PLANS ARE LAID FOR THE BERRY FESTIVAL

FREE BERRIES, CREAM AND SUGAR

Program Well Outlined and Plans Evolved to Make Festival Biggest Event Ever Held Here

If there is anyone in Newberg or vicinity who has entertained doubts about the success of the berry festival which the Berrians will hold here on Saturday, July 9, they should have been at the meeting of the various festival committees which was held at the Commercial Club rooms on Monday evening. There was an excellent turnout on the part of the committees and a splendid spirit pervaded the assemblage, everyone being enthusiastic in their view of the matter.

The program has been pretty well planned out and although some of the details will still have to be planned out, the events will be handled about as follows:

Parade, including band, queen's car, floats and decorated autos, etc., at 10 a. m. Henry Morris, grand marshal and chairman of parade committee.

Coronation of Queen Aubrey 1st, at the City Tourist Park at 11 at which time Mayor Calkins will turn over the keys of the city to Queen Aubrey.

Address of the day by Julius L. Meier of Portland, president of the 1925 world's exposition, at 11:15 a. m.

Big berry luncheon, including free berries and cream and sugar, will be served, probably both at the city park and from booths on the streets, at 12 o'clock, noon. The Berrians' guests, such as the Rosarians, Cherrians, and Prunarians, and speakers, Governor Olcott and others will be entertained at a special dinner.

The awarding of prizes on the berry exhibits will be completed by 1 p. m. and this time has been set aside on the program for the inspection of the exhibits. However, the exhibits will be open for inspection at any time during the day, and will be one of the big features of the Berry festival. Frank Morris, who had charge of the Yamhill county exhibits at the Lewis and Clark exposition, is chairman of the exhibit committee.

At 1:30 the stunt committee will hold its program of stunts, races, and contests, on the street. This committee has some very novel stunts up their sleeve and this will be one of the best entertainment parts of the program. At 2:30 p. m. there will be a baseball game between McMinnville and the Newberg-St. Paul team. This will undoubtedly be a fine game. The Newberg-St. Paul aggregation have been going strong this season, but McMinnville is coming down with blood in their eye and when the old rivals meet there is bound to be some real struggle for the honors of winning.

A tug of war between the Salem Cherrians and the Newberg Berrians will follow directly after the ball game. This has been scheduled for 5 p. m. The Cherrians have accepted the Berrians challenge and they say that they are sure going to pull us in the pond. The Berrians aren't going in without a real struggle and it remains to be seen, who will get the bath. This event will be "pulled" off in the canyon park.

At 7:30 p. m. there will be a big water fight between the McMinnville and Newberg fire departments. This should provide "oceans of fun" and some one is going to have to "duck" before its over.

The Berrian Band will furnish music at the festival, in the park during the program and will also give a band concert at 8:30 in the evening.

The berry festival will be given wide publicity and it is expected that there will be several thousand out of town people here on that day. The biggest feature of the day will be the berries. It is planned to have the town filled with them. They will be given away to eat and they will be sold by the crate in booths about town. They will be on exhibition at the exhibit headquarters and they will be featured in every way possible. It is the aim of the Berrians to show the whole state that we are a berry center.

The festival slogan is, "Take Home a Crate of Berries."

The membership drive which is now on will culminate on festival day and it is hoped that before that day the membership may be brought up to over 500. Wm. V. Dolph is chairman of the membership committee and he reports that there are many persons evincing a new interest in the organization. However, someone has said that they are going to wait to see what the Berrians do at the Berry Festival before they join. If everybody should adopt that policy, the Berrians would not be able to do anything at the festival for they would have neither the funds nor the help to make it a success from any standpoint. On the other hand if everyone will enter their membership in the Berrians and help make it a success, it cannot be anything else.

OREGONIAN WRITER VISITED NEWBERG

LUNCHEON GIVEN AT IMPERIAL

Trip Over Community Reveals Wonderful Resources and Development to Journalist

J. Addison Bennett, special staff writer of the Oregonian, visited Newberg on Wednesday at the solicitation of The Berrians and in company with R. A. Butt, R. J. Moore and Cherter A. Dimond visited various parts of the country hereabouts to secure data for a feature write-up on this community and especially the berry industry. Mr. Bennett has visited this community before, as he has practically every community in the state, but his present visit no doubt gave him a new insight into our wonderful resources as well as a knowledge of the progress which has been made in the way of development during the past several years. The berry industry of this section certainly must have been a revelation to him for its beginning only dates back a comparatively few years and today it is one of the big industries of this community.

