BOOSTER MEETING FOR PACIFIC COLLEGE

Enthusiastic Talks Made at Wood-Mar Hall by U. S. G. Miller, W. H. Woodworth, S. L. Parrett

The meeting advertised for Monday night at Wood-Mar Hall by the business men's committee for the purpose of interesting the public in the campaign for larger funds for the college endowment, was well attended and the spirit of the meeting was all that could be asked.

By way of entertainment the young people of the M. E. church gave a pageant representing patriotic service and the progress of the United States in the past century, which was well received as was evidenced by the response given by the audience in hearty cheering throughout.

President Mills in the course of some introductory remarks cited the fact that while the site of Chicago was about as unpromising as could be at the outset, some eight or ten men like Potter Palmer had a vision of the future Chicago and they let nothing stand in the way of its progress. Said he was glad Newberg's leading business men were full of public spirit who had a vision broad enough to enable them to consider and appreciate the interests of the community as a whole, and who were ready and willing to spend their time, as busy men with their own affairs, in assisting in furthering the interests of all our industries. Pacific College, he said, would have no claims on the public if it had no vision for the future, but that since it had no apology to make for the kind of men and women it had turned out in the past and that it was now doing good work through great sacrifice on the part of its supporters, the only thing to do was to press forward and raise sufficient funds to put the college on a better financial basis.

U. S. G. Miller, chairman of the business men's committee, on being introduced said: We use all kinds of effort to get new industries located here, forgetting at times to appreciate and properly support those we already have. The cannery, the saw mill and Pacific College are three of our big institutions that are worth most to Newberg and we must stand back of the college and give it our support. La Fayette was for years the county seat of this county and later had the Evangelical College located there, but let both get away and the results have been disastrous to that well located town. Should Newberg lose Pacific College it would be a back-set that it would take years to recover from. It is not alone what money comes in from the outside through the students that helps but for those who live here a great saving may be made over sending students away to educate them. Standardization will mean much to the college by enabling it to hold students who now go away to complete their courses. Newberg will be asked to give a very substantial sum and when we make the canvass we hope the people will have their minds made up to help liberally.

W. H. Woodworth, president of the First National Bank, said he desired to endorse and emphasize what Mr. Miller had said. The cost of sending a student away from home to one of the state schools was at least $50 a month and for those who live here a substantial saving could be made by patronizing our own college. Aside from this Mr. Woodworth said there were other considerations. He had observed the splendid moral and spiritual influence exerted by Pacific College and he wanted his daughters to attend such an institution where emphasis was placed on these things. He should patronize Pacific College as a consequence. Said he trusted our people would see and appreciate the advantages of such a home institution well financed, and that they would respond liberally when the call was made.

S. L. Parrett, president of the United States National Bank, prefaced his remarks by saying that if Newberg people generally had worked as hard for the college as did two ladies who sat in front of him, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Woodward, when the money was raised for the new building a few years ago, the financial problem would have been solved long ago. He cited the fact that Middleton, Champoe and St. Paul were all promising towns long before Newberg was on the map, but that by pulling together as the people of Newberg had in the past we had forged to the front and that Pacific College had been no small factor in building up our town and community. The people were gathered there he said because they were interested in education and progress. Many are coming into the country seeking new homes and all want the best of school advantages. A standardized college will mean much more to the community and the people, without doubt, will stand by Pacific College when the call is made.

Attorney Clarence Butt was down on the program for a talk but he failed to get in from a trip to Astoria and Seaside made during the

SUCCESSFUL RECITAL TUESDAY NIGHT

The closing recital of the college music department was given on Tuesday evening in Wood-Mar Hall before an interested and appreciative audience. In the first half of the program Mrs. Hull presented a number of her younger pupils with most excellent effect. The careful position, the clean, fresh touch, the earnest pose—and, it should be added, the delightful appearance—of the children were the cause of much comment and praise. Without exception they performed splendidly. Those taking part were Thelma and Helen Rankin, Clea and Thelma Stretch, Katherine Duer, Lucile Ehret, Wilma Evans, Louise Kienle, Florence Elliott, Ila Traver, Robin and Virginia Moore.

