$2.00 Per Year in Advance

THURSDAY, JANUARY 13, 1921

R. H. Jonas, who has been associated with A. E. Scott for the past year in the publication of the Forest Grove News-Times, has retired from the firm, leaving Mr. Scott the sole owner and boss of the business.

George H. Himes, curator of the Oregon Historical Society, will give a free, illustrated lecture, dealing with early Oregon history, at Wood-Marr Hall on Tuesday evening of next week. It will be a talk well worth hearing.

Complaint is made that thoughtless boys have been guilty of overturning a grave stone and breaking another in the cemetery. A proper application of father's slipper on going to bed at night might prove effective.

As the days go by Harding is rapidly growing in favor with the people. His expressed wish that the ceremonies incident to his inauguration may be without ostentation and the waste of money will meet with favor in the minds of most people. With burdensome war taxes and with people starving for the want of food it is no time for the wanton waste on a riotous inauguration ball.

Now that about every loose dollar has been skinned from the state by the oil stock fakers comes the announcement that the lid is to be put on and stock salesmen must show that they have something more to sell than conversation, glittering promises or precisely nothing. But the picking was good while it lasted and perhaps the fakers were preparing to shut up shop anyway to wait until a new crop of victims was born.—Hillsboro Independent.

Some one has figured out that four hundred million dollars are the average month's receipts of war taxes at the U. S. Treasury. Those from the sale of candy, tobacco, soft drinks and admissions to shows total nearly 37 million dollars a month. Theater tickets alone, bring in more than 4 1/2 millions dollars every 30 days. The country as a whole spends nearly five billion dollars a year on recreation, or almost enough to pay the expenses for 12 months of the most expensive government on earth.

Senator Hume, of Multnomah county, has introduced a bill in the senate which provides that no private, denominational or parochial school, college, university, normal school or educational institution under the control of any church, sect, or religious organization shall be recognized as a standardized institution. It also provides that institutions of this character listed as standardized at the passage of this act shall have their recognition or listing revoked. But Mr. Hume, of Multnomah, will never reach first base with his bill.

REARING TOO MANY BUTTERFLIES.

More than 175,000 children were brought before courts in this country during the old year, as offenders, says Capper's Weekly.

What American youngsters need is the bringing up their fathers and mothers had—regular duties at home, steady attendance at school, Sunday school once a week, very little spending money, time and opportunity for wholesome play but none for loafing, some real work to do every day, reasonable wishes gratified if the family purse permits, knowledge of the value of money and of the not infrequent necessity of self-denial.

Many homes nowadays are not rearing children to be sturdy, self-dependent men and women, but social butterflies. And the more they are indulged, the more they want. Few of them are taught enough about real life to stand alone when the time comes that they must.

Every person mentally and physically able to do so should take the American Red Cross instruction in First Aid Treatment. It's a life-saver and a pain-saver on the farm, in the factory, on the street, at the office, in the home, wherever accidents may occur. Here's a young wife who ineptly wielded a can-opener and received an ugly gash across her wrist from the jagged can lid. Mother was there.

Novels From Serial Stories.
The ingenuity of members of the Junior Red Cross at Boise, Idaho, has developed a custom which their elders are beginning to copy. For patients in the public health service hospitals who do not like to read serial magazine stories week by week, they are clipping current serials, and binding them, thus providing after publication has been completed, novels for the former service men taking medical treatment.

Mrs. Jenkins, who underwent an operation at St. Vincent's hospital last week is doing nicely.

The community aid club held an all day meeting Thursday at the home of Mrs. Harmon. It being election of officers, Mrs. L. J. Whitaker was elected president; Mrs. Deree, vice-president; Mrs. Semmer, Secretary; Mrs. F. D. Frost, treasurer. A very interesting program was given and the ladies furnished a good dinner. The excavating for the new community hall is being done as fast as the weather will permit and the frame work has been commenced. The hall is to be of a bungalow construction, and will be 30 by 60 feet.

Mrs. A. J. Heskett was a Portland visitor Monday.

Will Sanderman had the misfortune of having a rear wheel of his car demolished one day recently, but escaped injury in the mix-up.

Mrs. J. E. Werlin spent Monday in Portland.

A birthday party was given Mr. Yokel, Monday.
