COMMENCEMENT WEEK AT PACIFIC COLLEGE

The Weather Made to Order and Attendance at the Exercises Good

Roses failed to show up in their usual splendor, this commencement time, but the fine rains brought out the green in every growing shrub and tree and all nature has seemed in a laughing mood during the week. The attendance at the various exercises incident to the closing days of the school year has been good and the programs given have been entertaining and instructive.

The baccalaureate service was held Sunday morning at Friends church when a very inspiring sermon was given by Acting President John D. Mills.

The senior class had their day, Wednesday, the exercises being opened by an invocation by Rev. W. N. Coffey, followed by a double piano number, "Cavotte," Piram, given by Mrs. Hull and Alexander Hull, of the music department, and a vocal solo, "I Come with a Song"—La Faure, by Mr. Hull.

The address to the class was given by President Levi T. Pennington.

"Life . . . consisteth not in . . . things" was taken as the basis for his address. Mr. Pennington emphasized the fact that physical life does not consist in possessions, nor does intellectual nor spiritual life. A man may have wealth and property but these will not give abundant physical life. A man may have a wealth of information and not live an abundant intellectual life. A man may have received great spiritual blessings and not have an abundant spiritual life. "For life . . . consisteth not in . . . things."

"Of what, then, does life consist?" asked the speaker. "If life does not consist in what you have, of what is life composed?"

His answer was that life consists of what you are, and of what you are in relation to others and to the great causes in the world. In the physical world, life consists not in what you have, nor even in what you eat, but in what you assimilate; in what becomes actually a part of yourself. It is not what you have but what you are that determines physical life. Intellectually it is not so much a question of what you know but of what intellectually you have become that determines your life. And in the spiritual realm it is not the blessings you have had at your disposal at the hand of God, but those that you have received and built into your own self that determines the degree and nature of your spiritual life.

In conclusion, the speaker declared with emphasis that just as physical life comes through physical birth, so spiritual life comes through spiritual birth. And he urged above all other things that the members of the present class and all his hearers realize the supreme importance of spiritual life through Jesus Christ, and the maintenance of that life by continuous right relationship with God.

"This is life eternal, that they might know Thee, the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom Thou hast sent."

The class consisted of three young ladies, namely, Miss Irene Hodgins, Miss Frances Elliott and Miss Mary Pennington, the latter not being present as she has been taking her work in Earlham College this year, owing to the family residence being there for the present, as a consequence of Mr. Pennington's work as director of the Forward Movement.

The conferring of degrees was by Acting President John D. Mills, and the benediction by Rev. Fred E. Carter.

The announcement was made that the junior scholarship had been awarded to Miss Esther Terrell and the Penn scholarship to Miss Irene Hodgins.

The academy graduating exercises were held Tuesday afternoon, the class roll being Murray C. Gregory, Eva L. Miles, Alfred W. Terrell, Daisee M. Leffler, Cecil R. Hinshaw, M. Estella Stroud, H. Brooks Terrell, Helen R. Hester, R. Davis Woodward, Reta P. Hansen, Cecil F. Hinshaw, Beth Paulsen.

The opening included a piano solo by Miss Lora Putman, invocation by Rev. Lee and a vocal solo by Miss Evah Hadley. The benediction was given by Rev. L. C. Hinshaw.

A very practical address to the class was given by Rev. Charles Lescaut, of Earlham, Iowa, who laid emphasis on the assertion that life depends largely on what one puts into it, and further emphasis was laid on the necessity for promptness in one's undertakings, on thoughtfulness, poise, on the ability to look on the bright side of things, and to wait patiently until one's ability may be recognized.

The class honors went to Cecil F. Hinshaw, whose grades in the four years have averaged better than 95, and the award is a tuition scholarship in the college course for next year.

Following the awarding of diplomas by President Mills, diplomas were also given out to the nine students who finished the commercial course, namely, Lillian Massmann, Harriett Hodgins, Helen Mendenhall, Blanche E. Carlisle, Alfred Terrell, Pauline Terrell, May Bernice Wallen, Clara Hall and Hattie Jermo.

A new and pleasing feature was worked in the class day exercises given Monday night by each of the four college classes taking a portion of the time with a program of their own making. The classes, too, are to be congratulated in that they steered clear of the "last will and testament" and other chestnuts that have long been overworked.

On Tuesday night the Alumni Association showed the ability to come back by putting on a varied program that was well received. Miss Mary Jones gave a piano solo. E. W. Newby gave two vocal numbers and the first speaker was Miss Laura Hammer who gave a very interesting talk, "With the Mission Workers in France." Prof. Ralph Rees, who holds a professorship in Cornell, gave an instructive talk on horticulture in the state of New York and Dr. T. W. Hester told something of the proposed campaign for increased endowment for P. C.