The last half of the program was devoted to the older pupils and these appeared in a varied entertainment quite as pleasing as the first part of the program. Those who performed were Edna James, Octavia Ware, Cynth Ames, Lella Yergen, Irma Taylor, piano; Sybil McArthur, Beatrice Towers, Royal Gettman, violin; Richard Haworth and Lowell Edwards (Mr. Hull's pupils), voice. The last number was a suite for piano, violin and cello, played by Glenn Taylor, Royal Gettman, Mrs. Hull and Prof. Hull, that was so thoroughly enjoyable that it had to be repeated.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

A large number of patriotic citizens assembled on First street Thursday evening for the purpose of taking down the flag pole and supplying it with new ropes and pulleys.

Luke McKern don't propose to be left behind in the onward march of improvements. He is making arrangements to build a comfortable residence on his farm. Luke is one of the old timers who came at an early day and experienced the hardships of the followers of the ox teams across the arid plains, and the privations of those who lived in this valley from 1845 to 1850.

J. L. Hoskins has been appointed census enumerator for West Chehalis, Wheatland and Willamina districts.

Frank Wood and his workmen are making good headway on the bridge across Chehalis creek.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Josephine McPoland, a resident of Newberg, passed away May 25, after a long and serious spell of sickness.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Ady, of Champoe, where she was born December 11, 1862.

On June 10, 1879, she was married to P. J. McPoland, and to this union two sons, Albert and William McPoland, were born, both of whom have been deceased a number of years.

The funeral services were held at the St. Peters Catholic church, Thursday, May 27, at 10 o'clock, with Rev. Father Hanson, of McMinnville, officiating.

The deceased is survived by her husband, two brothers, Jasper and Alfred Ady, of Waterloo, Oregon, a half sister, Mrs. Prudence Holston, of Portland, and a number of nieces and nephews.

CORONATION CEREMONY

SATURDAY MORNING

Queen Dorothy will be crowned Queen of the Regatta at Oak Grove Park following the big parade. The committee have kept secret who the king is to be and there is much speculation who the happy man is.

Saturday's Program

Saturday will be the big day and the following program has been arranged:

10 a. m.—Big street parade headed by Queen Dorothy and her Royal Court, followed by 35 floats by the Newberg merchants and scores of decorated cars.

Prizes as follows: Best float: First prize, $15 cash. Second prize, $10 cash. Best decorated car: First prize, $15 cash.

Second prize, $10 cash. All cars and floats participating in the parade must report sharp at 9:30 a. m. Formation of parade to be on College street facing north and south toward the intersection of College and Sheridan streets.

Line of March

Parade will start from the intersection of College and Sheridan streets and proceed east on Sheridan street to Meridian, thence south to First street, west to Washington, north to Hancock, west to Main, south to First, east to Center, south to Second, east to River, north to First, east across bridge to Church, north to Portland Highway, west across bridge to College, south to Fifth, west to Oak Grove Park.

When the head of the column reaches the west end of the bridge coming west a halt will be called and the new concrete bridge will be dedicated. The dedication ceremony will consist of a proclamation by the mayor and a short address by a notable speaker. It is not intended that this ceremony shall take over 15 or 20 minutes, after which the parade will proceed to Oak Grove park where the coronation ceremony will be held. After Queen Dorothy has been crowned and seated on her throne the principal address will be delivered by Dr. Hawn of the Oregon Chamber of Commerce, and at this time the key to the city will be turned over to the Admiral of the Regatta.

1 p. m.—Water sports at the river. A number of big scows have been furnished to accommodate the public, also a lot of brush has been cut to make plenty of sight seeing room on the banks of the river. There will be a lot of unique water sports including the following:

10 p. m.—Dance at the American Legion hall.

