Of All Cars Use Willard Batteries

The "THREADED RUBBER" type is rapidly displacing those insulated by wood. The life of the battery is practically doubled and the extra cost is less than one-fifth, prevents short circuits and the trouble and expense occurring in all wood insulated batteries sooner or later.

WE CAN PROVE THESE STATEMENTS

Why Not Use the Best When It's Cheapest

Don't neglect your battery, it is too expensive. You can't take more out than you put in. Know that it is well charged and water covers the plate ALWAYS.
