This is baby boys' week with sons reported born as follows: To Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Johnson, on last Friday; to Mr. and Mrs. Will Hamnett on Sunday and to Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Moore on Monday.

G. W. Brentner, who drove to Falls City last Sunday, says the many detours he had to make on account of road work and the rough spots encountered made the trip anything but pleasurable.

Dr. Brown, veterinarian who was located in Newberg a few years ago and who is veterinary instructor in the Washington State College at Pullman, was here with his family driving a Ford last Sunday.

Lee Helton, who operated a short order house on Main street at one time, came in from Whittier, California, the first of the week and after spending a couple of days here went to Hopewell to visit his daughter.

Editor Umbaugh of the Kelsonian was here from Kelso, Washington, the first of the week visiting his brother-in-law, F. R. Rundell. While in town he called at the Graphic office to exchange fraternal greetings.

Rev. Fred E. Carter and family are spending the week down by the sounding sea at Nestucca.

Will G. Allen and F. A. Elliott were down from Salem Wednesday piloting some of the Shriners who were out seeing the valley.

James H. Derby, a Tacoma newspaper man who has been attending the Shriner's big meet in Portland, was a caller at the Graphic office Wednesday.

Miss Blythe Owen, who is teaching music in the Adventist College at Walla Walla, Washington, is home for the summer vacation but expects to return for next year.

After many years of discussion, pro and con, Dayton Avenue has been closed by mutual consent of the property owners most interested and by action of the city council.

C. H. Ellis will have charge of the carpenter work on a new ten tunnel prune evaporator which the recent purchaser of the H. A. Page prune farm in West Chehalis is going to build.

U. S. G. Miller, who has an apple orchard in the forks of the Yamhill and Willamette rivers below Dayton, says he lost about a fourth of his trees by the extreme cold weather last winter.

Curtis and Floyd Parker, who were down from the Turner farm Tuesday, carrying a rich brown tan, said crops were making great promise out their way since the wonderful rainfall that came just in season to do the most good.

J. F. Stedman, of Tigard, who was located in Newberg a few years ago running a machine shop and foundry, was in town last Saturday in company with his brother, C. R. Stedman, who is engaged in the real estate business in Denver, Colorado.

The Misses Margaret and Doris Busick, of Union, were visiting at the home of their aunt, Mrs. Ellen Bloom, the first of the week. Miss Margaret has been a student in the Normal at Monmouth the past year. After seeing the Rose Carnival she will go to Eastern Oregon where she will engage in teaching.

D. B. Hensley, who came from San Francisco, has bought a small tract located below town on the old ferry road where the family will have a good outlook on the Willamette river, which, though not so big nor so windy as San Francisco Bay, is the subject of Sam L. Simpson's best poem, "Beautiful Willamette."

Roland Towers and Miss Olga Blackburn, both of Newberg, were united in marriage at noon Wednesday at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Blackburn. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. R. Jewell of the Baptist church. The newly-weds will begin house keeping at Brighton, in Tillamook county.

Miss Esther Terrell, in company with Miss Lyra Miles, left the first of the week for Richmond, Indiana, where they will attend the Young Friends Conference which meets yearly. A little later Miss Miles expects to sail for London where she will attend the big Peace Conference which has been under way for the past year.

Mention was made last week of C. E. Akers, a former Indiana newspaper man who drove through from Indianapolis in a machine, being in Newberg. Mr. Akers has since rented the W. E. White property on South School street and says he will take time to look around with a view of investing in some Oregon real estate later.

At the Rex school election held Monday Mrs. S. Sanderman was elected for director and N. L. Wiley for clerk, this being the thirty-third time for the latter. The proposition for putting up a new building with an auditorium on the second floor figured in the meeting, as it has in the past. Mrs. Evangeline Martin is to be the head of the school next year, with Miss Olga Keller, of Newberg, who taught in the school the past year, as assistant.

David A. Jones, whose home was out in the Fernwood neighborhood, and who had been employed in the planing sheds at the saw mill for several years, died in a Portland hospital last Monday morning. He went to the hospital ten days ago where he had a surgical operation for some internal ailment, and for a few days appeared to be in a fair way for recovery, but the end came suddenly, with a turn for the worse. Funeral services were held at the Christian church, this, Thursday, afternoon, by Rev. K. H. Slekafoose, the pastor. The age of the deceased was 49 years, lacking about four months, and he leaves a widow but no children. D. A. Jones was an honest, upright, hard working man and one who will be missed in the community which was his home all his life, and where he was held in high esteem.

SAVE YOUR EYES

There is absolutely no investment that will bring you the returns as money spent to preserve and keep your eyes as young as possible.

There is no machinery if forced to work under a strain but what wears out sooner than it would with proper care.

There is no machinery in the world that goes down faster than your eyes if they are forced to work under a strain.

A Commercial Club banquet was held at the Imperial hotel on Friday evening of last week, when Judge Stapleton was expected to be in attendance and give a talk on the Non-Partisan League and the proposed reduction in the legal rate of interest, but he failed to connect.

TOM CORWINE GREAT ENTERTAINER

Possesses Remarkable Powers of Imitation and Mimicry.

Tom Corwine is a prince among entertainers. He fills every minute with fine fun and laughter. All that he does is original. He imitates no one and no one can imitate him successfully. The Joliet Daily News says: "Tom Corwine has the most marvelous throat in existence. He is a living wonder, possessing four distinct throats in one, so that he can make a concordance of sounds that no other voice has ever accomplished." He imitates birds, animals and mechanical contrivances with a perfection that is uncanny. His humorous sketches are irresistibly laughable and have won for him a nation-wide reputation. He appears in two programs on the fourth day of Chautauqua.