Miss Jessie Britt was at her best in standing before the audience with pointer in hand, as the pictures of former graduates were thrown on the canvas, telling of the great and near great among the number. A playlet—Trials of a Freshie—adapted from Booth Tarkington's "Seventeen," was the last on the program, the cast being made up of Victor Rees, Miss Florence Rees, Melvin Elliott, Gladys Hannon and Daisy Newhouse, all of whom sustained their parts well. The whole program of the evening was well received and was considered one of the best that has been given by the association.

P. E. O. NOTES

Members of Chapter L. P. E. O. went to Portland Monday and held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. A. H. Dean, 938 East Broadway. Mrs. Dean, who still retains her membership with L. assisted by Miss Wallace, her sister, served a luncheon at one o'clock, the honor guest being the president of Supreme Chapter P. E. O., Mrs. Helen D. Townsend, of Albia, Iowa, who was on her way from Washington and California Grand Chapter meetings to Oregon Grand, which convened at La Grande the eighth.

Mrs. Townsend is a graduate of the University of Michigan, a woman well fitted for the Supreme Presidency, the highest honor the P. E. O. Sisterhood can bestow, and L. members appreciated the privilege of meeting this well known P. E. O. who was an inspiration to the Sisterhood during the eight years she was actively connected with the Educational fund of the Order—a fund that has grown from a nucleus of $660 in 1907 to several hundred dollars above $100,000, all loaned to worthy girls toward helping them secure a higher education. So earnestly have P. E. O.'s worked for this worthy cause that it is not unusual for the Sisterhood to receive a scholarship from colleges all over the land. These are given to girls who otherwise might not be in position to take advantage of a loan.

Newberg P. E. O.'s are looking forward to meeting another noteworthy P. E. O.—Mrs. Dessa H. M. Fultz, who will act as Junior Supervisor during our Chautauqua this summer. Mrs. Fultz is the wife of Prof. Fultz, of the California University, whose lectures on the wild flowers of California have attracted much favorable attention and comment.

REGATTA ATTRACTS MANY PEOPLE

Queen Dorothy Is Crowned and New Concrete Viaduct Is Dedicated

The Portland Motor Boat Club held its second annual Regatta at Newberg last Saturday and the crowds that gathered to witness their aquatic stunts on the river were sufficient in numbers to give the necessary inspiration.

Friday was given over to ball games in the afternoon and some street races later in the evening. Pacific College and Pacific University crossed bats again on the college field, resulting in a score of 10 to 4 in favor of P. U., the home team being handicapped by the loss of Woodburn, their regular catcher, who had gone to his home in Washington.

The second game was played by the local A. Rupert Co. team, all togged out in their new uniforms, and St. Paul, the latter winning the score by 9 to 5.

The street parade on Saturday morning was not as large as had been anticipated, but the automobiles and floats were artistically decorated and made quite a spectacular appearance. The local band headed the procession, riding on a motor truck, and added zest to the occasion. The concert they gave in front of Klenle's Music Store Saturday evening was well worthy of the favorable comment it received.

At the west end of the new concrete viaduct a halt was made and Mayor George Larkin made the following dedicatory address: "This is an auspicious occasion for Newberg. As citizens of this city and the state at large, we have reason to hold in our hearts a kindly feeling towards the State Highway Commission and the county court of this county, for they have made it possible for us to dedicate this structure. Without their action no monument of this nature would appear upon this site and we would today be traveling over a rickety wooden structure in place of having a sure and substantial structure of concrete.

In behalf of the citizens of Newberg I desire to thank you for the attitude which you have shown to this community. We know that it is the object of this commission to give to the people of this state the best roads and bridges that may be attainable and we heartily commend you for the stand which you have taken in this regard.

Likewise, our appreciation is justly due to the county court for they, too, have shown a disposition to aid and assist in the construction of permanent and abiding highways in the county.

To Queen Dorothy we bend the knee in homage. Since time immemorial it has been the custom of man to be ruled over by woman and whenever it so happens that there is no one of the gentler sex on the throne of a nation, then the male citizens, through force of habit, seek out a ruler from among the fair ones of the land and set her upon the throne of the home.

To the stranger within our gates I say make your sojourn among us a lengthy one, and when necessity demands that you depart, bear in mind our desire that you come again. And now on behalf of the people of the city I extend to the Portland Motor Boat Club a hearty welcome to our city and I bespeak for you the hospitality of our people.

This structure upon which we stand will remain when we have become but a memory, a lasting monument to the progress of our state, and I, as mayor of the city of Newberg, now dedicate this beautiful and massive bridge to the use of the people of our land.

