Russell Jones and family who came from Cascades, Montana, are visiting with the Asa Sutton family out at Shady Nook and are said to be well pleased with the surroundings here. Mr. Jones is a brother of Mrs. Sutton.

On Friday evening of last week Judge Wallace McCamant spoke to a good sized audience at Duncan's hall from a republican standpoint this being the only political speech made in Newberg during the campaign.

W. A. Moore has received word that his mother, Mrs. E. J. Moore, who was visiting here last winter and spring, died at the home of her son, E. J. Moore, in Elgin county, Minnesota on last Saturday, aged 74 years.

Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Gregory, who recently sold their property on the corner of First and Blaine streets to Fred Blanchard, are leaving for Pasco, Washington, with a car of personal effects, where they have an alfalfa tract of 22 acres.

The attention of the officers and members of the ladies auxiliary to Lester C. Rees Post is called to the regular meeting, which will be held on the second of December at 8 p. m., when important business will be taken up. By order of the Vice-president.

J. F. Taylor received a telegram Wednesday from a nephew at Indianapolis giving information of the death of his mother, Sarah Taylor, who was past 91 years of age. Deceased spent considerable time here several years ago and her sunny disposition will be remembered by many who may read this notice of her passing.

The funeral of Mrs. Emma Swick, a widow aged 56 years who died at her home on the farm above Dundee, was held in Newberg at the W. W. Hollingsworth Co. chapel last Sunday afternoon and was conducted by Rev. George H. Lee. The body was taken to Portland and placed in a vault at the Portland Crematorium, along with the remains of her husband who died about a year ago.

R. A. Spivey has arrived home after an absence of four weeks spent in Nebraska and Kansas. The farmers in these states are cribbing their corn as they are only offered 60 cents a bushel. They are also holding their wheat for a three dollar market. It is claimed by these farmers that with $3.00 wheat, bread can be profitably sold at three cents a loaf. The farmers are combining for better prices for their products and believe their efforts will prove successful.

Besides the husband she left six children, all of whom are at home. Funeral services were conducted at the Hodson Chapel Wednesday afternoon by Rev. K. H. Sickafoose.

The opening of the lyceum for the season was most satisfactory in every way. The sale of season tickets was all that could be desired and the opening number by the "Temple Choir," given on Thursday night of last week, was greeted by a large audience who gave hearty cheers as the well balanced program was rendered, number by number. Many words in commendation of the "Temple Choir," as to personality and their high class program, have been spoken by those who heard them.

The Newberg Creamery company is making an effort to secure an ample supply of water for the plats by means of a bored well which has already reached a depth of 358 feet, this being considerably more the 100 feet below sea level. In boring, a good supply of water was reached at the ordinary water level, but on going on down farther hard blue clay was reached, which for many feet was as dry as a bone, and not until the drill went through this strata and reached sand was water again struck. A pump was set to going and kept busy for several hours. A large quantity of fine sand, much like the sand on the seashore was raised and the company hopes that enough more may be raised to produce a large interior reservoir, sufficient to hold an abundance of water. R. N. Hutchins and his partner are doing the work with their boring machine. The increase made in the water rates for commercial purpose will probably result in other firms putting down deep wells.

OBITUARY

Isaac Benj. Huntington was born in Brown county, Indiana, January 30, 1851.

In 1852 he crossed the plains, with ox teams, with his parents and settled in the Cowlitz river valley, Washington, near the present town of Castle Rock.

In 1874 on the ninth of November at Castle Rock, he married Miss Annie Pyle and to them were born five children, two of whom live to mourn his death. His wife died October 3, 1886.

In 1889, on the 20th of November, at Castle Rock, he was united in marriage to Miss May Whitney and to this union two children were born, both of whom live to mourn the loss of their father.

In September 1903 he united with the M. E. church and was a faithful member through life, though a great deal of the time for the past two years his health did not permit him to attend services.

On Sunday, October 17, while walking to church with his wife he was suddenly called to the land beyond, where no pain or death ever enter.

He leaves to mourn his going the following: his widow, Mrs. May Huntington and his youngest son, Bennie, of Newberg; two daughters; Mrs. W. Brown, of Hubbard, Mrs. W. F. Tate of Yoncalla, and one son at Castle Rock, Washington, ten grandchildren and one little great grandson; a sister, Mrs. Eunice Olson of Kelso, Washington.

