DUNDEE

Mrs. Clark Noble spent Saturday in Portland.

Spencer Vedder and Harold Parrett have gone to Condon for the harvest season.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Morecroft have bought a farm near Vancouver and will move sometime in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Holt and Wesley and Beatrice Holt were Monday guests of John Workman at Sylvans Springs Farm.

Mrs. Palmer was universally loved and will be greatly missed in the community. But her gentleness, tender sympathy, happy ways and genial smile are still with us, constant reminders of her beautiful soul.

A nice letter from Isabella Allan which came a few days ago tells of her and her mother's pleasant sojourn at Mt. Hood hotel at Hood River. Mrs. Allan's health is steadily improving in the change of atmosphere.

In the absence of the pastor Rev. Gibson of Newberg conducted the services, the church being filled with Mrs. Palmer's relatives and friends, including a large delegation of members of the Woman's Relief Corps of Newberg, of which organization Mrs. Palmer was a member. Interment was in the family lot at the Dundee cemetery.

Mrs. Swink is in receipt of a letter from Mr. Swink from San Francisco telling of his pleasant meeting with Rev. Geo. Greer and Ernest Thun. Mr. Swink thinks he has never seen such a wonderful city as San Francisco and he is delighted with it. Perhaps the fact that his health is much improved since going to San Francisco helps to make the new environment attractive.

D. L. Terry, who attended the convention of Realtors in Spokane a week or so ago, is in Cuver, Or., looking over the territory with the prospect of locating there. Later Mr. Terry did not like the eastern part of the state as well as the western and has returned and accepted a position in the Farm Dept. of the Frank McGuire Co. of Portland. Mr. Terry begins work in the new field on Monday, August 1st.

Fleming Livengood, one of Dundee's oldest settlers, passed away at the home of his son, Albert, July 24. Mr. Livengood was born in Fountain County, Indiana, Sept. 16, 1838. He came to Oregon in 1855. In 1869 he married Louise Jane Ramsey, who died July 11, 1911. Five children, four of whom are living, were born to them. Surviving children are Walter, Albert and Scott Livengood of Dundee, and Mr. Edward Wilson of Canby. Mr. Livengood is also survived by the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Clara Davidson of Oswego, Or.; Mrs. Harriet Shuck of Yamhill, Or.; Mrs. Sarah Mackie of Newberg, Or.; John Livengood of Dundee, Or.; Henry Livengood of Fernwood, Or.; Solomon and Charles Frank Livengood of Dayton, Wash. Mr. Livengood's funeral services were held at Hollingsworth's chapel in Newberg and interment at the Dundee cemetery.

Roe R. Robison and party have returned from an outing on Mt. Hood. Mr. Robison's guests were his cousin, Miss Nina Robison; his niece, Miss Dorothy Robison; Byrd Handley and Rudolph Schwebel. Mr. Robison reports a perfect day for the climb except a smokiness on the far horizon that interfered somewhat with the distant view. The party stayed at Government Camp, from which point a guide was obtained. The stop at the crater where the steam and sulphur fumes reminded them of what the inside of this old earth might be like was enjoyed. The party took the new trail to the west, avoiding the hazardous bridge over the big crevasse. Mr. Robison says the slide down the mountain was worth the climb. All the members of the party are enthusiastic over the beauties of the outing. Mr. Robison says: "It was a grand trip."

Of all the homemakers in Dundee there has never been one who has had more of a love for flowers or who took more pains in having a beautiful flower garden than Mrs. Cyrene Palmer. Hence, it seemed especially fitting that her friends in Dundee should take a tender and loving pleasure in preparing beautiful decorations for her funeral services. It was one of Mrs. Palmer's requests that the church should be decorated after the manner that she used so often in preparing it for special occasions. But added to the general scheme of green and white there was a wonderful profusion of all the flowers of the season, loving tributes from the various homes where Mrs. Palmer had always been so loved. A general committee of members of the Ladies' Aid Society, Dundee Woman's Club, and Women of Woodcraft met in the forenoon and prepared beautiful set pieces and hosts of friends from Dundee, Newberg and Chehalis Center added their contributions.

Tactless, indeed.
Miss Gidday—How old do you think I am?
Tactless Man—Oh, I should say thirty-five.
Miss G.—Hm! You are ten years out of the way.
T. M.—Why, my dear lady! You can't really be forty-five!—Boston Transcript.

REX

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Lewis and Mrs. O. Woodworth are off for a motor trip to California and expect to camp along the way and have a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ballgreaser, of Portland, called on Mr. and Mrs. O. Woodworth when on their way to Haney county for a two weeks' fishing trip.

Furmland Tomkins, of St. Paul, Minnesota, and Miss Woodworth, of Portland, spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. O. Woodworth. Mr. Tomkins and Mr. Woodworth were former schoolmates and although they had not met for thirty-six years, each recognized the other.

Headed by Mayor and Mrs. George L. Baker, of Portland, a special party of Ad Clubbers visited the home of Ed Merlin, a life member, at Rex, Monday night. A large bouquet of flowers with messages from other members who could not come was presented to Mr. Merlin which was received with a great deal of delight and with pleasant recollections of former days. Mr. Merlin has been in ill health for many months, due to a nervous breakdown. The party included Mayor and Mrs. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Callan, Walter Conklin, John Dougall, Ed Jaeger and A. G. Clark.

DIED TO ESCAPE SUFFERING

Crew of Crippled Hun Submarine Took the Easiest Way Out of a Hopeless Situation.

Admiral Sims in the World's Work tells of the efficiency of the sub-chaser listening devices. Once when a submarine had been injured and was lying on the bottom in shallow water a growling noise was heard. They listened for hours, without hearing a sound; but about 5 o'clock in the afternoon a sharp piercing noise came ringing over the wires. It was a sound that made the listeners' blood run cold.

Only one thing in the world could make a sound like that. It was the crack of a revolver. The first report had hardly stilled when another shot was heard; and then there were more in rapid succession. The listeners on two different chasers heard these pistol cracks and counted them; the reports which these men independently made agreed in every detail. In all 25 shots came from the bottom of the sea. As there were from 25 to 30 men in the submarine crew the meaning was all too evident. The larger part of the officers and men, finding themselves shut tightly in their coffin of steel, had resorted to that escape which was not uncommonly availed of by German submarine crews in this hideous war. Nearly all of them had committed suicide.

Gen. Benjamin Butler's Wit.
General Butler was the leader of the house in 1875 and Samuel J. Randall leader of the Democratic side. As the Forty-third congress was about to close I was with Randall when Butler came up, and Randall asked him to hold a Sunday session. Butler said no, he would not consent to it; he never would do any work on Sunday that was not necessary.

Randall turned and chaffingly said: "Oh, that is your New England Puritanism, I suppose. That serves you to good purpose, and I expect to meet you some day, Butler, in another and better world."

Butler replied in a flash: "Oh, no, Sam; you will be there, as you are here, a member of the lower house."—Melville E. Stone, in Collier's Weekly.
