Mr. and Mrs. Shaffenberg, of Hood River, were over Sunday guests at the home of Mrs. Shaffenberg's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Crites.

Mrs. Nettie Nicholson former resident of Newberg, who has been living in Idaho for several years, is here visiting her sister, Mrs. J. C. Colcord.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Blanchard, June 14, a daughter, 7½ pounds, named Roberta. The mother will be remembered as Miss Narcissa Bradley.

Emory J. Rees, the African missionary who was here in attendance of Friends Yearly Meeting, is a cousin of J. H. Rees. He expects to return to the field.

S. L. Parrett, president of the United States National Bank, attended a meeting of the State Bankers' Association in Eugene Tuesday and Wednesday, returning by way of Salem to see his daughter, Eva, graduate from Willamette University. The others of the Parrett family also drove to Salem to attend the commencement exercises.

Miss Pearl Greeve, who was a student in Pacific College two years ago, came last Saturday from Caldwell, Idaho, for a visit with friends and will remain for a week or two.

Lewis Hanson, long time letter carrier in Portland, got a short vacation last week and, with Mrs. Hanson, came out and remained until Sunday evening in attendance at Y. M.

Prof. W. R. Jewell, of McMinnville College, and pastor of the Baptist church of Newberg, has moved his family to Newberg for the summer and will occupy the home of Mrs. Vincent.

Edward Palm and his son, William, left here last week in a Ford for an overland trip to Bloomingdale, Indiana, where Mrs. Palm went a short time ago on account of the serious illness of her sister.

Mrs. Sarah Sutton, who taught in a Tacoma high school the past year, is at home with her parents on North Meridian street. She is expected to attend the big peace conference in London in August.

H. J. Maynard and Mrs. Fidelia L. Wright were married Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The ceremony was performed at the home fitted up by Mr. Maynard at his ranch on Chehalis Mountain.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Palmquist, who have a home out on Rural Route No. 1 left here a few days ago for a visit at their old home in Sweden, which they left more than twenty years ago. They expect to be gone about three months.

While in Portland last week Charlie Cavell purchased a beautiful Haenel high power repeating rifle for deer and bear shooting. It is an expensive rifle of the very best grade, and for neatness, balance, killing power and the positive safety device, it has them all beaten.

Dr. T. W. Hester was a very busy man last week, for in addition to making trips to Portland to look after his hospital cases, he had a lot to do in looking after the entertainment of visitors in town who were here in attendance at the annual meeting of Friends church.

Mrs. F. T. Rucker, a sister of Dr. Sarah Smith and Mrs. Babcock, has gone to Gillette, Wyoming, where she will join her husband, Dr. Rucker, who is located at that place since his discharge from the army. Mrs. Rucker and the two children spent about two years in Newberg.

Lowell Edwards, who, as a student in Pacific College the past year was handicapped by ill health, went to a Portland hospital immediately following the close of school last week and submitted to a surgical operation for the removal of the appendix. He is said to be getting along nicely.

M. K. Myers and family of Portland, stopped off Monday on their return home from McMinnville to visit R. P. Gill, cashier of the First National Bank. Mr. Myers is connected with the Northwestern National Bank in Portland. He reports the road between Dayton and McMinnville to be in awful shape.

Mrs. L. H. Shirley and daughters were over from Hillsboro Saturday and Sunday.

D. M. Haakins has accepted a position in the Portland postoffice and began work Wednesday.

Alfred Fuchs, who lives on South College street, was up town Monday with blood in his eye on account of the work of petty thieves who have been carrying off his chickens and eggs.

Tom Tyndall is off for Yosemite Park to attend the big Woodmen of the World convention and expects to be gone ten days or more. He will go by special train from Portland carrying Woodmen.

The genial Fred Lockley, special writer on the Oregon Journal, who was a candidate in the primary for secretary of state, stopped over in Newberg Monday night when on his way to Newport in search of material for a newspaper story.

R. L. Harrold, superintendent of the Spokane County, Washington, Infirmary, who is attending the big pow wow in Portland, came out to Newberg Wednesday. He is a son of Dr. R. W. Harrold, one time dentist and mayor of Newberg.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Kramlen returned last week from Q. A. C., where he graduated from the department of pharmacy, and after visiting here with relatives for a few days, went to Oregon City where he has a position with the Huntley Drug Co.

Maxine, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Janssen who live on Church street between Second and Third, died on Friday of last week. Funeral services were conducted at the Hollingsworth Co. chapel on Saturday afternoon by Rev. K. H. Sickafosse, pastor of the Christian church.