GROWERS' CO-OPERATIVE

ASSOCIATION NEWS

The building for the new prune processing plant of the Oregon Growers' Co-operative Association at Dallas is already half built and sites have been secured during the past few days at Forest Grove, Myrtle Creek, Riddle and Grants Pass.

At Forest Grove a new prune packing plant will be erected on land just west of the cannery. The pear and apple packing plant at Grants Pass will be located on the old cannery property. The association has also recently purchased the prune processing plant owned by the Scotts Mills Prune Packing Corporation.

The association announces that no more crop marketing contracts for the 1920 crop of berries and cherries will be taken. Closing dates for other kinds of fruit will be announced soon. Closing dates for apple and pear contracts in the Medford and Grants Pass districts were set, for June 1.

Seven hundred acres of fruit owned by 45 new members has been added around Salem since the Salem Fruit Union voted to go out of business four weeks ago. The total membership of the Oregon Growers Co-operative Association now numbers 1,300 with over 26,000 acres of fruit.

DOUBLE BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION LAST SUNDAY

The children and grandchildren of Mrs. Irene Everest Heaster gathered at her home on the highway just east of Newberg on last Sunday for the celebration of her eightieth birthday anniversary and also of the sixteenth birthday anniversary of her grandson, Elden Everest, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Everest, he being next to the youngest grandchild she has.

Many well filled baskets of lunch were in evidence at the dinner hour and preparations had been made for a spread on the lawn but the chilly air made it necessary to seek the inside of the house. A mammoth cake bearing 80 candles and another smaller one with 16 candles adorned the table, and the big spread and the family visiting were greatly enjoyed.

Those in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mackie and son, Haven, of Portland; Mrs. Alice Ramsey and daughter, Mildred, of Willamina; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Everest and son, Elden, of Newberg; Mr. and Mrs. Granville Everest, with Arlie and Violet, of Laurel; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Everest, of Vancouver, Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rockwell, of Newberg; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Neehoff, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rinner, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Bauer, all of Portland, and Jacob Hagey, of Dundee.

COMMENCEMENT CON- CERT PROGRAM

The annual commencement concert will be given Saturday evening, June 5, at eight o'clock in Wood-Mar Hall. The concert is complimentary to the music-loving public of Newberg, and no fee is charged for admission. On the Georgian Hills, Rimsky-Korsakov.

The Billowy Harvest Field, Rachmaninoff.

5. String Trios—Night Song, Schumann.

Bourree, Bach.

PACIFIC COLLEGE DEFEATS McMINNVILLE BY 3 TO 2 SCORE

By a score of three to two, Pacific College defeated McMinnville College on the latter's ground last Friday afternoon. This victory coming on top of the unexpected defeat of Pacific University two weeks ago, aroused the enthusiasm of the P. C. fans to a high pitch and proved that the earlier victory was no accident and that the team has playing ability of the highest quality.

Pil, the doughty young Korean pitching for Pacific College, fanned eighteen men and walked one. McMinnville's first pitcher, Dowd, fanned six and walked two, and Vester, who was substituted for him in the eighth, walked one and struck out three. Pacific got two hits and was credited with five errors while McMinnville checked up eight errors and no hits.

The game was interesting from the start. The first eight men to face Pil did not touch the ball and McMinnville did not get a man to first until about the sixth inning.

Pacific College will play the Pacific University team on the local field next Friday afternoon at one o'clock. The previous game between these two teams resulted in a two to one score in favor of Pacific College and the game Friday should be a tight one and will be worth seeing.

PACIFIC COLLEGE COM- MENCEMENT PROGRAM

Following is the program for commencement week at Pacific College:

Saturday, June 5, 8 p. m.—Music Recital, Wood-Mar Hall.

Sunday, June 6, 11 a. m.—Baccalaureate Sermon, Acting President John D. Mills, Friends Church.

6:30 p. m.—Address to the Christian Associations, Paul Lewis, Friends Church.

