Miss Lucile Murton, daughter of C. C. Murton, of Newberg, was one of the managers of the Reed county fair given by the co-eds of Reed College in Portland last week for the benefit of the women's fund. The woman's fair included a lot of original sideshows and exhibits, a booth where co-eds shined shoes for a nickel, and a big jitney dance where the college jazz orchestra provided music. The proceeds of the Reed county fair will be used to purchase new pianos for the women's dwelling halls.

The west approach to the new bridge caused no end of trouble for automobile drivers Sunday and Sunday night on account of the removal of the plank that were put over the dirt fill that was made. The dirt and gravel that was put on soon worked up into a "slough of despond," the wheels cutting it into deep ruts that caused the halting of many machines and consequent discomfort to the occupants during the night. Monday morning the bridge was closed again and a lot of the mud scraped out of the approach to allow for a fill of rock and brick bats which has been made.

W. H. Dean who lives out on the foot hills next to Chehalem Mountain, reports strawberries ripening, but sad to relate, he has not mentioned the sugar to go with them.

Lloyd Edwards came out Tuesday from Tillamook to attend the golden wedding celebration of his grandparents and to tell his Newberg friends about the new son, of which he is the proud father.

C. J. Edwards, of Tillamook, who represented Tillamook county in the last legislative assembly and who is a candidate for joint senator, was in Newberg the first of the week and expressed himself as being pleased with the outlook for results in his favor at the primary election Friday. Mr. Edwards grew up and was educated and began his business career in Newberg and it is but reasonable to conclude that he will get loyal support at the hands of Newberg voters.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. White motored to Portland on Wednesday to attend the wedding of Mrs. White's nephew, Deane R. Wright, and Miss Audrey Cavender. The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Wright and will be remembered by many Newberg people, having spent several years of his boyhood in this city. The bride is a charming young woman of rare attainments and beautiful character and is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Cavender, of Portland. Numerous gifts, both useful and elegant, were showered on the happy couple, betokening the high esteem in which they are held by their many friends. After the ceremony a sumptuous dinner was served. The young couple left on the 4 o'clock train for Tacoma, Washington, where Mr. Wright has a good position with the draughting department of the Port of Tacoma.

WORDS OF APPRECIATION

We want to convey to our many friends our heartfelt appreciation for their expressions of love and good will on our golden wedding anniversary. We are thankful that through the blessing of God we have so many dear friends, and ask that His richest blessings may be upon each one of you.

Jesse and Mary E. K. Edwards.

GARDENERS ATTENTION

Newberg school and home gardeners should use "Three-in-One Dust" for insects, viz: 10 per cent dry powdered arsenate of lead; 40 per cent tobacco dust; 50 per cent either powdered sulphur, air-slaked lime, or sifted ashes (sulphur preferably) well mixed together. Take 128 square piece of gunny sack, put powder in center, gather corners and shake through on plants. Buy materials from seed store. Have dealers stock it. Splendid for all insects.

Or write O. A. C., Corvallis, and ask if they have any patented "One-in-all dust for you. Practically the same.

Get it at once.