The deceased was a good neighbor and true friend and many will miss his kindly face. He was laid to rest in the local cemetery.

NEW ILLUSTRATED BOOKLET

"California for the Tourist" a new twenty-four page illustrated booklet issued by the Southern Pacific is just off the press. The cover design is a work of art in five colors, the "Golden Poppy" so characteristic of California being shown on a background of ultra marine blue. The general arrangement of manuscript and engravings is exceptionally good.

The introduction graphically describes California and the Shasta, Sunset and Ogden routes.

The charms of San Francisco and vicinity, Sacramento, Los Angeles and San Diego and other interesting places are briefly mentioned and pictured as are a number of the famous resort hotels.

Some of the many attractive seaside resorts are described. Illustrations of the pleasures of these resorts are neatly shown. Artistically arranged are several pictures illustrating outdoor sports and pastimes, Polo, Golf, Tennis and motoring.

The Lake Tahoe Country, California's National Parks and Mountain Pastures all receive deserving attention. For those interested in historic places, the romantic old Franciscan Missions are beautifully pictured. The names, locations and dates of founding are also given.

The booklet, as a whole, is a nifty piece of artistic coloring, wording and arrangement. Copies are to be had on application to Agents, Southern Pacific.

NEAR EAST RELIEF

Editor Graphic: I recall that during the past year you have been one of the editors most interested in the Near Eastern problem and especially helpful in getting the situation before the public.

I have just returned from the heart of Armenia and would give a great deal for the power to lend you my eyes so that you could visualize some of the results accomplished through your cooperation.

You would be impressed first of all by the vast numbers who gathered in every city to express their gratitude for what has been done for them during the past year. At least a half million people are living today who would have perished had it not been for such assistance.

You would be impressed too, I am sure, by the evidence of thrift and industry; and by the heroic efforts at recuperation under almost insuperable handicaps; but most of all you would be thrilled by the thousands of children—war orphans, rendered homeless by massacre and deportation now cared for in Near East Relief orphanages. These children are the hope of the "New Near East." The vision of the future as reflected in their faces would banish any misgivings as to the worth-whileness of your work.

This saving of a nation would have been utterly impossible without the cooperation that you and other editors give in keeping the facts before the public. In the name of those whom I have seen and talked with, I thank you for the altruism that has moved you.

Sincerely yours,
C. V. Viskrey,
General Secretary

"IT SERVES YOU RIGHT"

A NEAR BLAZE

The fire department was called to the I. W. Brown home out on the Portland road beyond the city limits by a fire alarm last Friday. On arriving at the scene of the fire they were informed that the fire was up stairs but the stairway was filled with smoke so that they were unable to reach the second floor, and that was all they could tell about the fire, but some of the fire ladders made their way up the stairs and crawled into the room where the fire originated and extinguished the blaze with chemicals. After doors and windows were opened and the smoke had escaped so they were enabled to examine the surroundings, it was found that the building had not been on fire, but that a wooden tray containing walnuts had been placed too near the stove and had ignited, and but for the fact that the room was tight and without ventilation there might have been a disastrous fire. The fire lads did their work promptly as usual but they don't get paid for fire fighting outside of the city limits, and such being the case it looks to a man up a tree that it would be the fair and proper thing for the citizens to vote at the special election in December for bond issue to purchase the equipment so badly needed in this city to prevent losses by fire. We can't always hope to escape bad fires and $3,000 worth of prevention in the way of modern equipment is far cheaper than a disastrous fire which is liable to occur at any time.

Beauty Builders

That add the joy of a beautiful complexion to your life.

Cocoa Butter Cold Cream

An excellent skin food and massage cream. It should be used at night and a small amount left on over night, so the delicate tissue of the skin can absorb it.

Rexall Medicated Skin Soap

A high grade toilet soap possessing cleansing, antiseptic, and healing qualities, mildly perfumed; it leaves the skin feeling cool and clean.

Arbutus Complexion Cream

A delightfully perfumed smooth white vanishing cream. Should be applied before going out. It is an excellent powder base; it prevents the powder from clogging up the pores of the skin and cause it to adhere better and spread more evenly.

Bouquet Ramee Face Powder

A medium weight face powder delicately perfumed, clings to the skin and protects it against climatic changes. It leaves that charming, soft appearance.
