Attorney Charles S. Easterling, of the Department of Justice at Washington, D. C., was here the latter part of last week visiting his sister, Mrs. Alice Haworth. His business is adjusting Indian land claims, which takes him pretty well all over the country. His trip to the Northwest this time took him into the State of Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bissell, of Beaver Crossing, Nebraska, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. U. S. G. Miller, left for their home on Thursday morning, going by way of Denver, where they will visit a son. Mrs. Bissell is a cousin of Mrs. Miller, and as they had not seen each other for many years, the visit proved to be a very pleasant one for both.

The Ministerial Association of Newberg met at Rev. George H. Lee's study on Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock when business was transacted as follows: Rev. Fred E. Carter and Rev. W. N. Coffey were elected as a committee on publicity for the meeting of the Interchurch World Movement to be held the evening of Monday, April 12, at Newberg. It was also decided that the Sunday evening of April 18 be given over by the churches to the promotion of the interests of Pacific College.

Judge George Bagley and his father, Wm. Bagley, of Hillsboro, were in Newberg Sunday for the first time in twenty-five years and while here called to see Charles C. Frick, the confectioner who recently came here from Hillsboro.

A Commercial Club banquet will be given at the Imperial hotel on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock to which all members are invited. Notable speakers will be in attendance toasts will be given on five subjects and orchestra music will be rendered.

W. S. Parker, of La Grande, who spent Tuesday night here with his parents, called to inquire how the college campaign for funds was coming along. Mr. Parker has been one of the best financial supporters of the college of the P. C. graduates.

A few days ago John Beals received by mail a pair of shoes to be repaired that came all the way from Fairbanks, Alaska. They were sent by a man named Wann and the postage was 48 cents. Verily, Newberg attracts trade from quite a distance from home.

The George W. Range family is moving back from the county seat to their property in the northwest part of town, the property in McMinnville they have been occupying having been sold. Mr. Range will still hold his job in the flouring mill at McMinnville.

Drivers of horseless carriages are forgetting the troubles of the past since the new bridge has been open for travel during the week. Men were put to work on the approaches at both ends of the bridge on last Saturday, laying heavy plank over the loose dirt, which answers quite well for the present.

The body of Mrs. Sarah J. Watt, the wife of W. H. Watt, who died of paralysis at St. Johns, was brought here for burial on last Monday. A short service was conducted at the cemetery by Rev. F. C. Stannard. Besides the husband the deceased left one daughter, Mrs. John Fort. For a number of years Mr. and Mrs. Watt lived on West First street.

During the long period of the war the Schaad brothers, who live out west of Newberg, heard nothing of their brother who was at the old home in Germany and they, of course, had grave doubts of ever hearing from him, but recently letters have been coming, telling that on account of physical disabilities he escaped active service, although he was drafted. He writes that there is great distress and suffering among the people.

C. W. Altman has sold his stock farm of 453 acres on the Willamette river near Dundee to H. W. Locke & Son, of Corvallis, the consideration being $75,000. Mr. Altman will hold a sale of his stock and farm equipment as noted in an advertisement which appears in the Graphic this week and will locate at Gresham for the present; though he says he desired to get a home in Newberg which he was not able to do. It is understood that the new purchasers of the farm intend to engage in dairying.

Mrs. Neal McCoy is having a tussle with the "flu."

DUNDEE

Mr. and Mrs. Raph Olmsted attended Easter services in Portland.

Mrs. F. H. Cutting and son, William, have returned from an extended visit in Illinois.

The wedding took place at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania where Miss Crawford has been engaged as an instructor in prophylactic dental work in a children's home.

Force, the bi-weekly publication of the Dundee-Martin company of Portland has in its issue of March 6th an excellent photograph of John N. Crosby, Supt. for that company of the Northern District of Oregon and Washington, and also an article on salesmanship by Mr. Crosby. John was one of our Dundee boys and his friends in this part of Oregon congratulate him on his new responsible position.

The annual stockholders' meeting of the Dundee Fruit Growers' and Packers' Association was held on Saturday, March 27. Election of directors to replace those whose term expired and the adoption of a new plan for weighing in fruit whereby floor space is gained and expense in handling is reduced, were the principal business of the meeting. Plans for a blossom festival were left in the hands of a committee.

Never before have the hearts of the Dundee people been so full of sympathy for a sorrowing family as they are at this time for Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Allan and family. James William died Monday morning, just two weeks and a day after the passing of his brother Ray. Both boys were stricken with pneumonia the last week in February. It was hoped until a few days before the last that James was on the road to recovery but a heart complication set in and he could not rally. Funeral services were held at the home at ten o'clock on Wednesday and James was laid to rest by the side of his brother in the Dundee cemetery, the double grave and its surroundings being completely hidden by a profusion of beautiful flowers, loving tributes of friends of the family. James was a genial boy and his happy disposition made him very popular among those who knew him. He had recently returned from field work in dairying in connection with the Oregon Agriculture College where he was a student.
