Mr. and Mrs. Tyre Hutchens and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Gubser were out from Portland to celebrate.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Edwards joined Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Edwards, of Portland, in a trip to Tillamook for the Fourth.

Dan Atkinson went to Tillamook the first of the week in response to a telephone message telling of the serious illness of his father, James Atkinson.

W. E. Burke went to Salem today to confer with the head office of the Co-operative Growers' Association, he being a member of the association.

H. A. Page and Dan Balch left here on Friday of last week for an auto trip to Burns, Harney county, where Mr. Page has a son. A card written to Mrs. Page says they got through in good shape.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Gubser, son-in-law and daughter of Luther Charles, formerly of Newberg, are here from Fort Rock, Crook county, looking for a location, and are camping in the meantime on his brother's place out west of town.

R. M. Caldwell is at Sheridan this week receiving the wool pool of some 40,000 pounds, which he recently bought for the Santiam Woolen Mills. The price ranges from about 21 cents for the coarse to a higher figure for the fine wool.

Norman Schatz, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Schatz, who was recently married to Miss Ruth F. Adams, of North Yakima, Washington, is here with his new bride to spend the honeymoon. They will return to Yakima where he has a good position.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Van Blaricom and Mr. and Mrs. Mack Kaufman went to Vernonia the first of the week to see Mrs. Riley Kaufman and children who are up from Southern California for a visit. They did a bit of fishing and were fairly successful.

Henry McGuire says there was a Bald eagle out their way Monday evening that had the appearance of one that might have been in captivity for a long time, as it could scarcely fly up into a tree. An eagle is scarcely ever seen this far away from the mountains.

Rev. C. T. Whittlesey, who was down from Philomath a few days ago looking after his Springbrook cherry crop, said that Mrs. Whittlesey's sister, Mrs. John T. Duker, with her husband and their son, Horace E. Duker, who is the editor of the Rockford, Illinois, Star, were out from Rockford on a visit.

D. C. Glick came in with a fine sample of growing oats, Tuesday, that he selected from a small patch he has on his ranch out west of town. He said it was so thin on the ground for a time that he thought of plowing it up but that it stood out later and now stands close to six feet in height and thick on the ground.

Mrs. Minnie Cooper arrived home from San Francisco Wednesday morning where she went to attend the big convention and said it was a great experience but that one time was enough. She had a seat with the Kansas delegation, she having been employed at the Democratic headquarters in Kansas before coming to Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Paxson are here from Lake Arthur, Louisiana, where he was engaged in publishing a local newspaper for eighteen years, but says he has reformed. This is not their first visit to Oregon, they having been here some twenty years ago, but they came this time to locate. Mr. Paxson is a brother of Wm. Paxson, of Newberg. This is the third ex-newspaper man to locate in this vicinity recently and occasional visits from them for a smell of printer's ink will be expected at the Graphic office.

August Raymond, of St. Paul, died last Sunday from the effects of injuries received a few evenings before when he was hit by an automobile. In the dusk of the evening he was walking in the road on his way home when an automobile going in the same direction struck him. The car was driven by J. B. Manegre, formerly of St. Paul, who now lives in Portland. His statement is that he thought it was a son of Mr. Raymond and that he was trying to fool him with the spotlight on the car. The age of the deceased was 67 years and he was in excellent health.

It Will Pay You To Give a Thought to Your EYES

For many people go through life with Headaches, and Nervous, never feeling good, just because of eye strain. Many of these people believe their eyes are free from strain because their eyes do not hurt. This is the reason that many people go through life miserable, never dreaming all their trouble is caused because their eyes are robbing nerve force from other parts of their body. Negligence is costly.

C. A. MORRIS JEWELER AND OPTOMETRIST Newberg, Oregon

Dr. E. A. Romig was up from Sherwood Monday.

The Multnomah Guard band, of Portland, was a special feature in Monday's celebration that was greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. E. H. Foster, of Columbus, Ohio, who makes yearly visits here with her sister, Mrs. Eva H. Hull, arrived here on Monday and began a campaign among her friends at once for the support of Harding. She says she lived in Marion, Ohio, the Harding home, at one time and says the Hardings are all that their most enthusiastic friends and supporters claim for them.

Hon. Harry B. Miller, one time state senator from Jackson county, who now lives in Portland, passed through Newberg Monday on his way home from Sheridan where he has extensive prune and apple interests. Back in the days when Populism was running rampant in Oregon Mr. Miller closed a hot campaign with a speech delivered here that may be recalled by some of the Graphic readers, since national politics is claiming the attention of the people just now. For the closing night of the campaign the Pops had the only hall in town, known as Armory hall, engaged a long time in advance in order to head off the Republicans. The latter, not to be outdone, engaged Mr. Miller, then one of the most forceful and popular speakers in the state, for that night. The fair building, which stood at the foot of South Meridian street, was utilized, the band was out to head the procession and on the arrival of Mr. Miller he was escorted to the place in a big wagon, taking nearly all the people away from the hall.