Monday, June 7, 8 p. m.—Class Day Exercises, Wood-Mar Hall.

Tuesday, June 8, 2 p. m.—Academy Graduation Exercises, Address by Rev. Charles Lescault, Earlham, Iowa.

8 p. m.—Public Meeting of the Alumni.

Wednesday, June 9, 10 a. m.—Commencement, Address by President Levi T. Pennington, Wood-Mar Hall.

OVERTURNED AUTOMOBILE SPILLS LENTS YOUNG PEOPLE

Tuesday's Telegram contained the following news note:

Robert Nowe, of Lents; Grace Kock, 22 years old, and Florence Kock, 14, sisters, living at 7709 Sixty-third avenue Southeast, sustained severe bruises when the automobile in which they were riding, driven by Nowe, lost a wheel on the highway near Newberg yesterday. The machine turned over and the occupants were thrown out of the car. They were brought to Portland and taken to Good Samaritan hospital. Their injuries are not serious.

Horace Newlin, of Springbrook, is reported to be very low from Bright's disease, with no hope held out for his recovery.

MUST CUT OUT THE JOY RIDES

Gasoline Supply Perilously Short and Rigid Economy Imperative

Newberg will have enough gasoline for necessary purposes during June, according to V. D. Miller, of the local Standard Oil Co. It is suggested that cars outside of the Newberg district coming to the big Regatta here Friday and Saturday take on a supply of gasoline before they start.

At a meeting of dealers and representatives of oil companies in Portland Wednesday, the representatives of the Associated, Union and Shell Oil Companies admitted that their stocks of gasoline were dwindling so as to make curtailment necessary. Six weeks ago these same representatives refused to join the Standard Oil Co. in a reduction of allotments to passenger cars, believing they had sufficient gasoline on hand to supply the needs.

A general campaign of publicity will be waged in Portland by the Automobile Dealers Association urging conservation of gasoline. A similar attitude should be assumed by motor vehicle owners and dealers in the Newberg field in order that the gasoline situation be relieved. The Standard Oil Co. is developing a new refining process in Richmond, California, costing $10,000,000, by which more gasoline can be produced from crude oil. This will also assist to quite an extent.

NEWBERG ORGANIZES FOR STATE CHM. OF COM. CAMPAIGN

A state wide campaign that will be conducted by the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce to aid in the development of the state and the part Newberg is to play was outlined Wednesday by W. L. Miller in connection with a survey of the state that is now being made.

Views of a number of leading local men were obtained by Mr. Miller who outlined the campaign to them. George L. Kelly, president of the Newberg Commercial Club, was selected as chairman of the Newberg Executive Committee, and associated with him will be S. L. Parrett, U. S. G. Miller, W. H. Woodworth and E. C. Baird.

The Oregon State Chamber of Commerce has undertaken plans to play a big part in the future development of the state of Oregon. Funds will be collected to advance advertising, pointing out the opportunities to be found in Oregon, and to encourage land settlement. Other aims of the contemplated program include administration to promote irrigation; extension of railroads; refund on reclamation fund; extension of highways both for commercial purposes and through national forests; co-operation with agricultural and lumbering interests and numerous other big propositions, the development of which will be of incalculable value to Oregon.

Local leaders assured Mr. Miller that Newberg could be relied upon to do her share along with other communities of Oregon.

FIRST THINGS IN AMERICA

Pins were first made here in 1832. The first daily was the Penny Packet, 1781.

The first Bible was printed in Germantown, Pennsylvania, by Dr. Sauer, in 1743.

The first theater was built in Willamsburg, Virginia, 1752.

The first sleeping car was seen in 1858, and the first vestibule train in 1886.

The first ferry, operated by steam was between New York and Brooklyn, 1824.

The first printing press was put up at Cambridge, Massachusetts, by Stephen Daye, in 1639.

Until 1773 umbrellas were unknown in North America. In this year they were imported from India.

The first apartment house in America was erected in 1869 at 143 East Eighteenth street, New York.
