ALL ABOARD FOR McMinnville NEXT WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Dr. E. H. Utter, coach for the Newberg American Legion basketball team, is putting on the finishing touches. Obligated and bound by reason of a solemn oath, he swears that he will dictate the obituary of the Multnomah Guards when the two clans meet in mortal combat at McMinnville's large auditorium Wednesday night, March 24. Each team has fought its way to the highest pinnacle of success this season and seeks on a neutral floor to eliminate the other and thus lay hold to the coveted independent championship of the state.
Two members of the board of directors of the Multnomah Guards were in Newberg Wednesday and conferred with the management of the Legion team. Plans were completed to give such character and prominence to this game that it will long be remembered by the fans who

Cut the cost of raising your calves

Blatchford's CALF MEAL

BY raising your calves on Blatchford's Calf Meal you can save both milk and money. You can save milk because every pound of Blatchford's Calf Meal makes a full gallon of pure, rich milk-substitute—a milk-substitute which contains all the nutritive and growth-producing properties the calf requires. You can save money because at present market prices a gallon of milk sells for three to four times the retail cost of a pound of calf meal.

We handle, recommend and guarantee it will be privileged to witness the same.

News articles have been handed all the local papers in Yamhill county featuring this important contest. A special chartered train will head out of Portland which will bear the noisy rooters to the county seat.

Upon the arrival of the special in Newberg, about 7 p. m., the Portland crowd will take it for granted that we've all decided to go, judging from the throng they'll meet in the train sheds. Such has been our custom in times past but on this occasion George James will be retained at the key to keep the track clear for the venture and insure our safe return.

As for our boys, their record is clear and if plans mature they will all be attired that night in natty pure white sweaters made possible from the velvet derived in former games.

This game will be the final one in a series of three in which each team has won one game by the narrow margin of a single point, thus our fighting blood is aroused to the boiling point.

Let's go and back our team. Let's put something new in Newberg. Put some real red letters on the map.
B. B. Booster.

Many Tales Concerning Fishes.

In the "Arabian Nights" is the well-known tale of the priceless diamond which the fisherman takes from a fish and which, placed on a shelf in a cottage, gives so much light that they are saved all expenditure in oil and which, when sold, makes the family rich forever and forever. In Scandinavian myths is that of the long-lost crown, which the fishes kept down among the rocks till the real heir to the throne came a-fishing, when they rolled it into his net; in Russian, that of Ivan, who finds the all-important ring by the help of the perch—the herrings try to lift the casket to the surface, but fail, and so two dolphins came and put their shoulders to the wheel and the ring is regained.
