NEWBERG COMMERCIAL CLUB AT DAYTON

WIN THE CHECKER TOURNAMENT

Dayton Club Is Host to Local Business Men Last Thursday Evening at Dayton

A large delegation of Newberg commercial club members went to Dayton, on Thursday evening, November 17, and had one grand social time. Dayton hospitality was sure a sincere one and those from Newberg who accepted their invitation are looking forward to another affair such as this was. The predominant feature of the evening was a checker tournament. Newberg's team consisted of R. M. Thurston, S. P. Timberlake, Mr. Dunton, W. W. Nelson, J. C. Monk, and Andy Anderson. Dayton's team was as follows: Mr. Sherman, Mr. Proffit, "Major" Miller, Mr. Bertram and Mr. Willard. One exciting feature of the games was when Mr. Dunton of Newberg took Mr. Sherman, the invincible, of Dayton, into camp. Considerable fun was enjoyed over a game played by Major Miller of Dayton and J. C. Monk of Newberg. While the game was being played, the Newberg trio, consisting of Dr. R. W. Van Valin, George McGee and Bert Miller, sang a parody to the tune of "Tipperary," which started something like this: "It's a hard, hard thing to beat old Newberg." Whether it was the boasting done by the trio or good steady nerve on the part of Newberg players that got them out of the hole is a question. Anyway, to start with, Dayton took the lead by about four games. The final outcome however, was 17 to 11 in favor of Newberg.

Some interesting pool and billiard games were also played. Some exhibition pool and billiard stunts were given for the entertainment of the Newberg club members. At the close of the checker games refreshments were served. The Newberg trio sang a final parody at the close of the evening's fun to the tune of "Liza Jane" which went something like this: "Oh, it's our town, your town and mine, etc." Newberg commercial club are planning a return social affair for Dayton some time in the near future.

STORM DOES MUCH DAMAGE OVER THE ENTIRE NORTHWEST

The storm which hit this section of the country last Saturday was general all over the northwest and did great damage everywhere. At The Dalles they had 35 inches of snow and between The Dalles and Portland many of the overland trains were tied up by the snow. Many autos were caught on the Columbia river highway and had to be left in snow drifts while their drivers made their way as best they could to the railroad where they tried to flag a train. Some severe experiences were experienced.

The Willamette river has been coming up at an unprecedented rate and rose 18 feet at this place in one day. Small driftwood almost immediately began making its appearance and by Monday night the logs and trees were coming down. At noon Monday the water had overflowed the lower banks near the boat landing and was still raising.

The highways over the state were inundated in many places and all lowlands everywhere were filling up with the surplus water which fell so heavily Sunday and Sunday night. Monday showed a considerable cessation in rainfall but even then there were occasional showers which greatly resembled cloudbursts in the amount of water which fell. This is the first real storm of the present winter and seems to be making up for lost time in real earnest.

M. E. CHOIR GAVE THEIR ANNUAL REQUEST CONCERT

The volunteer choir of the M. E. church gave their annual request concert last Sunday evening in spite of bad weather and a lack of lights at the start. Of course the crowd was greatly cut down by the storm and the fact that all lights were off just at the time when the concert was scheduled to start, but the concert was given just the same and quite a good many people were present.

The numbers rendered were those upon the request of persons and those which received the largest number of requests for rendition were the ones given. While waiting for the lights to come on a hymn was sung and Rev. Huddleston made a short talk which was interrupted by the reappearance of the lights.

Among the numbers rendered by the choir were: "By Babylon's Wave," "The Lost Chord," "Let Mount Zion Rejoice," "Praise the Lord," etc. There were twenty-nine voices in the chorus besides the director and accompanist. Mrs. Aggie Ginn Gould, Mrs. Ralph Otis and James E. Martin were the soloists.

SURPRISE PARTY

Last Saturday evening November nineteenth was a scene of delightful merrymaking, when a number of young people surprised Miss Margaret Anderson with a birthday party at her home on River street.

The evening was enjoyed by all and dainty refreshments were served to the following persons: Misses Louise Sharpe, La Verne Hodson, Lois Sharpe, Messrs. Lynn Switzer, Henry Fitzpatrick, Lee Ryan, and Chester Newlin.

BOYS THROW ROCK THROUGH WINDSHIELD

McMINNVILLE BOY GETS LIP CUT

Five Newberg Boys Plead Guilty and Are Fined $15 Each by City Recorder Wednesday

A most regrettable occurrence happened on the streets of Newberg on Tuesday night when a group of five boys from McMinnville invaded the city with slings of paper on which appeared the words, "Wallop Newberg." Some of the local boys took umbrage at the action of the Mac boys and proceeded to "get them."

In the first place it is said that they warned the McMinnville boys to get out of town. Then someone let the wind out of their tires. Night Marshal Wallace appeared about this time and interfered with any further altercations. He ushered the McMinnville boys over to the Calkins garage where they refilled their tires and then advised them to leave town immediately. They started off down First street and when they got a short distance west of Main street a crash was heard and some yelling. In a short time the boys came back up the street and the boys jumped out and filed a complaint with the city marshal, as someone had thrown a stone or brick or something through the windshield breaking it and cutting one of the boys' lip. Dirt and eggs had also been thrown and some of the dirt had lodged in this same boy's eye and for a time it was feared that he had some glass in it.

