Last Saturday evening several of the friends of the P. J. Meyers family were guests at their home. A general good time was enjoyed by all.

Tuesday evening a harvest dance was given at Crystal Spring, the home of Edward Schultz. Both American and Finnish dances were enjoyed. When it is being hosted, the Schultzes' know how to do it properly.

A family gathering of the Hubbard family was enjoyed by the several children living near town last Sunday. There were four sons and two daughters and eight grandchildren present to help Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hubbard celebrate.

The little Nolan boy, whose hand was injured by a dynamite cap last week, is improving as rapidly as could be expected. It was found necessary to remove a part of the thumb and the second finger, at the first joint, on the injured hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Leaton, who live on W. E. White's farm, visited at Albany Saturday and Sunday, returning home Monday morning. They had expected to return sooner but owing to the unreliability of one of the Ford products, a delay was made.

Some of the Sunnycrest folks know how to keep cool under warming circumstances. A merry party of them drove to the river last Sunday and hired a launch making a trip to the island some distance up the river. Picnicking and bathing were then the order of the day. Those making the trip were Harley Hall and family, Hugh McCredie and family, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Graves, Frank DeVore, Mrs. Homer Fisher and family, Delmer Hall and Elmer Hall.

Will Gable and his brother, Lloyd, drove to Portland last Tuesday. They report a very narrow escape from death on one of the dangerous curves some distance below Rex. They approached the railroad track, when the train came down the hill at about forty miles per hour. The engineer whistled, but there was no time to stop. Four freight cars passed over them before they drove from under the trestle. One's hair is a little thin and the other's is slightly grey now.

Kenneth Fendall arrived home from San Francisco last Friday just in time to take in the picnic. His friends are glad to have him back again.

Miss Lela Yergen and her mother have been in Portland for the past week. Miss Lela had her tonsils removed while there and has been quite sick, but is improving rapidly now.

A very good meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. was held last Sunday evening. The discussion centered around the topic, "Materialism and Its Dangers." The importance of spiritual things was emphasized.

Mr. and Mrs. George Christenson of Eugene were visiting their brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Fendall. The Christensons are old time residents in the valley and were prominent in starting the church work here. Their many friends were glad to see them again.

The Sunday school picnic was a success. The women had a very interesting nail driving contest in which Mrs. Strong was victorious. A fine time was had playing volleyball which is proving itself a fine game for such occasions. The Upstreamers followed up their challenge by winning the volleyball contest between the rest of the school and their class. As fine a picnic dinner as ever was, was sat down to and enjoyed by all. The repast was followed by delicious ice cream which did much to alleviate the continuous beaming of old Sol.

The hike to the spring was a delightful one. The quartette sang just before dinner and was well received. Everyone went home in high spirits and will look forward to the next Sunday school picnic.

Reaping of local wheat and oats began the latter part of last week and a good crop is expected to be threshed this summer.

P. H. Hammond evidently has the roaming fever for he hitched up his car and journeyed down to McMinnville and thereabouts last Thursday. Paul Brown has taken down with pneumonia and is now confined to his bed. It is hoped he will have a speedy recovery and soon be himself again.

The correspondent had the pleasure of having a baby boy being born last week at the Newberg hospital. It is with pleasure that he announces that both his wife and son are doing exceptionally well.

That dear old swimming hole down at the Newberg city park is attracting wide attention these hot long afternoons amongst the local youngsters who go even so far as to steal away to it for just one cool plunge.

To improve the main street of Springbrook, Frank Carlisle, who is serving as road maintenance man for this district, removed the somewhat dilapidated board crossing near the depot and filled that portion with terra firma.

It's strange, yet true that one craves the companionship of a dog. When a man and dog become friends they become almost inseparable. For the truth of this ask our storekeeper, P. H. Hammond, who has recently acquired a shepherd pup.

Graveling of the new mountain-side road began last Thursday in earnest when a big auto truck began moving gravel from the bunkers down at Spaulding's mill to this new road bed. It is stated that the graveling of this road will be completed within the next three weeks.

The local Christian Endeavors held an evening picnic last Friday evening at the Grant Heater Farm. A very delightful time was reported by all who attended and a very good evening was enjoyed. Things went smoothly until Rev. Carl Miller thought he had injured one of the smaller boys with his car, which proved to be nothing only a jar of loganberry juice the boy was carrying, which was broken and partially covered his face.
