

It is Time for Saving

THE period of thoughtless spending and careless investment should be gotten over with as soon as possible.

And it is for each person and family to see that outgo be kept below income for their own individual welfare.

DUNDEE

The Misses Christopher and Young spent Memorial Day week end with Miss Christopher's brother at Marion.

The heavy frosts that nipped tomatoes, beans and early potatoes in the valley did little damage in the Red Hills, very few plants of any kind having suffered from the cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Roe Robison spent Sunday at Forest Grove where a reunion of Mrs. Robison's relatives was held. The family gathering was held in honor of an aunt from the East who is making a short visit with her Western kinfolk.

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association was held at the school house on June 1. A business meeting was followed by several informal speeches by Prof. J. P. Powell, Rev. Gillespie, County Superintendent S. S. Duncan, and two members of the school board, W. J. Bennett and William Wilson.

School closes for the summer in Dundee on Thursday, June tenth. The usual community picnic will be held on the school grounds following the games and a short program. The graduating exercises of the high school will be held in Community Hall in the evening. County Superintendent Duncan will be present for the day, giving an informal talk at the picnic, and the formal graduation address in the evening.

All those who know Prof. Powell's great work in the community are keenly anticipating the demonstration to be given by him and his pupils on Friday evening, June fourth, at Community Hall. No charge for admission will be made and everyone interested in music and the very important part it plays in development of character are cordially invited to be present. County Superintendent Duncan will be there and give a short address.

By an oversight the account of the party at the parsonage was omitted from last week's items. On Wednesday evening, May 26, Rev. and Mrs. Gillespie were invited to take an auto ride. On their return they found a houseful of guests and a regular old fashioned surprise party in full swing. The guests had taken refreshments and a pleasant social evening was enjoyed. A May-basket containing all sorts of surprises was presented to the pastor and his wife.

CHEHALEM CENTER

Miss Marguerite Johnson was out home Sunday for a short visit. She likes her work at the Multnomah hospital in Portland.

Miss Elsie Tangen came home from McMinnville Saturday evening where she had been staying with the Van Atta family.

Miss Hyde, of Portland, came out for a visit at the home of Mrs. Marie Tangen and daughters, Misses Anna and Elsie Tangen, Decoration Day.

G. I. Morgan and wife have sold their farm. The Wm. Small farm has also been sold but the writer has not learned the particulars. Mr. Morgan has also purchased a new Ford.

Mr. and Mrs. Casteel, of Tualatin, and son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Casteel, were visitors at the home of Mrs. Alta Christianson, over Sunday. They, Percy and wife, are going on an automobile trip to Southern Oregon.

Monday evening a number of the young people of the immediate vicinity spent a very pleasant evening at the home of Miss Carrie Morgan when all kinds of games were indulged in. Strawberries and cake with loganberry juice were served at eleven and all report a jolly good time.

PLEASANT VIEW

Work on the Chehalem Valley hop ranch is progressing rapidly.

Ray Ego, Phil Booth and Alfred Hutchens took dinner at the Edwards home on Sunday.

Henry Edwards and Ray Ego called on Horace Newlin last Sunday, who is very sick.

The small son of Chas. M. Davis has been very sick with bronchial pneumonia, but is on the mend.

Church was held at the Pleasant View school house Sunday. The next meeting will be June 20. All are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Fletcher, from up on the Willamina, motored down to the Chehalem Valley Hop Ranch Sunday and took dinner with their daughter, Mrs. Henry Edwards. They were accompanied by their son, Warrick, grandson, Vern Booth, and granddaughter, Miss Gladys Edwards.

STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WANTS UNITED SUPPORT

United support of the state wide movement of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce to raise an adequate budget to carry on its program of development work is urged by the board of directors of the State Chamber.

A letter signed by Charles Hall and addressed to "The People of the State of Oregon," reads as follows:

"Backed by a record of accomplishments appreciated by those familiar with this work, the board of directors of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce has undertaken a campaign for an expansion in income and members in order that it may meet constantly increasing demands for service and assume larger responsibilities in advancing the commercial, industrial and agricultural interests of Oregon and development of natural resources.

"We are confident of full success and we are sure that the business and professional men, retail merchants, manufacturers and growers throughout the state will make the State Chamber of Commerce a greater institution, assuming wider responsibilities and improvement along many lines.

"We ask the united support of those who want to see Oregon get its full share of material prosperity and are willing to assist in providing for its welfare in the years to come."

Every section of Oregon is represented on the State Chamber's board of directors, which is composed of the following men: Charles Hall, Marshfield, president; Emory Olmstead, Portland, vice president; F. S. Bramwell, Grants Pass, vice president; J. T. Rorick, The Dalles, vice president; J. L. Etheridge, Portland, treasurer; G. Clifford Barlow, Warrenton; J. R. Blackaby, Ontario; E. E. Brodie, Oregon City; C. C. Chapman, Portland; W. W. Harrah, Pendleton; H. Hirschberg, Independence; George H. McMorran, Eugene; T. A. McCann, Bend; Vincent Palmer, La Grande; William Pollman, Baker; George Quayle, Portland, secretary.

Chinese Engineers Hate Toll.

In no branch of modern progress has China advanced during the last twenty years more than in engineering. If we except, perhaps, medicine, the Chinese engineer has come to stay. He is a much-criticized person, and the principal objection the up-to-date modern engineer offers against him is that he refuses to undergo the long and tedious period of training necessary in any branch of engineering today; if he can become an engineer without soiling his hands or taking off his coat, he is quite willing to pose as having mastered engineering; but he objects to the toll and the dirty work.

War-Torn Villages Arising.

Villages in the vicinity of St. Quentin, France, are literally rising phoenixlike from their own ashes. Confronted by a lack of stone and building materials, the artisans have established a big grinding machine in which the debris of the shell-shattered houses is remade into mortar.

Thoroughly Selfish.

"Do you know what I'd like?" said the first road hog.
"No, what would you like?" said the second porcine person.
"I'd like to have a motorcar so big there wouldn't be room on the broadest boulevard for anything to pass me but a breeze."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

LONG-DRAWN-OUT ELOQUENCE

Speeches That Occupy Day May Be Brilliant, but Are Apt to Be Somewhat Tiresome.

There was a commercial case of great magnitude the other day in England, in which it was expected that one at least of counsel would take eight days for his speech. With all respect for a learned professor, but in amicable candor, it is hard not to commiserate any judge that may have to listen to a speech of this length. It may be made by the cleverest and most eloquent of men, but the fact is that by the eighth day, the facts and the tropes of the first are pretty well faded. The value of these long speeches by counsel consists largely in the notes that the judge has taken, provided he followed the argument, which is by no means always the case. We have, to be sure, the splendid performances at Warren Hastings' impeachment, where we are assured that ladies of the most exalted station swooned in sheer admiration and awful wonder at the genius displayed. So be it; they swooned, though we have to point out that swooning at that period was a pretty general accomplishment; nevertheless, it is fair to say that Burke and Fox and Sheridan in point of fact were rather above the average counsel in eloquence, though Sergeant Saunders could have made any of the three "look foolish" on his own ground.—Christian Science Monitor.
