

DUNDEE

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Olmstead were Saturday-Sunday visitors in Portland.

Mrs. W. S. Allan has returned from a sojourn at Hood River. She is much improved in health after a month of the invigorating breezes from Mt. Hood.

Mrs. Wm. Wilson and Mrs. Roe Robison, having birthdays only one day apart, celebrated with a picnic dinner at the Allan Grove on Sunday. Besides the Wilson and Robison families, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Noble, Mr. and Mrs. Booth and family and A. Hawley, of Newberg, enjoyed the neighborly gathering.

All Dundee will be glad to know that Fred Hutchinson's wonderful constitution is battling for his recovery with conditions a little more favorable each day. Fred was taken to Portland to the Good Samaritan hospital the middle of the week for an X-ray examination and where some of the best specialists in the state are doing all in their power to assist him back to health. Fred is a general favorite in Dundee and the hopes and prayers of the whole community are with him for his recovery.

Twice this week John A. Workman has brought out friends and relatives from Portland to enjoy a day at Sylvanus Springs Farm. Mrs. Jean Hattan, Mrs. G. Ward and Mrs. H. F. Ruger were the Friday guests and Mrs. Ora Workman, Mrs. Beulah Speelman and Mrs. A. B. Stone comprised the Monday company. Both parties made a short call at Otterbrook to see the wonderful grape vine and the maple tree. One of the visitors remarked: "It is worth the trip from Portland just to see that tree."

Rev. A. C. Grier, the Misses Gladys and Joyce Grier, and Miss Maud Bullock, of Spokane, who have been touring the coast by auto, spent Friday night at Otterbrook, leaving for Portland Saturday afternoon, where Mr. Grier had several engagements to speak before continuing his missionary journey northward. On Sunday afternoon Mr. Grier gave the address at the dedication of the Realization Song Book at the special services in the auditorium of the Lincoln High school in Portland. Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Grier, W. Andrus and Sheldon Mills drove to Portland for the services.

CHEHALEM CENTER

Frank Remillard was home from Portland Sunday for a visit.

Burbin Graves returned home last Tuesday from Wiser, Idaho.

Mr. and Mrs. John Graves and daughters motored to Portland the first of the week in that new Ford.

The berry season is over and Mr. Graves and others report very satisfactory results from their crops. The grain harvest is now in progress.

Rev. L. Clarkson Hinshaw, Evangelistic Superintendent of Oregon Yearly Meeting, is holding a revival meeting at the church, and will continue until August 15th. Everyone is cordially invited to attend these meetings. Evening services throughout the week at 8 o'clock.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. meet with Mrs. Edith Walton this Wednesday. Next Thursday, August 19th, the W. C. T. U. convention meets at the school house in an all day meeting. The ladies of Chehalem Center will serve one of their old-time picnic dinners. Let all the ladies do their best to entertain the McMinnville, Newberg, Amity, Bellevue visitors.

Mrs. Marie Tangen returned home from Portland, Friday, and on her arrival she was happily surprised by finding her brother from Seattle, Mr. Andrew Kirkebo, who came for a visit. He had not been out this way for seven years. He returned home Monday. Mrs. Tangen and daughters, Misses Elsie and Anna, accompanied him to Portland. Mrs. Tangen's nephew, Bernard Kirkebo, from Tacoma, came Monday for a visit.

Obeying Orders

The foreman swore at Cassidy for not taking a full load of bricks up the ladder every trip.

One morning the supply of bricks ran out and Cassidy, after gathering every one in sight, found he was still short the proper number. He yelled to a workman on the fifth floor.

"What do you want?" asked the man.

"Throw me down wan brick," shouted Cassidy, "to make good me load!"—Everybody's Magazine.

Old Salt—Yes, sir, I fell over the side of the ship, and a shark came along and grabbed me by the leg. Visitor—Good gracious! And what did you do? Old Salt—Let 'im 'ave the leg, o' course. I never argue wth sharks.—Boston Globe.
