Mrs. C. S. Parker and son were down from Turner to spend a part of the holiday season with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Scott and Wiley McDonald are down from Moro, for a holiday visit with relatives.

Mrs. Louie Riggs came from her home at Wichita, Kansas, recently to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. C. N. Terrell.

Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Kramien, have moved back to Newberg from Oregon City, and he has taken a position with the Parlor Pharmacy.

Will Elliott and family, he a brother of Orange Elliott, are expected to come from Georgetown, Illinois, some time in the near future to locate here.

Walter Cook, who has been working out south of Albany and Dalton, who has a position in the toy department of the J. K. Gill Co. in Portland, were home for the holidays.

Prof. Perry Macy went to Salem last Sunday and spoke at South Salem Friends church in place of Rev. Elmer Pemberton, who has resigned as pastor with a view of taking up evangelistic work.

A. R. Cumpston, brother-in-law of W. W. Hollingworth and former resident of Newberg, who died at his home in Sellwood, a suburb of Portland at the age of 75 years, was buried here on last Monday.

Mrs. Mary E. Bankson returned from Portland Wednesday where she spent the holidays with relatives.

The St. Paul Creamery celebrated the advent of the new year by purchasing a new Ford truck.

Dr. Daniels, who has been laid up from blood poison in one of his ankles, for the past two weeks is improving.

The friends of Mrs. W. W. Hollingworth will be glad to learn that she is reported considerably better and still improving.

Harry Kline and Frank Smith, drove to Seaside via Portland, on New Year's day and report the road to be in good condition.

Avery Hash went to Portland last Sunday to attend the wedding of Chester Holt, who was married to a young widow with one child.

Glenn Scott, whose illness was noted in these columns last week has since underwent an operation for appendicitis and is reported as getting along nicely.

E. P. Smith who has been operating a carpenter shop on Main street, will go to Nampa, Idaho, where he expects to join with another carpenter in contracting.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Nelson, have returned home after having made a visit with his daughters at North Yakima, Washington, and with Mrs. Nelson's son at Nehalem.

Henry Craw, who was laid up at his home for a couple of weeks as a result of a fall from his bicycle, was able to get out to his place in the Miller Mercantile Co.'s store the first of the week.

R. F. Doyle, the tire man, made a business trip to Portland on Monday.

Miss Bernadine Shoemaker is here from Jefferson, visiting her friend, Miss Agnes Monson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Schatz left Newberg, Tuesday evening for Selah, Washington, where they will visit a son who holds a good position there.

J. O. Hoots was called to Boise, Idaho, today on account of the serious illness of his sister, Mrs. Marks Mills, a former resident of Newberg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Sheppard, of 1112 River street, returned home this week from a trip to Portland, St. Johns and other sections of the state.

Al May, went to Eugene, Saturday. He started to motor through but was forced to leave his auto and make the trip by rail on account of road conditions.

Addison Hawley, veteran of the Civil War and the father of Mrs. N. C. Johnson, died Tuesday night, aged 80 years. Funeral services will be held at the Hodson chapel Friday, afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Armstrong, who are down from the Alberta country, were in Newberg Tuesday for a short visit with their son, Lloyd and family. They will probably spend the remainder of the winter in Portland.

Prof. Robert F. Clark and family and Miss Willard, a sister of Mrs. Clark, were over from Forest Grove, for a New Year's visit with the W. W. Silver family. Prof. Clark and Miss Willard are members of the faculty of Pacific University.

W. E. Burke, who was in town Wednesday, said the money was collected in for the work on the new road over Chehalis Mountain, by way of Springbrook, and that active operations on the road would begin as soon as weather conditions permit.

Rev. Joseph Hall, long time resident here, in writing from Santa Ana, California to renew his subscription to the Graphic, a paper without which he suggests that he could not keep house, says Santa Ana is surrounded with oil wells, some of which are paying big dividends while others are disappointing holes in the ground.