W. V. Dolph, who left his West Chehalis farm last year and moved into Portland with his family, has bought what is known as the Geo. Christenson farm on the north side of the valley where the community church is located, and is locating there with his family. He says moving is some job.

A shower was given last Friday evening for Miss Olga Blackburn, whose marriage to Rollin Tower will be an event of the near future. She received many beautiful and useful presents. Dainty refreshments were served. The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Blackburn, of Newberg.

Elliott Cray, who bought the Wm. Comer home of two acres located just out of town on the West Chehalis road some months ago, has sold it to John Keough, of Portland, and has bought a stock ranch of 320 acres located three miles from Sweet Home in Linn county, where he has moved with his family. The Graphic will follow him.

Miss Olive P. Bassett, who taught domestic science in the Medford high school the past year, has returned home and says she will give up teaching for the present, owing to the condition of her health. She expects to go to the seashore for a vacation and rest, after which she will return and help to take care of the prune crop in her mother's orchard.

At an attractively appointed luncheon Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. Abner Blair announced the engagement of their daughter, Lura, to C. Herman Coyle, of St. Paul. The wedding will take place Thursday, June 24. The above was clipped from Sunday's Oregonian. The lady mentioned is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Blair and the young man is a brother of Clarence Coyle, of Newberg.

F. A. Morris informs the Graphic that the old Allen evaporator on South Blaine street is to be rebuilt and completely equipped with modern machinery for handling fruit. The new installation will include large concrete furnaces, engines, boilers, latest style of dipper and spreaders, sorting tables, etc., so that the plant will be second to none in the valley. Early arrangement for handling the large crop of prunes can now be made by seeing Mr. Morris at his office.

Cards have been received here from Pres. H. E. McGrew, of Penn College, Iowa, announcing the marriage of his daughter, Marion, to Charles Edward Woodard, which was solemnized at Bloomingdale, Indiana, the home of the groom, on June 8. The bride will be remembered by many of the readers of the Graphic, who, as a mere girl, not beyond the years of childhood, gave almost womanly ministrations to the needs of her invalid mother, when her father was located here as the president of Pacific College. The groom is the son of Rev. E. M. Woodard who is also known to a number of the Graphic readers. He was brought up on a farm and it is understood that he likes farm life and expects to stick to it.

SAVE YOUR EYES

There is absolutely no investment that will bring you the returns as money spent to preserve and keep your eyes as young as possible.

There is no machinery if forced to work under a strain but what wears out sooner than it would with proper care.

There is no machinery in the world that goes down faster than your eyes if they are forced to work under a strain.

C. A. MORRIS
JEWELER AND OPTOMETRIST
Newberg, Oregon

Miss Amy Hall came in the first of the week for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Frank Rundell.

Isaiah Gilbert, of New Castle, Indiana, aged 56 years, is here with his daughter, Miss Dorothy, visiting with his brother, John J. Gilbert, and other relatives. Miss Gilbert is the principal of one of the schools in their home city with a large number of teachers under her. They will remain for several weeks.

A caller at the Graphic office today, Thursday, was C. E. Akers, one of the Shriners attending the big gathering in Portland who came out this way to see the country. He drove through from Indianapolis in a car and says the distance is 2,853 miles. Mr. Akers is a former newspaper man, first having been located at Cloverdale, Indiana, and later at Georgetown, Illinois, but since selling out at the latter place has been engaged in farming. While in town he met Mrs. W. S. Parker, he having known at Georgetown her brother, Howard Elliott, whose recent death is announced in another column. Mr. Akers is so well pleased with what he has seen of Oregon that he contemplates locating in the state.

IN HONOR OF MISS MAUDE EVEREST

Monday evening of this week the home of Miss Mina Ames was the scene of much gaiety when Miss Maude Everest, whose wedding will be an event of the near future, was the guest of honor at a surprise shower.

The evening was pleasantly spent in playing games and with opening a bank which contained the gifts for the fortunate lady. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Those present were Mesdames Everest, Lichtenthaler, Deach, W. J. Saunders and Bartlett, and the Misses Velma McConkie, Muriel Yarnell, Edna Forsyth, Ella, Cornelia and Ruth Titus, Mable and Lena Jane Hornbrook, Goldie Everest, Agnes Powell, Clara Haynes, Effie Pinney, Maude Everest, Clare Gumellus and Mina Ames.

The young man in the case is Leonard Lichtenthaler, who grew up in Newberg, and the bride-to-be is a daughter of Mrs. Josie Everest.
