THURSDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1920.

As the years have gone by the Graphic has been the medium through which many people have told of the passing of their loved ones on to the life beyond the grave, and now for the second time the editor and publisher must tell of the going away of one of his own household. There are so many things that may come to one in this life that are worse than death, that it is unbecomingly to give one's self over to undue grief when a loved one has passed peacefully to rest, and with us, kind neighbors and friends have left nothing undone in their efforts to help lighten the burden of the hour. Among the many tokens of sympathy sent there were some lines on "What is Death" that are so full of hope and cheer that we give them here for the encouragement of others:

What is Death?
Just a night wherein the sleeper,
Laying down his griefs and care,
Calmly waits the hour that gives him
Light and sunrise everywhere.

What is Death?
Just an ebbing tide, that carries
Some worn craft far out to sea,
Leaving it to rest, unthreatened,
Where no rocks nor tempest be.

What is Death?
Just a short and harmless journey,
Through a canyon dark and still,
To the smiling vales and meadows
And the sunlight of the hill.

What is Death?
Just a common little crossing
Of the waters of the bay,
On the ferry-boat that paddles
T'ween the shores of Night and Day.

What is Death?
Just a parting where the hand-clasp
Scarce is cold, the tears scarce
dried,
When again they clasp and mingle
On the other brighter side.

What is Death?
Naught to dread, nor yet to shrink
from,
Since it means to meet once more
All the friends and dearer loved ones
Who've loved God and gone before.

DUNDEE

The high school "freshies" gave a party at the Community Hall last Saturday night, and take it from us a better time could not have been had.

The sale of Christmas stamps for the benefit of the Oregon Tuberculosis association is now on and through kindness and a willingness to help along a good cause, these stamps may be purchased at the following places: Gordon's store, Paul Groth's, the Post office, and the school.

Did you practise "watchful waiting"? We did, and by so doing we have discovered that the "Woman's Club" is to give an immense "Community Fair" at the Community Hall on Saturday December 11.

The many friends of Mrs. Lola Morecroft are sorry to learn that she has just undergone a serious operation and will not be able to fulfill her duties at the high school for a short time.

The Y. M. P. C. basketball team of Dundee, defeated the local high school alumni, in a hard fought, closely contested game here Thanksgiving evening to the tune of 23 to 22. One alumni player was out of commission on account of a bad cold while another did not show up for some reason, so that Wm. Hutchinson a high school senior was put in to uphold the honor of the alumni. The score stood 21 to 22 in favor of the alumni up to the last minute of the game, when Paul Neiderberger saved the day for the club, by eging the last basket. The lineup was as follows:

Y. M. P. C.
(F) Neiderberger, A.	(5)
(F) Neiderberger, P.	(6)

FERNWOOD

Mrs. Mae McLeod, of Portland, was a visitor at the W. A. Parrish home Saturday night and Sunday.

The intermediate Sunday school class gave a party at the gym last Friday evening. From reports all had a fine time. For a change the boys furnished the refreshments.

The latter part of last week Arthur Parrish and Fred Ross made a trip to Portland and purchased a new lighting system for the gym. It is now being installed.

There were 79 present at Sunday school last Sunday. The school is growing and if you are not attending you will be welcomed if you will show up next Sunday at 9:45 o'clock.

Wesley Boyes and family spent Thanksgiving in Portland with the Charley Lapp family.

Don't forget the big social at the gym Saturday evening. The men will furnish the pies and the ladies should go prepared to buy them. There will be a short program following the sale of the pies.

George Smith and family were visitors at Harry Bakers Sunday.

Mrs. Myrtle Fortune, of Newberg, spent Sunday at A. B. Scherfs.

It is reported that Mary Hobson has recently been married. No further particulars are known.

Irene Powell, who is working in Portland was home, the latter part of last week.

Grover Livengood made a business trip to Portland the last of the week.

Irwin Montieth, a student at O. A. C. has been visiting the Joe Powell family for a few days.

Set boiled potatoes away in covered dish—they will not have surface dried to cut away and waste.

CHEHALEM CENTER

Rev. and Mrs. Paul Lewis were over to Scotts Mills this week.

Mrs. Marie Christiansen is suffering from an injury received in the left leg while being moved from her chair to her bed.

