Mack Trimble has sold his interest in the Trimble Bros. blacksmith shop to Geo. Killin and will leave shortly for Grants Pass. Mr. Agie has rented the rear of the shop and will conduct a general wood repair work.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Beaty will go to Wheatland April 12 to attend the golden wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. William Fowler, the parents of Mrs. Beaty, who were residents of this community in their younger years.

I. W. Hill, who has been confined to his house the past three weeks with the "flu", was out with his Chevrolet last Sunday for a little recreation, but will not venture out again until the weather becomes settled. He is gaining strength rapidly.

An English gentleman named Welch, who spent four years in war relief work in France and Russia and who is now on his way home from Japan, will speak at college chapel at 10 o'clock Friday morning. Any who may desire to hear him will be welcome.

The Jingle Social held by the college auxiliary on Thursday evening of last week was quite well attended and the budding James Whitcomb Rileys were heard in rhyme, each telling how they earned a dollar for the auxiliary. It was an evening of amusement and recreation and netted some $55 in cash. President Mills, Miss Mary Johnson and Mrs. C. A. Keeney, acting as judges, awarded the honors to the ladies in preference to the men jinglers.

F. H. Griffith, who is running a tin shop at St. Johns, was in Newberg on business Monday.

Frank Hoberg was out from Portland last Sunday visiting his sister, Mrs. W. W. Nelson.

D. S. Pearson and family were down from Rosedale last Sunday visiting the son who is in college.

The Presbyterian Church is very fortunate to have Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Standish help them with the Easter Cantata Sunday Evening Apr. 4.

The choir of the Friends church will give a special Easter service in song under the direction of F. D. Frost at the Sunday morning hour.

There will be a recital on Tuesday evening April 6 at the Presbyterian Church under the direction of Miss Britt. Admission free and the public is cordially invited.

Paul Darnell, son of C. H. Darnell, who spent the winter in Newberg, left the first of the week for the Alberta country where he will take to farm work again.

Dr. H. F. Ong, who has charge of the settlement of the estate of the late Thomas Prince, deceased, was out from Portland the first of the week in company with Harold Prince.

Miss Johnson who heads the domestic science department at O. A. C. was in Newberg a couple of days last week working in the interest of the millage tax for the state schools.

The Parent-Teacher Association will meet Tuesday, April 6, at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Erazelle of Portland will speak about "Child Welfare." A large attendance of parents is desired.

George Kaufman has traded his property on Wynooki street to J. H. Lewis for residence property at Newport and he and his sister are moving over there to make that their home. Mr. Lewis will come to Newberg with his family.

Will C. Carver, a writer on the Salem Journal who is running a Hoover column in that paper, was in Newberg the latter part of last week getting material. He secured a picture of one of Hoovers ancestors and some material for a story of Mrs. M. H. Bowerman.

Posters are out announcing a play, "Her Majesty's Ship", to be given at Wood-Mar Hall on Friday night of next week by some 50 of the students of McMinnville College for the benefit of the Armenian relief fund. Tickets will be on sale at Kienle's Music Store at 55 cents.

Mrs. David W. Hazen who came out from Portland Monday to look after their ten-acre apple orchard out in West Chehalem was a caller at the Graphic office in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sargeant arrived home from their trip to San Diego, California last week.

Mrs. I. C. Quick and grandsons, Delbert and Emmett Olds, are spending the week in Tillamook.

Clarence Kienle has bought an interest in the Stanton Rowell music store at Grants Pass and is moving to that city with his family. Their many Newberg friends regret to see them go so far away but are glad to hear that the business opening is a very desirable one, the music store being the only one there.

J. G. Miller was in from his White Leghorn ranch Monday but hurried home as he remarked that with the care of his little chicks he could not get away just now long enough even to attend church. Notwithstanding the high cost of feed he says he is getting good returns from his flock.

W. N. Coffee will speak at Maupin next Sunday morning and at The Dalles in the evening. He is visiting these places as Conference Campaign manager in the interest of the financial movement of the church. His pulpit however will be filled during his absence by G. G. Edwards and E. L. Silva.

Graylle Everest, who was over from his Laurel farm Monday, was boosting for Hoover for president and said Washington County voters, irrespective of party, were freely expressing their desire for an opportunity to vote for him. He said further that farmers were well along with their work for this time in the season.

S. C. Morton, editor and publisher of the St. Helens Mist, who is traveling for the Arco Company for the sale of paints, varnishes and enamels, the headquarters of the company being at Cleveland, Ohio, was in Newberg Tuesday. The company recently established a branch office in Portland which Mr. Morton is representing.

Miss Theima Mears and Ray Grace, of Portland, were quietly married on the afternoon of March 26 in the study of the Presbyterian church. Miss Louis Smith and Carl Wagoner attended the couple. Rev. George H. Lee performed the beautiful ring ceremony. Only a few relatives and friends were present. After the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Littlefield, the latter being a cousin of the groom.

William, Gottlieb and August Schgad arrived home a few days ago from Eustis, Nebraska, where they went to attend the funeral of their sister who died of pneumonia, following an attack of the influenza. They say it is apparent that somebody along the way is making a good profit from fruit sold in Nebraska that has been shipped from Oregon since they found dried prunes being held at 35 cents a pound for the ordinary grades and 50 cents for the best grades.

A meeting called for Tuesday evening at the city hall for the purpose of organizing a Hoover club was presided over by the Graphic editor, with C. A. Hodson acting as secretary for the evening. Twenty voters signified their desire to join such a club and it was decided to call the organization "The Hoover For President Club". It was also agreed to meet on next Monday evening at the same place for permanent organization. In the meantime any who may desire to affiliate with the club may leave their names with C. A. Hodson. All Hoover boosters are invited to attend the meeting Monday night.

Howard George, who recently bought the Pickett place out at the foot of Chehalem Mountain, hid himself away to Denver where on Wednesday last week he was married to Miss Gretchen Bayer, of Chicago, who met him there. Soon after the arrival home of the newly-weds, a number of the neighbors gathered in to meet the bride and extend congratulations and a welcome to her as a new addition to the community life. Each household represented took a basket of lunch along, this adding zest and good cheer to the informal greeting. Arthur George, a brother of Howard, has bought 34 acres of J. L. Haworth and he will also locate in that neighborhood.

Prof. Walter R. Miles, who has the department of psychology in the Carnegie Institute of Boston writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Miles, that he is to be sent abroad this month to visit the long established laboratories in many of the countries of Europe, including England, France, Belgium, Norway and Sweden. He will attend a big convention of Scientists in Paris and also the Worlds Peace Conference of Friends in London, and will be gone six months. Mr. Miles was winning orator when a student in Pacific College and graduated from the college with the class of 1905. He is recognized as one of the big men among scientists in Boston and New York.