Glen Paxson, who has a position as inspector of bridges in state highway work with headquarters at Prineville, came home for a holiday visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Paxson. Other holiday visitors at the Paxson home were, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Odell and five children, the Misses Hattie and Beth Gowdy, all of McMinnville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lee, of Portland, with Mrs. Lee's brother, Arthur Crist of Des Moines, Iowa, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nelson.

Newberg seems to be gaining population from the "furrin parts," several families having come in during the past few months from Kansas and Oklahoma. A few days ago a letter came to the Graphic from a man located as far south as Corpus Christi, Texas, saying he had his weather eye out for a fruit ranch of some twenty acres near Newberg and asking for a copy of the Graphic.

James Smith, a ranch owner near St. Paul, is absent from home spending the winter in California and the boys left in charge of the place are not as weather-wise as the boss, else they would have heeded the flood signs and removed the cattle to the highlands before the lowlands were submerged. Even after the waters had been rising for sometime, they did not apprehend danger to the stock, but they were at length compelled to rope their cattle and tow them across the river, which was some job, and which they successfully accomplished by availing themselves of a breathing spell enroute by halting temporarily on some intervening islands.

J. H. Rees, who, with Mrs. Rees recently went to Vermilion Grove, Illinois, for an extended visit with relatives said in a letter written to J. L. Hoskins, after their arrival there, that on the way they visited with his brother, Alf, at Calexico, California, which is an important cotton market. While there he assisted his brother, who is in the employ of the Southern Pacific, in making a survey of a large section of land across the border in Mexico, where there is much cotton grown. The price of cotton is down to 14½ cents, and as the growers are unable to borrow money on it at that price, Mr. Rees says it is likely that much of it will not be picked. In Illinois they found some snow and the mercury slipped down to close to 20 below, a few times, he said.

LETTER FROM J. J. HANDSAKER

Editor Graphic:—

I have just received from the Ministerial association through W. N. Coffee, the treasurer, $68.63.

Through you I wish to thank the people of Newberg for this additional contribution. I say additional because contributions are received every few weeks from individuals or organizations in Newberg, either in cash or clothing.

I wish I might write you that the worst in Armenia is past but such is not the case. Due to the constant fighting between the Nationalist Turks on one hand and the French and the Greeks on the other, we are compelled to expand our work in order to take care of the new refugees. Many had settled in their homes and had raised crops sufficient for nearly a year. Because the Armenians took the part of the Allies in the world war the Turks have new cause for hatred and as the Turks have lately been victorious the Armenians have suffered again.

That you may know our executive committee is doing its best to meet the situation, I will say that on December 10th, although we had only $500,000 in our treasury, we appropriated more than $2,100,000. We did this in the confidence that our receipts at Christmas time would grow enough to take care of the additional expense. Large as this appropriation seems we were compelled to refuse a most urgent request for $250,000 a month to care for Persian refugees and also refuse an appropriation enabling our orphanages to take in additional children.

With these and many other appeals constantly coming to us, I am sure the friends in Newberg as well as the rest of the state will continue their life saving services.

Cordially yours,

J. J. HANDSAKER,

State Director.

Portland, Oregon.

Anent the increased cost of "everything" read the following table which is interesting for comparative purposes:

Commodity:	Per Cent Increases 1920 over 1913
Clothing:
Male	211.78
Female	232
Food	109
Farm products	232
Chemicals	75
House furnishings	175.99
Lumber and building materials	131
Average, all commodities	122
Soft coal	153
Hard coal	151
Taxes	115
Labor	92
Electric lighting	17

The water rates, which have been adjusted by cities and towns owning their own plants to meet changed conditions, now are 50 to 150 per cent higher than in 1913. Water rates of private plants have been increased only about 25 per cent.

The 17 per cent increase in "lighting rates" is the average increase over the country with those companies which have had rate increases.

Your power company seeks the public good will. It builds with the communities it serves. It is a constructive agency, striving in every way to help build up. To keep them financially sound in order that they may keep pace with progressive development is a necessity. Good service, at reasonable rates, is all that is required. We wish you to remember that notwithstanding the tremendous increase in every imaginable thing, electric service has remained the same without any increase in cost to the consumer.