Miss Anna Tangen spent Thanksgiving at Tillamook.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hendrickson and little son Robert, journeyed to Portland to spend Thanksgiving at the home of Wm. Hall and family.

Miss Elsie Tangen returned to Portland Friday.

On the evening of Thanksgiving day, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Staley entertained a number of friends and neighbors with an oyster supper—cake and homemade candies of choice varieties were served, it being the anniversary of Forest Staley's birthday. The evening passed away very pleasantly with games and music.

The W. G. T. U. held their last meeting at the home of Mrs. Marie Tangen. Quite a number were present. Reports were given of the work done during the last quarter of the year. Mrs. Staley gave a splendid writeup of the state convention, which she attended. Next meeting will take place next Wednesday at the home of Mary P. Johnson. Let all the ladies come and bring their friends along.

Next Parent-Teacher's meeting is to be held December 10. There were not many present at the last meeting. It is planned to hold a debate at the next meeting and have a social meeting afterwards, while ginger cake and cookies are being served with coffee.

WEST CHEHALEM

Mr. Winn and family and Walter Winn spent Thanksgiving at the home of their father in Dayton.

Elroy Follett, who is a resident of Tillamook county, but formerly of West Chehalis spent Thanksgiving with home folks.

There are some good dogs in the community while others are not so good. At least that is the experience of J. U. Smith, who went to Portland last Saturday. Upon his arrival home he found that some mischievous dogs had slaughtered a dozen of his finest full blood Rhode Island Red hens.

The Thanksgiving exercises at West Chehalis were a success. Every seat in the church was filled. A number of "old-timers" were out, among them being S. M. Calkins and family, the G. W. Worden family and also some new faces. E. G. Fendall and J. U. Smith each gave short talks on early pioneer conditions in West Chehalis. Mr. Dolph gave the children a very good "Bear Story" by Whitcomb Riley, which was enjoyed by all. Kenneth Fendall sang "Mother of Mine" in a very pleasing manner. The Ewing Young girls sang a flag song very well. About ninety people sat down to a feast of good things, such as can always be counted on in West Chehalis. Mr. Brock gave a short address at the close of the program with "Thanks be to God for his unspeakable gift," for a text.

Regular church services morning and evening, next Sunday.

Card of Thanks.

We sincerely thank the neighbors and friends for the kindness and floral offerings during the sickness and death of our dear wife and mother.

C. G. Lewis and family.

D. M. NAYBERGER, McMinnville, Or.

President H. E. McGrew, of Penn College, Iowa, Rev. Charles O. Whiteley, of Oskaloosa, Iowa and Dr. W. V. Coffin, of Whittier, California, are here to assist in a campaign for the standardization of Pacific College. Pres. McGrew was president of Pacific College for a number of years and he has many friends who will be delighted to meet him again. Rev. Whiteley and Dr. Coffin were here a few weeks ago and assisted in planning for this campaign.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Williams and Miss Florence Bassett came from Hood River to spend Thanksgiving with Mrs. Florence Bassett, the mother of Mrs. Williams and Miss Bassett.

HOW FORD PRICES ARE POSSIBLE

Since Ford wages are not reduced (and the minimum Ford wage is $6.00 per day) and raw materials are still on a high price basis, how is the Ford cut to a pre-war price made possible?

Mr. Ford says, "It is not so much the cost of the raw material or of labor which fixes the price of our finished product, it is HOW THAT RAW MATERIAL IS HANDLED and WHAT THAT LABOR PRODUCES."

Ford profits all go back into increased efficiency of plant equipment—coal and iron mines and a Ford owned railroad to haul the ores; a new blast furnace to smelt the iron; new efficiency machinery and conveyor systems for handling materials.

Ford CUTS THE PRICE FIRST and then BY INCREASED EFFICIENCY and additional economies from the purchase of raw materials to the loading of the finished product lowers costs throughout the plant to a basis which MAKES THAT LOW PRICE POSSIBLE.

The entire energy and efficiency of the Ford Motor Company, together with the profits each year, are all working for your benefit to produce the Ford car at the lowest possible price to the customer.

Present prices are possible only because of this policy and a production of over 1,000,000 chassis of one standard model.

	Prices New 1920	Prices 1914-1915