Night officer Wallace took down the names of the seven boys who were collected on the spot in front of the McCoy garage and ordered them to appear before the city recorder on Wednesday morning. This they did and all but two pleaded guilty and were fined $15 each. The other two boys pleaded not guilty saying that they were not taking any part in the affair but were simply innocent bystanders. Friday was set as the date for hearing their trials.

There has been altogether too much feeling between Newberg and McMinnville and while we believe that the Mac boys showed poor judgment in coming to Newberg just before a high school football game with such propaganda, nevertheless they were strictly within their rights and such acts of vandalism as the local boys perpetrated are not to be condoned in any sense. Newberg people do not share in such deeds and have no sympathy for the culprits. The Graphic withholds the names of these boys who stood trial simply because we saw some of the transaction and do not believe that they were the guilty ones who threw the object which did the damage. Five other boys were implicated and these five have entirely escaped. There is no doubt in our mind that the really guilty boy was one of these five.

NEWS NOTES OF HAPPENINGS AT PACIFIC COLLEGE

At a meeting of the Pacific College board in connection with the session of Newberg quarterly meeting, Miss Mary E. Pennington was added to the college faculty. For the present she will be assistant in English. The large increase in enrollment for this year made this addition necessary. Miss Pennington is a daughter of President Pennington, a graduate of Pacific College and of Earlham College, Richmond, Indiana. She represented Pacific three times and Earlham once in oratory, and after her graduation taught for a year in Lynnville, Iowa, as head of the English department of the high school there.

Miss Muri Clarke, head of the home economics department and librarian of Pacific College, has been appointed head of the dormitory for women. Mrs. Elwood Johnson has filled the position temporarily since the beginning of the year, until the college authorities were able to secure a permanent matron.

A telephone is being installed in the men's dormitory at Pacific.

Owing to his appointment as assistant general traffic manager of the Southern Pacific lines and his necessary removal to San Francisco, H. A. Hinshaw of Portland has resigned his membership on the college board. His place has been filled by Dr. William Rees of Portland.

Need No Warrant

Police officers, in other words, who suspect that a well known bootlegger is plying his nefarious trade with a "delivery" perhaps in his suitcase, may seize the contraband liquor without search warrant and use the liquor as evidence in a federal court prosecution.

The case in question was that of John Remac, Michael Zarkovich and Antone U. Kojunich, arrested by police officers while carrying two suit cases of liquor down the street. The seizure was made without search warrant and the attorney for the accused men immediately applied for the return of the liquor.

The case was transferred to the federal court, where an information was filed by Assistant United States Attorney Austin Flegel against the offenders.

Three Admit Guilt

The motion of the attorney for the return of the property was refused by Judge Bean, who decided that, so long as federal officers had in no way violated the rights of the

CHAS. K. SPAULDING SAWMILL NOW CUTTING ABOUT 100,000 FEET OF LUMBER PER DAY

THIS BIG LOCAL INDUSTRY IS NOW EMPLOYING NEARLY 200 MEN

Shipping Lumber to Thirty-Seven States and Old Mexico and Japan—Silo Plant and Frame Factory Running Two Shifts and Conditions Are Looking Better in the Lumber Industry as Time Goes On.

The Chas. K. Spaulding Logging company's sawmill at this place is one of the greatest factors in this community's growth and present industrial activity. With a payroll last month of $13,500 and $15,000 for this month, this institution is certainly to be accorded first place among the local industries when it comes to circulating dollars in the community. Although the mill was forced to shut down the latter part of this week on account of the high water which made it impossible for the company to get their logs into the river without losing them, it is thought that they will start up again Friday morning and as Thursday was a holiday anyway, the men will not lose more than two or three days at the most unless the storm continues and the river fails to go down as expected.

The writer does not have to stretch his imagination at all to remember the days when like the 175 men who now work at the mill and frame factory he carried his dinner bucket with him and set out for the mill each morning. This week we renewed our acquaintance with some of the mill men and the buzz of the saws and the smell of the freshly cut timber and the pitch brought back vividly those former days when we too were part of this big machine which is turning out lumber at the rate of about 100,000 feet per day.

On the day we visited the mill a big train of logs was just being pulled into the yard by old No. 2 and inquiry developed the fact that now all of the logs cut at this place come in by train, where some years ago they all came down the river. However, the timber has now been cut back away from the river to such an extent that it is necessary to take the trains up into the mountains and haul out the logs. The logs which are now being cut come from the Grand Ronde country, where the Spaulding-Miami company is taking out the timber. An article was published in this paper some time ago telling about this part of the industry and of the new city which was springing up there so that we will not go into those details at this time. However, we will say that this is in the country where they are having so much trouble from food waters and the local mill has been notified that they cannot hope to receive any more logs for a week. This is not a serious condition and will not delay the mill for they have a big pile of logs stacked up here and will make use of these for such emergencies.

