000.

Clarence Klenle, who has a position in a music store in Portland and who was out over Sunday, said the demand was so great for the standard makes of talking machines, such as the Victor and Edison, that it was next to impossible to get them from the factories to fill orders.

C. B. Spencer, recently from Lebanon, is the new manager at the cannery, a fact the Graphic might have announced two weeks ago, but for the request made that the news be withheld at that time. D. J. Matthews, who has been the manager, has been promoted and will have the general management of all the plants owned by the A. Rupert Co., Inc.

"Bill" Beneke plead guilty to the charge of purloining articles from the Parlor Pharmacy, as stated last week, and was sentenced to serve six months in the county jail by Judge Belt. On Wednesday morning, following the sentence, he made an attempt to commit suicide in the county jail by choking himself with a necktie, according to a news note in the Oregonian.

J. H. Lewis, a resident of Newport, has been in Newberg during the week looking up a real estate exchange, hoping to find some one who has property here to trade for property in Newport.

Pres. Levi T. Pennington, who is out from Richmond, Indiana, heading a flying squadron that is working in the interest of the Forward Movement in the Friends church, is in Salem and is expected to spend a part of Friday in Newberg.

Jack Ray, who formerly was in the employ of McCoy Bros. Auto Co., has accepted a position with the Western Motor Co., First and Edwards streets. He says that most of his time will be spent on the road, selling Fords and Fordson tractors.

A very successful two days' Forward Movement conference is being held at the Friends church, with sessions in the forenoon and afternoon and again at night. The speakers are Rev. Edgar H. Stranahan, of Oskaloosa, Iowa, and Rev. Arthur Wollam, of Wichita, Kansas.

H. Gould, from the Siletz country, who was driving a car on First street Monday, failed to see the signal for the approach of the Spaulding switch train, on account of being blind in one eye, and consequently bumped into the engine. He received some bruises and the car was partially disabled.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Taylor and son, Douglas, took passage on the steamer Rost City at Portland Wednesday for San Francisco. They shipped the Ford and will use it in California while there and return in it when the roads improve in the spring. They will visit their son-in-law, J. R. McKillop, and family, at St. Helena, first and later will go to Whittier to spend considerable time with relatives.

Mrs. Annie E. Kinsey, of Payette, Idaho, spent several days recently at the J. W. Cherry home. She was so much impressed with Newberg that she bought the Wm. Tyndall property on North Meridian street. She left Monday evening for her home at Payette to superintend the shipping of her household effects. She and her family accompanied by two other families will soon return to take up their abode in Newberg.

Information was received here a few days ago of the death of Mrs. Bruce Douglas, which occurred in Chicago, resulting from pneumonia following the influenza. The deceased was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Kelsey and was a student in Pacific College while her father was its president. Her mother, who attended her in her sickness, had the influenza and also Mr. Douglas and the baby, but they are reported to be recovering. Mr. Douglas has been taking a course in medicine in Chicago.