The Queen's car was beautifully decorated and was driven by S. M. Calkins. Queen Dorothy's attendants were the Misses Inez Dodge and Burdette Wilson, with Margaret Burdworth and Esther Baird as train bearers, Margaret Miller, crown bearer, and Marjorie Seely, flower girl. Henry French was king with Frank Lutz and Wendell Boyes acting as his attendants.

The ceremonies incident to the crowning of Queen Dorothy took place at the park, after which a short talk was made by S. Benson, State Highway Commissioner, in the course of which he called attention to the fact that he had made good on his promise made in a speech delivered here some three years ago that we should have a paved highway to Portland. He said also that the road leading to McMinville would be hard surfaced at no distant day.

An address delivered by Dr. Hawn, of San Francisco, closed the exercises at the park.

In the afternoon the Motor Boat Club was the attraction at the river, where a very large crowd gathered to witness the aquatic sports, including boat racing, surf riding, swimming and diving.

In the parade of Saturday morning the United States National Bank float won first prize and the Miller Mercantile Co. float second prize; the Graham Drug Co. won first prize for the best decorated automobile and one of the high school autos won the second prize.

The Graphic has been unable to get from the committee on the street races a list of the prizes won.

CHIEF RED FOX COMING

On Thursday night, June 17, Chief Red Fox will speak at the Christian church.

In 1914 Red Fox rode his faithful pony, "Montana," from Montana to the White House, covering a distance of 4,006 miles. He bore a petition from his people to the President, to grant to all American Indians full citizenship and for "American Indian Day," fourth Friday in September in each year. En route this petition was endorsed officially by twenty-five governors, hundreds of colleges, churches and patriotic organizations. And he rode back to the Northwest accompanied by Black Hawk, his cousin.

Chief Red Fox lectures in the picturesque Blackfoot costume, embellished with ten million beads, woven in typical designs on skins. The Philosophy of the American Indian is chosen as the subject for his talks and he forcibly portrays the life of his race in the different phases of life. Black Hawk, his cousin and traveling companion, is noted in singing "America" in the tribal Indian tongue.

Chief Red Fox and Black Hawk are active members of the Society of American Indians, the Yakima Indian Commercial Club, and the Indian Gun Club, and Red Fox is the Most High Chief of the Tipi Order of America, a fraternal order for red and white races, and Red Fox was the first to organize the Indian Boy Scouts in America, at the United States Indian School, Carlisle, Pennsylvania.

In 1918 Red Fox, with his cousin, Black Hawk, lectured on the American Red Cross platform and raised a good many thousands of dollars for the great cause. Chief Red Fox was very active in war work and lectured in many Western cities under auspices of the American Red Cross of Northwest and Pacific divisions.

July 4, 1917, Red Fox made an address in the presence of 25,000 people at New York City College Stadium, in the presence of Secretary of War Baker and other government officials, under auspices of the Mayor's Committee of the City New York.

SCHOOL CLOSING IN LAD HILL DISTRICT

On June 2nd the closing exercises for the Lad Hill school were given in the shade of the school yard grove. An audience of parents and friends of the pupils gathered for the occasion, and at noon a picnic lunch was enjoyed. Following the lunch, a program of recitations, fairy plays, patriotic drills, and operettas was rendered by the children. One rarely sees a program by children carried out with such perfect grace and absence of prompting.

All the little plays and drills were given in costume, which, in itself, meant a world of work, which could perhaps be only fully appreciated by those who have themselves worked in arranging such a program. The entire program was a credit to the little folks, and to Mrs. Kraps, their teacher.

The attendants of this country school surely do not lack for nature's inspiration, for, from their hill top location, there is always that magnificent panorama of river and valley beyond, reaching clear to the foot hills, with snow-capped Mt. Hood and Mt. Jefferson in the background—a view that must be seen to be appreciated, and a place indeed for fairies and nymphs.

The Madams Bessie Smith, Elizabeth Parrett, Dollie Ives, and Eleanor E. Hitchen, and George Johnson assisted with the music of the program.

MISS ANDERSON ENTERTAINS A NUMBER OF FRIENDS

The home of Mrs. W. T. Anderson was the scene of a merry gathering last Thursday evening when Miss Esther Anderson entertained a number of her friends.

Miss Anderson leaves soon for the east and the large number of beautiful and useful gifts presented to her by a wide circle of friends speaks well for her one year in Newberg.

The time was spent with music and fancy work, but the surprise of the evening came with the announcement of the engagement of Miss Goldie Everest to Donald N. Matthews, of Salem.

Miss Everest is a teacher in the grade schools and retains her position next year.

Mr. Matthews is the son of Prof. J. T. Matthews, of Willamette University, Salem. He is a graduate of O. A. C. and will teach in the Newberg high school next year. The wedding will be an event of the summer.

