

THE GASOLINE SITUATION

The Necessity of Conservation

There exists today on the Pacific Coast an acute shortage of gasoline. As this Company has pointed out on several occasions, the condition is due to insufficient production of crude oil and a greatly increased consumption of gasoline by industry and by owners of pleasure cars.

Gasoline is a vital factor in the life of the community, industrially and otherwise, and it is of the greatest importance, at this juncture, that it be used with the utmost discretion, that essential requirements may be supplied.

The present is by no means the season of maximum demand, which comes later in the year. The condition, therefore, is likely to be continuing, rather than transitory.

Responsibility for meeting the situation does not rest solely upon the oil industry. The public also has a serious duty in the matter.

On its part, the Standard Oil Company is straining its resources and organization to increase the supply of gasoline. In the field it is working for the maximum production of crude oil. In the refinery it is working for the maximum production of gasoline from the crude oil and it is spending large sums of money on equipment for new processes, of its own discovery and development, whereby a still greater yield of gasoline will be obtained.

The point already has been reached where gasoline must be conserved most carefully. That is a duty of the public. In consumption of this product, essential industries must necessarily come first—pleasure utilization thereafter.

Already the Company has taken steps toward protecting the supply for the vital needs of industry which, if lessened, would affect the business life of the community. There is now the danger of a curtailment of supply to non-essentials such as pleasure cars.

The assistance of the public, therefore, is imperative. Until lately, gasoline has been abundant, and its lavish and extravagant use has been possible. That time is past.

Buy as little gasoline as possible.

Use what you must—Waste none.