The Mellinger loganberry patch was visited and Mr. Bennett was told of the many other similar patches hereabouts which are helping to make the section known as a berry center. In the short time which he could be here it was impossible to visit more than one patch field or orchard of each class of fruit or berry grown, but in this way and with the information given him by those accompanying him, he will have a good idea of the various industries.

He was taken to the Jones Bros. juice plant and also to the cannery and while he could not go all through them, he was told of their size and their works. The Miller chicken ranch was visited, at his request, and here he saw the large incubators, the chicken houses and the chickens themselves.

Springbrook was included in the trip and here he met several of the fruit men and learned of what that district is raising in the way of fruit and berries. From here he was taken up on the top of Chealem mountain so that he could get a view of the valley as a whole. The return trip to Newberg was made by way of Rex and the highway and such berry patches and orchards as those of Mr. Sanderman, Mr. Otis and Mr. West were pointed out from the car. Returning to Newberg, a special trip was made through the Dundee district. Mr. J. C. Colcord being taken with the party, and the large prune and walnut orchards were visited. W. S. Allan gave Mr. Bennett some valuable information regarding the extent of these two industries and he was greatly impressed by the orchards through which we passed.

In the evening a luncheon was served at the Imperial hotel at which about a dozen of the local business men and Berrians were present. After a dinner, a number of short talks were made by local people expressing their appreciation of Mr. Bennett's coming to Newberg for this purpose and then Mr. Bennett made an excellent address in which he told those present some of the wonderful resources of our state of which the writer, at least had never known. Mr. Bennett is probably one of the best informed men on the state of Oregon of any of the men in the state today. He has studied her history and has visited her every part. He knows of her industries and her resources and he has a keen insight into her future possibilities. He is not a dreamer, but he speaks from the vantage point of complete knowledge and he gave those present some very interesting facts for their consideration.

Mr. Bennett's story on Newberg and surrounding country will probably appear in the Sunday Oregonian of July 10 and the people of this community will await with interest his article which is certain to be a great boost both for the community and also for the various industries touched upon. It is not every day that so great a paper as the Oregonian consents to send its special staff writer to a community and the community is indeed fortunate in securing so able and so well informed a man to tell their story to the state.

MONDAY MUSICAL CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS AT LAST MEETING

The Monday Music Club met Monday evening, June 27, for its last meeting before the summer vacation. A program of Mozart's works was rendered by members of the club under the direction of Miss Eva Moore. Then followed two solos by Miss Brown of Portland, which were greatly enjoyed.

Officers for next year were elected, as follows: Miss Evah Hadley, president; Mrs. Harriett Gibson, vice-president; Mrs. Aggie Ginn, Goud, secretary; and Miss Mabel Miller, treasurer.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. A word of appreciation should be given the outgoing president, Miss Dart, who has held this position since the beginning of the club, two years ago. A large measure of the success of the organization is due to her untiring efforts.

ST. PAUL-NEWBERG TEAM WIN 3 TO 2 BALL GAME

A combination baseball team representing St. Paul, but composed of players both from St. Paul and Newberg, has been playing some very exciting and interesting games this season. This team played the Woodburn nine last Sunday afternoon and won by a score of 3 to 2. This is the fourth game played by these two teams and so far each has two wins to their credit. No scores were made up to the sixth inning Sunday and then St. Paul forged ahead and up until the ninth held a two to one lead. In the first half of the ninth inning Woodburn tied the score and in the last half of the ninth, with two men out, Baird drove out a hit which brought in the winning run. Fuzzie Carson, who pitched for St. Paul, was very effective in the ninth and in the ninth inning he worked himself out of a bad hole when Woodburn had three men on bases. Woodburn only gardered 5 hits off from Carson. The game Sunday was played before the largest crowd which has ever witnessed a game at St. Paul. This was due to the fact that the K. of C. picnic was held there on that day.

The St. Paul-Newberg combination team will play McMinnville here on Saturday, July 9, the afternoon of the Berry Festival and manager Smith of the combination is predicting a very interesting game on that date. Incidentally St. Paul will play off their tie with Woodburn on July 4th at Woodburn. St. Paul plays Hopewell at St. Paul next Sunday afternoon.