Those present were Mrs. W. T. Anderson, Mrs. Van Del, Miss Rush, Miss Newhouse, Miss Natwick, Miss McConkie, Miss Everest, Miss Stone, Miss Wilson, Mrs. Chapin, Miss Harritt, Miss McDonald, Miss Duncan and Miss Anderson.

HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT

The baccalaureate services for the graduating class for the Newberg high school were held at the Friends church on last Sunday night, the sermon being given by Rev. W. N. Coffey, of the Free Methodist church before a good sized audience. Palmer Hayes gave a vocal solo.

The senior class play will be given at the high school auditorium, this Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

On Friday evening the graduating exercises will be held at Wood-Mar Hall, the class being composed of the following: Florence Lee, Marion Martin, Donald Crow, Elizabeth Calkins, Warren Jones, Dorothy Hodson, Lois Fendall, Myrtle Haveman, Francis Haworth, Clifford Jones, Ermina Lutz, Bain Morris, Vera Panton, Howard Pettengill, Mearl Sanders, Beatrice Towers, Burdette Wilson.

W. R. C. NOTES

The Women's Relief Corps met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Chas. Churchill.

The object of the meeting was to sew carpet rags for weaving into rugs for the Soldiers' Home at Roseburg.

Many balls of many colors were sewed and wound, after which the hostess served ice cream and cake. Mrs. Robertson was the guest of the afternoon.

FOUR GENERATIONS OF METHODIST WIVES

Here is another family record of successive generations of preachers. It comes from the Rev. M. C. Wire of the Oregon Conference.

David Wire was born several years before the Revolution. He became a local preacher in the Methodist Episcopal church. He lived to be eighty-four.

His son, Thomas David Wire, joined the Wyoming Conference in 1834. He was a preacher in our church for fifty-two years, and died in 1886.

Melville Cox Wire, son of Thomas David Wire, joined the Rock River Conference in 1876, was transferred to the Oregon Conference in 1884 and is now a retired member of that Conference. Melville Thomas Wire, son of Melville Cox Wire, joined the Oregon Conference in 1902, and is now pastor at Oregon City.

The Rev. M. C. Wire, who sends these facts, says, "The period of ministerial service in our family thus covers four generations, and reaches back pretty well to the Christmas Conference of 1774, the date of the organization of the Methodist Episcopal church.—Epworth Herald.

OREGON YEARLY MEETING ING IN SESSION

The twenty-eighth annual meeting of the Friends church in the Northwest was called to order at the local church at 10 o'clock today by Levi T. Pennington, presiding clerk, and with Oliver Weaner, recording clerk, and Mrs. M. P. Elliott, reading clerk, at the desk.

Ministers announced as being present from abroad were Josiah Dillon, Butler, Oklahoma; Asa E. Woodard, Noblesville, Indiana; Isaac Ellis, Central City, Nebraska; Evangeline Reams, Columbus, Ohio; Charles and Lena Lescaut, Earlham, Iowa; John L. Kittrell, Everett, Washington; Wm. Kirby, Des Moines, Iowa; Wm. Harris, Lone Star, Kansas; Emory J. Rees, returned missionary from Africa.

Business sessions will be held each forenoon and afternoon and meetings for worship at 8 o'clock in the morning and 8 o'clock in the evening.

After the above was written, the clerks above named were appointed for this year.

MISS MILLER BADLY INJURED IN MOTORCYCLE ACCIDENT

Miss Pauline Miller, member of the Newberg high school senior class, was violently thrown from a motorcycle side car Saturday at 12:30 p. m., at the intersection of First and Lincoln streets, while accompanying Alfred Dixon, who drove the machine, to his home in Dundee. She suffered two very painful fractures of her left jaw, while Dixon came out of the mishap unhurt.

Dr. Rankin attended Miss Miller and did everything he could to relieve her pain. In order to give her nourishment a silver tube had to be inserted through her cheek.

Latest reports are that she is getting along as well as could be expected.

These young people were to have been married at the Nazarene church on last Sunday.

SPLENDID MUSIC RECITAL GIVEN

On last Saturday evening Mrs. Eva Hull and Prof. Alexander Hull, of the music department of Pacific College, again proved themselves artists in giving an hour of high class music.

The numbers for two pianos were especially enjoyed, as well as the string trios in which the Hulls were assisted by Miss Dorothy Hull and Glenn Taylor.

Prof. Hull sang a group of pleasing songs which won hearty applause.

MEETING OF MINISTERS ASSOCIATION

The Newberg Ministerial Association will meet next Monday, June 14th, at the office of the Presbyterian church, next to public library. Important business, and precious fellowship. All evangelical ministers of Newberg and towns and churches nearby, are regarded as members and urgently invited to be present.

W. N. Coffey, Secretary.
Geo. H. Lee, President.
