NO "ROUGHING IT" FOR JAPS

Oriental on Pacific Coast Not to Be Lured From the Conveniences of City Life.

J. F. Brown, sage and philosopher of Nolte's board of strategy table, has some sad experiences with Japanese laborers, particularly when wanted for his ranch on Molokai. He says he has made the rounds of Japanese auto stands where orientals in spick and span clothes wait and loaf all day long for a passenger, content to do that rather than take a real honest-to-goodness job. He makes his offer of wages, good wages, with house and fuel and water and so on.

Sucking his breath through his teeth, and after some reflection, the Japanese inquires: "You got barber shop there?" Brown was taken off his feet when this question was first propounded. No, he didn't know of a barber shop around. His ranch is well up in the mountains, one of the most beautiful places in the islands.

"You got store?" Brown confesses to a store three miles away. More reflection. "You got picture house?" Brown blinks at this question even now.

Finally, the Japanese says one thing more. "No can go. Me got brother ver-ry seck. Too bad. I sor-ry."—Pacific Commercial Advertiser.

WILL SIFT ANCIENT MOUNDS

Archaeologists Plan Most Thorough Examination of Structures at Camp Sherman, in Ohio.

Excavations of seven prehistoric mounds at Camp Sherman will be started by Dr. William C. Mills, curator of the Ohio State Archeological and Historical society. The farm on which the mounds are situated was one of those condemned and purchased by the government for Camp Sherman. The only examination ever made of the mounds was by Squier and Davis in 1846. Relics they uncovered were purchased by the Blackmore museum, Salisbury, England, for $10,000.

Squier and Davis were responsible for the conclusion that the mounds were built by a distinct race, known as "Mound Builders." This theory is vigorously contested by Doctor Mills and other noted archeologists. They say there is conclusive evidence that the mounds were built by American Indians of the Algonquin family. Squier and Davis, in their examination of the mounds, merely tunneled several of the mounds. Doctor Mills will completely tear them down sifting a great part of the dirt through screens. There are 23 mounds in the group. Some already have been excavated by Doctor Mills. One was found to contain 133 skeletons and 12,000 specimens of flint, copper and pottery implements and vessels.

"Little Zion" Becomes Park. Three hundred miles south of Salt Lake City and reached by automobile from Lund, Utah, is Little Zion canyon, the newest of American national playgrounds.

The canyon derives its name from Salt Lake City, which about 50 years ago was known as Zion. Brigham Young and other Mormons visited the district and the inhabitants decided that they would call the canyon "Little Zion," evidently considering Salt Lake City a big place.

Within the last few years, Little Zion canyon has been visited by a large number of tourists and some of them have termed it "The Rainbow of the Desert."

There are deep canyons with cliffs of blood red and cliffs of cream white rising to a height of 2,500 feet. Huge natural bridges and level-topped plateaus, with precipitous cliffs and picturesque amphitheatres, provide a picture that strikes one with awe.—Christian Science Monitor.

When Mankind Was Young.

Not being as well informed as Dr. W. D. Matthews, curator of the American Museum of Natural History, is about the matter, you have to take his word for it. "It" happens to be the "Telnoden," or "Terrible Tooth," a prehistoric animal that must have resembled some equally prehistoric delirium tremens animal.

What really interests us is the following statement from Doctor Matthews:

"At that time our ancestors were little, opossumlike, furry creatures, living in trees and quite too small and inconspicuous to be troubled by the huge reptiles who in those days held the earth in fee."

The opossum, like a lot of men, is fond of snoozing.

Heart Expose Bullets.

During the war surgeons did some extraordinary operations on the heart. An account of these and of the technique is given by Sir Charles Ballance, consulting surgeon of St. Thomas' hospital, London, in the Lancet. An interesting fact related by him is that bullets that penetrated the heart were often expelled through the aorta with the blood and were found at remote parts of the body where they had stuck in an artery.

PIFFLE FOR CALLOW YOUTH

Advice Handed Out by Successful Business Men is, to Use a Slang Phrase, Bunk.

A successful lumber merchant has been giving a newspaper interviewer a few of the mental wrinkles that influenced him in the making of money. Here are some of them:

"If your initials spell a word it means you will be rich.

"If, on the other hand, you mend a garment while wearing it, you will always be poor.

"If your right hand itches it is a sign that you will receive money. If your left hand itches you will spend it. This is because right begins with R and R stands for receive, while L stands for let go.

"When you see a shooting star you should say 'money.' As many times as you are able to say the word during the fall of the star, so many extra dollars will you have in your pocket as a result."

Helpful words, aren't they? Well, they are no better and no worse than the bulk of the talk handed out by successful men for the guidance of their fellows—that is, in the matter of making money. The rich or successful business man doesn't disclose his real secrets—if he has any—though he often attends club luncheons or dinners and makes a speech pretending to do so.—Philadelphia Record.

NOTHING TO IT AS A PIE

With Lemon Filling Gone, Remains of Confection Could Only Be Classed as "Squash."

A business man of Jeffersonville, active in the councils of the Young Business Men's club and of the Rotary club and one of whose outstanding characteristics is a liking for pie, says he has learned a perfectly good way of making squash pie out of lemon pie, but prefers the latter kind, says the Indianapolis Star. He had been to a sale in Utica township, not to buy, but attracted by the fame of the cooks who were to serve pie. He surrounded one lemon pie and asked to have another packed to take home—for his wife, he said. The women packed it between two paper dishes, the upper one inverted, and then wrapped it in newspaper. He placed it on the back seat of his automobile and started for home. Unfortunately he gave a friend the package for a cushion. When the package was turned over to the lady of the house and was opened by her it consisted of an upper paper dish, an upper pie crust, a lower pie crust and a lower paper dish; that was all. It was a clear case of "squash," and not a sign of lemon filling left.

Horses Once Reverenced.

The sacrifice of horses characterized the Scandinavian and Teutonic cults, whilst Tacitus tells us that the Germans sought omens and oracles from white horses kept at the public expense in sacred woods and groves, pure from the taint of earthly labor, but that on solemn occasions these were yoked to the sacred chariot and were accompanied by the king or chief of the tribe and the priest, who noted their neighings and snortings, and that no species of divination was more trusted, not only by the people and the nobles, but by the priests who regarded themselves as the ministers of the gods and the horses as acquainted with their will. It has been commonly believed, though on insufficient evidence, that the Saxons invaders of Britain bore banners blazoned with a white horse.
