GRADUATION DAY is GIFT DAY

YES, it is the greatest day in the life of the boy or the girl. They stand at the threshold of life, ready to assume it's greater responsibilities. Could there be a more opportune time for a gift in commemoration of this event?

Mothers and Fathers should do it as a duty. For around the gift is woven so much of unforgettable romance. Friends will do well to give Graduation Day presents—it is a sure token of deepest regard. Rings, of course, make the best gifts for this occasion. And nowadays, rings come in so many wonderful designs and patterns that there is a ring for every type of person and for every occasion. Or perhaps it is a watch—or a piece of handsome jewelry. If it be a ring, then you must surely see our line of W. W. W. Gem Set rings. We recommend them because they are fully guaranteed—which is not always true of gem set rings. If a stone is lost, the manufacturer replaces it with another. That's how sure they are of the setting. It is a thing to remember.
