REPLY TO CITIZEN'S COMPLAINT

Editor Graphic:—

In the Graphic of last week a citizen complains of the conduct of three young gentlemen who compelled an old lady to step off the walk into the mud in crossing the concrete bridge.

We desire to enter an apology for the three offenders, and we believe the indignant citizen will forgive them and pity the poor unfortunate youth when he learns the reason for their seeming ungentlemanly conduct.

The fact is, these young men were all born in the fall season of the year, while their people were engaged in baking pancakes, and unfortunately, they supplied the three boys with batters instead of brains, boys with batter instead of brains, they are to be pitied and not despised.

ANOTHER CITIZEN.

DUNDEE No. 2

The Y. M. P. C. is preparing for one immense, great big, enormous grand, and glorious time for all. We want to tell you right now that there will be some program, short plays, jokes, "Niggers," bean doters, stunts, foolishness, music etc., etc. We expect the services of a real Scottish comedian. Why, land a living, folks, it would cost you at least 50 cents to see this live wire performance any where else, and to think, it is all absolutely free. When this is over, gentlemen, you have the special opportunity and privilege to buy a basket and enjoy the pleasure of eating with "that lady." Your baskets will be appreciated ladies, and remember that after bringing a basket you may well have the feeling that you helped to put over one of the most joyous times a bunch of people ever pulled off. We are going to bid the old year farewell, and give the New Year a royal welcome. Community Hall, New Year's eve, at 8:00 o'clock right after the meeting at the church.

The school in the afternoon and the church in the evening, entertained a number of visitors with nicely decorated Christmas trees and short programs, Friday. Something over $40.00 was taken up for the Near East Relief Fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Bland Herring seated 23 of their children and grandchildren at a big dinner on Christmas.

The revival meetings at the church will continue for more than a week yet. A different minister every night and some of different denominations. There will be a special meeting for the children next Sunday morning.

Harry Powell has got into the cattle business and now he wants to get out. This is the way it happened: Two heifers went strolling around town eating what garden stuff they could find, until they ended up in Harry's lot. He has given one to its owner, but the owner of the other is miles away, so Harry will have to keep the red, or brindle red (he don't know just which it is) one for a while. We are not sure whether Mr. Powell will be much obliged to the owner when he gets back, or whether the owner will be much obliged to him.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Groth, through the agency of Santa Claus, favored each of his 21 grandchildren with a present this year.

Whatever you do, fathers, and mothers, don't forget that there will be a Parent-Teacher association meeting at the school house next Tuesday evening at 7:30. Let's show ourselves that we are public spirited and that we are going to make a success of this thing.

The Y. M. P. C. basket ball machine went to Fernwood Tuesday night and played the local basket tossers to what might be called a nip and tuck victory. The game was fast and furious from the first blow of referee Livengood's whistle. The first half the Dundee boys took a lead of two in a score of 14 to 12, while Fernwood took the second half. The first half the Dundee boys took 31 to 30 with the Y. M. P. C. on top.

DISTRICT NO. 61 ENTERTAINS

The pupils of the school in District No. 61 entertained the parents with a delightful little play last Thursday evening when Miss Geraldine Rundell, the teacher, costumed her students in the presentation of "A Toy Celebration." Ten characters portrayed the Christmas spirit in a realistic manner and greatly pleased all who were present.

Santa Claus of the "Toy Celebration" was impersonated by Wallace Higdon, who instructed the human toys how they should conduct themselves. The Fairy, Orba Rogers, then changed the toys into accord with their characters which were the "Dancing Doll," Nellie Kinney; the "Prince," Jack Kinney; the "Dinah Doll," Wenona Rogers; the "Tin Soldier," Albert Dietrich; the "Jack-in-the-Box," Carl Dietrich; the

The event was attended by all the parents of the students and a few visitors. A beautiful tree added much to the decorations and C. E. Waide distributed Christmas cheer in the garb of the much loved old Kris Kingle.
