

THINGS WISE AND OTHERWISE

By J. C. AKERS, Newberg, Oregon

PRESS DAY JOYS

There's trouble in the print shop
No language can express,
For Thursday's rolled around again,
The day we go to press.

There's Oliver, he is hustling fast,
He has a dirty prof,
And Semmes is sourly cussing
In a way to raise the roof.

Some visitors pried a galley full
And tho' not nonpareil,
What Brooka is saying to them
Has quite a brimstone smell.

There's Akers, he is grouchy
And the reason I confess,
Is, we all get worter offish
On the day we go to press.

Everything is all "balled up,"
The forms are in a mess,
And the editor is asking:
"When will we get to press?"

The pressman now is ready—but,
The blamed old forms won't "lift."

So he whittles out a "dutchman"
And gives his quid a shift.

The forms are on the press at last
And, things are running great,
But we've got to take 'em off again,
Forgot to change the date.

They're on again—the motor's gone,
We're running nice and slick,
But a paper's on the rollers,
You bet it's there to stick.

The whole dern'd bunch is mad as sin
And cussin' more or less,
For there's always trouble Thursday
When the Graphic goes to press.