COURT HERE ON ROAD MATTER

The county court was down from McMinnville on Wednesday looking into the matter of mountain road which we understand has been blocked by Mr. Jones who has had a fence erected across the right of way to prevent further work. We are informed that Mr. Jones has asked damages in the amount of $500. The court went over the road and we understand they contemplate starting condemnation proceedings. Residents along the road state that they have given freely toward this new road which will eliminate some steep grades and which they say will be a great improvement over the present one. They say that Mr. Jones allowed them to go onto the land and do considerable work and then while in the midst of the work he put up a fence and stopped them. The sentiment of quite a number of the people seems to be that the road should go through and that no damages should be allowed. It is certain that this road will be a fine thing for the people of this community as it cuts down the grade greatly. It is to be hoped that the matter may be settled soon so that the work on the road may proceed.

HERE FROM NEBRASKA

Mrs. Hettie Ames, sister-in-law of Fred L. Ames of Newberg, and her daughter, Adaline, arrived from Lincoln, Nebraska, last Thursday. Miss Adaline went to Mt. Angel on Saturday where she has some acquaintances and from there she went to Friday Harbor, northwest of Seattle. She taught school two years ago in Seattle and three years ago taught on an island near that city. The last year she has been teaching in Sweetbrier, Virginia, and has gone to Friday Harbor to do some research work, and will spend about six weeks at that place. Mrs. Ames will make quite an extended visit in Newberg, among Nebraska friends and old acquaintances. She will also go to Dilley, Oregon, where she has acquaintances and will afterward join her daughter at Friday Harbor before returning to Nebraska. They are well pleased with Newberg and are especially well pleased with so many delicious berries and fine cherries. On account of late frosts the fruit crop in Nebraska is very limited this year they say.

FEDERAL OFFICERS RAID BOOTLEGGERS

THREE MEN WERE GIVEN FINES

Officers From Government Office, Assisted by Local Man, Raid Still and Get Evidence

Two federal officers, accompanied by deputy sheriff Henry Morris, had a most exciting experience last Friday night when they raided a still on the old Sellwood place in the Butteville district and brought back two prisoners as well as several bottles of bootleg and a stove, a pressure tank and some coils as evidence. Information was phoned to the officers of Clackamas county by a resident of the district and officers from that county started out but found that the still was located across the county line in Yamhill county. They in turn notified Fred Snyder and S. B. Sandifer, officers from the government office, who came to Newberg Friday evening and after securing the assistance of Henry Morris and search warrants with which to operate, they proceeded to C. D. Sellwood's where they stopped simply for information and then went on to Frank G. Olsen's and C. W. Woolver's.

At the Woolver place they secured a bottle of bootleg, according to the report of their findings, and on the strength of this, placed Mr. Woolver under arrest charged with having illicit liquor in his possession. From there they went to the Olsen place and here the officers say that they had a most interesting time. It is said that Olsen was put through the third degree and that in spite of his protests of innocence, his sister admitted that they had manufactured the booze there. Olsen later stated that it was made in a teakettle but the officers insist that the amounts manufactured could not have been made in so small a receptacle. The officers were out from 11 o'clock Friday night until 8 o'clock Saturday morning. Mr. Morris says that the federal officers gave Olsen a severe grilling and endeavored to force him to reveal the hiding place of the copper boiler, which they believed was used in the manufacture of the booze. That they forced a confession from the sister in his presence and then made him start out up the path toward where the still was supposed to be located. Barrels of the mash were unearthed and bottles of the booze were found, as well as the stove and copper coils, but the copper boiler, if there was one in use, could not be found.

John Dalquist, said to be Olsen's brother-in-law and husband of the sister who made the confession, was in Portland and Snyder and Morris left Sandifer at the place to wait his return while they brought the other two men to Newberg where they were haled before Judge Churchill who gave Woolver a fine of $40 and costs and Olsen a fine of $150 and costs. The costs in each case amounted to $12.

It is said by the officers that there is evidence to show that these men have been manufacturing booze at the place for some time, but of course it was their first appearance in court. Judge Churchill informs the officers before passing sentence upon the men. The men had no difficulty in raising the money to pay their fines and went back to their places in company with officer Snyder, more to cum later.

John Dalquist was taken into custody on Monday and after pleading guilty to the charge of having illicit liquor in his possession and manufacturing the same, he was fined $150 and costs.
