DEVELOP HIGH-CLASS STOCK

South Carolina Farmer Attributes Many Failures to Lack of Aim in Breeding Animals.

"The development of good live stock depends not only on the use of high-class animals, but on systematic methods." This is the comment of a South Carolina farmer who has contributed his experiences to the United States Department of Agriculture, as part of an investigation to determine the cause of inferior and undersized live stock.

"Most failures with live stock," this farmer declares, "can be attributed to lack of a definite aim in breeding."

All Depends.
"Can you support my daughter in the style she's been accustomed to?" asked the father of the young man who sought his daughter in marriage.
"Well," replied the young man thoughtfully, "is she strong for a $500 baby grand piano or a $5 talking machine?"

NOTES OF COUNTY SCHOOLS

a holiday trip, and an interesting one.
President B. A. Teats presided, calling the meeting to order promptly at 10:30, the time scheduled for opening. The pupils of the Sheridan school entertained the audience with several numbers, every one of which was heartily encored. Prof. Beatty of the Monmouth Normal, then gave an interesting address, after which the teachers dispersed for department work, after which a splendid luncheon was served by the ladies of Sheridan. A unique feature at the luncheon was a play put on by the Sheridan pupils in the dining hall, so the teachers were given a double treat.

Prof. Beatty. Both addresses were entertaining and instructive. A question box brought out some lively discussion, and proved to be one of the most interesting numbers of the day. The meeting then adjourned to meet in Yamhill at 10:30 on May 7th, and every one present felt that the day had been pleasantly and profitably spent. Too much can not be said of the efforts of the Sheridan teachers and people, and pupils as well, and they will always be remembered by the teachers of the county.

After adjournment the teachers spent a pleasant half hour listening to the splendid music rendered by the Graves Ladies' band on the main street of Sheridan. The day was a success from start to finish, and the teachers of Yamhill county will always be glad when an institute is scheduled for Sheridan.

STANDARDIZATION OF WOOL GOING FORWARD

Resume of Work Shows Much Progress in Past Year.

Tentative Grades as Promulgated Are Based on Studies of More Than Two Years' Duration—Not Much Change Expected.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
A resume of the wool standardization work of the bureau of markets, United States Department of Agriculture, shows that much progress has been made since the tentative establishment of definite wool grades just a year ago. Following the preparation of a few sets for its field agents and the subsequent press announcement that tentative wool grades had been developed, requests for the sets have been distributed among the bureau's field agents, agricultural colleges, wool-growers' associations, wool dealers and manufacturers, textile authorities, and others interested.

The tentative wool grades as promulgated are based on studies of more than two years' duration. In the course of this study thousands of samples of wool submitted by dealers and manufacturers as their interpretations of the market grades were meetings of woolgrowers and others, demonstrations were given to show the preparation of the fleeces and the proper care and handling of the wool before its shipment to market. In the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Virginia, Kentucky, Missouri and Arkansas the several expert wool graders engaged by the bureau graded approximately 1,800,000 pounds of wool in accordance with the tentative wool grades. This work has been looked upon so favorably by wool producers that requests have been received for a resumption of these activities during the coming season.

PREVENT SPREAD OF DISEASE

Potassium Permanganate Added to Drinking Water is Good Way to Keep Off Infections.

Potassium permanganate is good to use in drinking water of chickens to prevent the spread of infections. It comes in dark purple crystals. A small quantity dissolved as a stock solution will last all summer. Add enough to the water each day to color it to a light wine color.

NOTICE TO OWNERS OF DOGS

The following are extracts from the law relative to dog license as passed by the 1919 legislature:
Section 8. Every person owning any male or female dog over the age of eight months within the State of Oregon shall apply for and procure from the county clerk of the county in which said person resides, a license by paying to the county clerk a license fee of one dollar ($1) for male or spayed bitch dogs and two dollars ($2) for female dogs, annually, and upon the payment of said license fee as aforesaid, the county clerk shall issue to such person a license and also a leather collar not less than one inch in width and of suitable length, having riveted thereon a leather tag, stamped with the year in which it is issued with a number thereon corresponding to the number on the license. Said license shall run for a period of one year from January 1 of each year, and any dog not wearing said collar shall be considered an outlaw and shall be killed by the sheriff, chief of police or constable of the precinct in which said dog is owned, or found running at large.

Section 9. The county clerk shall keep a record of the issuance of dog licenses in a special book kept for such purpose. Any owner or keeper of said dog or dogs who shall fail or neglect to apply for, or fail to pay said license fee during the month of January in each year or within thirty days after he becomes the owner or keeper of said dog or dogs, shall pay a fine of ten dollars ($10) for each offense, which fine shall be collected with costs of the proceedings of a civil action in the name of the State of Oregon before a justice of the peace. Neglect to apply for or pay said license fee for a period of thirty days after said fine shall become due, shall be another and separate offense, and will subject the person to pay an additional fine for each offense.

When sending to the clerk your dog license you should give the size of collar desired.

Grading Wool for a Co-Operative Shipment.

examined. As the tentative grades, before being put in final form, were submitted to some of the leading wool authorities in the country for suggestions and criticisms, it is believed that little, if any, change will have to be made when official standards are established.

During the past year investigational and demonstrational work to test the commercial utility of the grades was conducted in 16 states. Before
