BIG CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM OFFERED

The Dates Are July 21 to 26—A Full Week of Wholesome Entertainment

The first announcement of the 1920 Chautauqua program indicates that the attractions to be presented are of the same high standard which has characterized Ellison-White programs in the past. Music, lecture and entertainment lovers apparently have much in store for them during the week of the Chautauqua dates for July 21-26.

A lecture of unusual importance is announced in the coming of Ng Foon Chew, probably the most brilliant man of the Chinese race in America. Dr. Chew is editor of the first Chinese daily established in this country, is vice president of the China Mail S. S. Company, and is widely known as statesman, orator and humorist. He will speak on a subject of vital interest to Pacific Coast audiences, "China's Problems, National and International."

Other lecturers of prominence are James A. Burns, president of Onondaga Institute, nationally known as "Burns of the Mountains," Sam Grathwell, inspirational lecturer; Evelyn Bargelt of the Chicago Art Institute, lecturer, cartoonist and entertainer, last year with the A. E. F. in France; Kate Upson Clark, noted editor and author, and Capt. T. Dinmore Upton, one of the country's principal authorities on recreation for boys and girls.

The music of the week promises much to the music lovers of this community. On the first day Williams' Male Quartet comes in two concerts. This organization is rated as one of the best male quartets of the Chautauqua platform and has a real reputation throughout the East and Middle West. On the second day the New York Artists' Trio will present two programs of unusual merit. All three members have won distinct recognition in their respective fields of musical endeavor. May Elizabeth Rees, violinist of the trio, was one of the favorite entertainers with our troops in France and Germany last year.

On the third day the Morrison Girls are coming—a company produced and coached by Bess Gearhart Morrison. They will feature songs of long ago and have two programs entirely unique and completely delightful.

The musical climax of the week comes on the fourth day in the two big concerts by Taylor's singing band, an organization of American musicians featuring both vocal and instrumental music. With the Singing Band comes Tom Corwine, prince of entertainers, in two short programs of genuine fun. On the fifth day the J. Walter Wilson Company will appear in afternoon and evening precludes with programs of splendid musical entertainment.

The last day brings a feature musical attraction in the Royal Philippine Sextet, a stringed orchestra of native musicians which is rated as one of the best musical organizations from the Islands.

Another event which will be of unusual interest to Chautauqua patrons lies in the presentation of "Pollyanna" by Pauline Lucile Mayo, noted interpreter of plays.

OBITUARY

James Charles Willis was born in Newfoundland May 22, 1842.

At the age of 13 years he moved from near London, England, to America. He was a veteran of the Civil War, enlisting at the age of eighteen and serving the whole four years.

At the age of 24 years and 8 months he was married at Omro, Wisconsin, to Mary A. Johnson.

To them were born three daughters, the eldest, Myrtle May, being deceased. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, Mary A. Willis, and two daughters, Maude B. and Mildred R. Willis, and other relatives. In 1892 the family moved to Oregon and located at Chehalis Center, where they lived up to four years ago when they moved to Newberg.

The deceased was converted in his early married life, uniting with the Friends church at Chehalis Center, soon after coming to Oregon.

He was always a kind and loving husband and father, and was of a cheerful disposition, living his life for others.

He had been in failing health for the past five years. He passed away from this life June 25, 1920, at the age of 77 years, 1 month and 4 days.

Funeral services were conducted at the Friends church on Sunday afternoon by Rev. Fred E. Carter, the pastor.

DEMOCRATIC LOVE FEAST AT SAN FRANCISCO

The big show is on at San Francisco this week and the first one comes appears to be anybody's guess, up to the time of going to press.

Nominating speeches were made on Tuesday for ten different candidates, including Owen, Palmer, Hitchcock, McAdoo, Edwards, Meredith, Cox, Cummings, Smith and Gerard and the going was still good. W. J. Bryan is on deck with both feet to see that the wets don't put one over, and of course they are showing their love for him.

The events of the week are being watched with great interest all over the country, and before the Graphic reaches all its readers we shall know who the Democratic nominee for president is to be.

FOUR HEARTS NOW BEAT AS TWO

Matthews-Everest Nuptials Tuesday Afternoon—Lichtenthaler-Everest Wednesday Afternoon

One of the most beautiful, simple weddings of the summer took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Everest, at noon, Tuesday, when their daughter, Goldie, was married to Donald N. Matthews, of Salem, Rev. Jewell of the First Baptist church officiating.

The bride was lovely in a rich white satin gown and a bridal veil caught with white sweet peas. She carried an arm bouquet of white sweet peas.

The rooms were beautifully decorated in pink and green. Miss Mina Ames played the wedding march.

Immediately after the ceremony a dainty two course luncheon was served. The table was attractively decorated in yellow, with dainty place cards in the same color. Places were laid for Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Everest, Mr. and Mrs. James Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Matthews, Miss Agnes Powell, Miss Irene Powell, Miss Helen Everest, Miss Eva Parrett, Rev. Mr. Jewell, Oliver Matthews, and the Masters Clayton, Chester and Gene Everest.

Immediately after the luncheon the bride and groom left for an extended camping trip, after which they expect to return and make their home in Newberg, where Mr. Matthews will act as science instructor in the high school. Mrs. Matthews will retain her position in the public school.

NEW DUNDEE SECTION WEST SIDE HIGHWAY

By invitation of J. R. Mitchell, the engineer who has charge of the work on the new road leading from West First street to the southwest in the direction of Dundee, the writer took a ride over the road Monday evening. The new bridge across Chehalis creek is set down several feet lower than the railroad bridge, making a deep cut necessary on the south side and a grade of about 5 per cent for a short distance.

Beyond that no great amount of work has been necessary, aside from the side ditches made for drainage. A straight shot is made in the direction of Dundee after the creek is crossed and when the road is completed it will make a nice stretch of the West Side Highway. The contract for putting on the gravel is to be let in a few days. Mr. Mitchell has been accustomed to doing railroad work and says this is his first experience in highway engineering.

The wedding took place at the home of the bride's mother, with the Rev. J. E. Thomas of the Calvary Baptist church of Portland officiating.

The Everest home was artistically decorated, and the bridal bower was formed of woodland greens and orange blossoms. The bride was very attractive in a tailored traveling suit. She carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses. Miss Clare Gumelius was bridesmaid and A. B. Christenson, of Portland, acted as best man.

After the ceremony an elaborate five course dinner was served at a beautifully appointed table in the grape arbor. Places were laid for Mrs. E. G. Lichtenthaler, Mrs. Josephine Everest, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lichtenthaler, Mrs. M. D. Lichtenthaler, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sommers, Miss Mina Ames, Miss Clare Gumelius, Miss Eva Parrett, A. B. Christenson, J. E. Thomas, Homer Parrett, and George Everest.

Immediately after the dinner the bride and groom left for a short wedding trip.

Taylor's Singing Band Is Coming

Chautauqua Presents Splendid Company on Fourth Day

Taylor's Singing Band brings to Chautauqua two of the big musical programs of the week on the fourth day. For several years they have been heavily featured in the East and are recognized as one of the genuine musical successes of the platform. This splendid organization is a singing band with a program of unusual variety. They have ensemble seldom found in organizations of twice their size. They all possess fine voices and are masters on their many band instruments. The best in the musical library is to be found in their programs, balanced with lighter music and popular airs. Their two programs are of such excellence and variety that whatever your musical taste may be you will be genuinely surprised and pleased. Tom Corwine, inimitable entertainer, will add to the joy of the day by appearing both afternoon and evening.
