Thomas Herd informs us that he has taken a contract to erect a fine $4000 bungalow for Jerry Conner on his place just across the river. This is a good starter and Newberg should witness the building of many new homes this summer.

Mrs. M. J. Wood is expecting her daughter, Mrs. Louis Tebbe, of Kansas City, Missouri, to arrive here soon for the summer. It is possible that the family will locate here permanently. Mrs. Tebbe has been in very poor health and it is thought that the change will prove beneficial.

The Newberg Advertiser, which was started several weeks ago and which was later converted into the Newberg Leader, has suspended publication, the publishers having come to the realization of the fact that two newspapers placed a double burden upon the business people of Newberg.

Elford & Chamberlain, proprietors of the Newberg Grocery and successors to Ohmart Bros., have had the display pliers removed from the entrances of their grocery and also the east half of the building formerly occupied by the Hess Candy Kitchen. This gives both store rooms a much better entrance as well as allowing a better lighting of the store.

Mrs. C. E. Akers received the sad news on Monday that her brother, Harold Alvord, was found dead at San Diego, California. Miss Esther Alvord, a sister, left Tuesday for San Diego to investigate the matter, as the telegram did not give any particulars. Young Alvord was in the 4th U. S. cavalry during the late war and was also on the Mexican border.

Vivian Hadley went to Sherwood Monday in the interest of the Graves Canning Co. Mr. Hadley states that this company intends to make improvements in their Sherwood plant to the extent of $10,000 or $15,000 this spring and will put up a large pack this season. They expect to commence on strawberries about the middle of May.

Mrs. W. Y. Arthur of Twin Falls, Idaho, arrived here Friday of last week for a visit with friends. Mr. Arthur was an accountant for the C. K. Spaulding company at this place about a year ago and also was a director of the Baptist choir. It is possible that they will now locate at Centralia, Washington.

The Parent-Teachers' Association of the Chehalis Center school will hold a meeting and entertainment at the school house Friday evening, April 15, and have secured Kohl's comedians, a seven-people play, as an attraction. Doors open at seven-thirty. Entertainment starts at 8:30. Admission 15 and 25 cents. 27-12

Dr. Van Valin was displaying a bad looking thumb on Friday of last week and succeeded in silencing the sympathy and assistance of Attorney Butts in the performing of a slight operation for the removal of a steel sliver from his digit. After the operation had been completed the doctor called Mr. Butts' attention to the date, which was April 1st. He had carefully drilled a small hole in the tip of the thumb through which the wire was run and then with a liberal application of red ink to add to the realism of the injury, had very successfully deceived the attorney.

Quite a number of Newberg people attended the Portland Symphony Orchestra concert at the auditorium in Portland Sunday afternoon. The program given by the orchestra was exceptionally high class and was well received by the large audience. In addition Easter carols were sung by a vested chorus of Portland's best singers.

The Newberg public school baseball team is starting the season very auspiciously. On last Friday they played a five-inning game with Springbrook, which they won by a score of 12 to 5. On Monday afternoon of this week they played the first and second year academy team from Pacific College and won this game by a score of 16 to 5, the game running for seven innings.

W. W. Nason, who is a recent comer here from Marshfield, Oregon, and who has purchased the Fred Blanchard three-acre place on Wynooki street, was the Graphic's first new subscriber under the present management. We welcome Mr. Blanchard to Newberg and hope that many other newcomers will follow his example in acquainting themselves with the community through the columns of the Graphic.

A man named Latourelle, of Portland and a girl from Willamina were arrested here on a charge of violating a local ordinance, having been found registered at a local hotel as man and wife. The man got himself into trouble here previously when he solicited funds about town as a deaf and dumb man and was given a float. In this case he was given a fine, which his relatives paid. The girl's father was notified and took her in charge.

Attorney Flegel of Portland addressed a meeting at the M. E. church on Sunday afternoon in the interests of the Chinese Relief and the Armenian Relief drives. Although the audience was not so large as might have been hoped for there was a good spirit evidenced and committees were appointed to launch a campaign in Newberg for those needy people. Rev. Lee of the Presbyterian church acted as chairman of the meeting.

Mrs. G. N. Beaumont of Portland and Mrs. L. H. Phillips of Parrott Mountain were called to the bedside of their aunt, Mary E. Bankson, whose illness took a serious turn last Thursday night. Dr. Romig was called early Friday morning and gave her relief. Though still far from well she is improving and her niece have returned home. It has been decided by Mrs. Bankson's friends that she should not receive callers until she is better. Her friend, Mrs. Emeline Vincent, is still with her.

C. E. Akers, who for the past several months has been salesman with the realty firm of W. E. White & Co., has bought a large job printing business in Albany and will move there shortly with his family and get right into the work. Although Mr. Akers has put in about twenty years in the printing business, he is a man who can adapt himself to other lines of work, and during his short stay in Newberg made many warm friends, both in business and in a social way. We regret very much to lose Mr. Akers and his family from our midst.

T. H. Ward of Portland came down Tuesday in the interests of the Southern Idaho Land & Power Co., which company is floating an $150,000 bond issue throughout the state. Mr. Ward expects to make regular trips to this community and hopes to place a large amount of this issue among the people of this section. An advertisement of the proposition appears elsewhere in this issue of the Graphic. Mr. Ward was an ace in the aviation division in the late war, being three years in the French army and was a member of the Lafayette escadrille.

Did you ever buy any horseradish seed? Neither did we, but we understand that a very good quality was put in stock at one of Newberg's business houses recently. No, this is not an advertisement, but the result of a joke which was perpetrated upon some very glib young ladies. The horseradish seed turned out to be a good grade of rice and the girls are seeking revenge.

Miss Helen Scott and Mrs. Swart were joint hostesses to the Monday Evening Musical club at the latter's home last Monday evening. Mrs. Swart gave a reading which was interspersed with vocal numbers by Mrs. Babcock. Mrs. Newmyer also gave two numbers. The roll call was answered with the names of American composers. Refreshments were served.

Work on the Pacific Highway from Newberg to West Dayton will be started about the 10th of April and will be pushed through to completion, says the county court. This will give a paved highway from Portland to within three miles of McMinnville and it is understood that work is being done on the three mile lane now which will complete the pavement into the county seat town.

Miss Florence Bassett came out from Portland to spend the week-end with her family before departing for Glenwood Springs, Colorado, where she will spend six months or perhaps a year, to recuperate her health, as she has never recovered entirely from the effects of the flu of two years ago. She will be with her sister, Mrs. Lucile Bassett McKewen, who has been seriously ill with typhoid fever.

Chas. Morris, the jeweler, has had the new poison mustard gas protection installed in his safe. This arrangement is said to be one of the very best protections against burglary as in the case of safe cracking the gas is instantly released and unless the burglar makes his escape at once he is in danger of death. The First National bank has also had this protection installed.