H. C. Spaulding, youngest son of Chas. K. Spaulding, is the local manager, and has the responsibility for both the mill end and the local office end of the business. C. A. Keeney, who has been with the company ever since we can remember, is yard superintendent, which position makes him responsible for the work of a large number of the men who work around the mill. Under him are such departments of the work as car loading, dry kiln process, lumber piling for storage, trucking, and in fact almost everything at the sawmill outside of the mill itself. L. G. Pike who is another almost permanent fixture in connection with the local mill, having been with the company for many years, is mill superintendent, having charge of all the men who work in the mill proper. Jim Coates is head sawyer and Warren Haynes has charge of the local sales from the mill.

The silo plant or frame factory is one department of the local plant which has been built since the days when we worked in the sawmill. This department has had a very rapid growth and is proving a valuable department for the Spaulding people. J. E. Anderson is superintendent of this plant and has under him about 36 men, working in two shifts.

The local mill is cutting about 100,000 feet of lumber per day and they are shipping perhaps better than 75 per cent. of their cut. It is perhaps news to some people that a recent compilation showed that this company is shipping to thirty-seven different states as well as to old Mexico and Japan. The Japanese trade is a new proposition, comparatively speaking. Nearly all of this business is in large timbers or squares. The local mill is shipping almost everything, including wood, lath, lumber, silos, frames, etc.

There is one difference, which we could not help but note in connection with the work today and that of those days when we shoved lumber into a big box car, and this is the difference in hours and wages. Then we worked ten hours a day and drew down about $1.75 per day. Today the men work eight hours and get from $3.50 per day up. However, at that, we expect that they feel that they are earning their money and probably they are. But certainly it is an improved condition which enables them to get home before seven o'clock at night and doesn't force them out at six o'clock in the morning.

Conditions would certainly be had in Newberg this winter were it not for the sawmill giving employment as it does to some 175 men and the people of Newberg should certainly hold kindly feelings towards this institution which has distributed such large amounts of money in the way of wages in this city. Business conditions in the lumber business in general have improved over what they were, but even so, the sawmill people do not find their path strewn with roses by any means, and they are facing the winter season, which is the worst season of the year as a rule for their business. However, it is expected that the mill will continue to run and give employment to the men who need it so much.

HARD FOR BOOTLEGGERS

Bootleggers have been having things somewhat their own way for some time on account of the fact that officers were not allowed to seize liquor without a search warrant. However, the following article taken from a Portland paper gives a new view on the subject and makes it possible for officers to get evidence. Bootleggers will doubtless be more wary after this as a result.

A decision which has all the earmarks of a pretty nasty wallop for bootleggers of the vicinity was handed down recently by Federal Judge Bean.

The court decided that where liquor had been seized without a search warrant by city police officers, the lack of search warrant would not prevent the use of the liquor as evidence against the defendants in the federal court.

FARMERS MEETING

Last Saturday at the cannery hall a meeting of the Newberg farmers' club was held. In spite of the stormy weather there was a good representative bunch of farmers present. The regular business of the club was disposed of as quickly as possible and the fruit and cannery situation for the next year was discussed. As this is a very live and vital question everyone seemed to take a keen interest.

Mr. Dean gave a short talk introducing the question, and stated the proposition as worked out thus far:

S. L. Parrett, president of the U. S. National bank was present and gave a very clear survey of the subject. He said that unless some definite things were accomplished to insure the future of the local cannery we would go backward instead of forward in the fruit growing industry. This would be not only a blow to the farmers, but something that would affect the welfare of everyone.

This year had not proven entirely satisfactory owing to the fact that the arrangements were temporary. But a permanent basis of operation should be worked out as soon as possible.

He said there seemed to be three plans that were offered as possible solutions for the condition. First, for some outside company to purchase the property; second, farmers to organize locally; and third, for the Oregon Growers Cooperative association to undertake the proposition. There was a meeting a few days ago, he stated, attended by Mr. Vincent, the man who has charge of the selling, and it was his wish to sell all three canneries together, that is the Springbrook, Newberg and Mc-

PEOPLE OF REX SERVED A SPLENDID CHICKEN DINNER

The good ladies of Rex community served a chicken dinner at the community hall last Friday evening which was certainly a splendid success from every viewpoint. Although the affair was not extensively advertised, they had the hall comfortably filled and certainly everyone who partook of the splendid dinner was forced to admit that they had left nothing undone in trying to serve a fine dinner. The chicken was excellent and there was everything to go with it and the prices were most reasonable. The ladies took in something like $40, which we understand will go towards the purchase of a stove for the hall.

This was one of the first affairs held in this new hall and the building is one of which the community may well be proud. It is 30x60 feet and is certainly very roomy. We are informed that it is the intention to construct a stage in one end of the building. The dinner last Friday evening was given under the auspices of the community ladies aid society.

Minneapolis plants. What arrangements might be made, Mr. Parrett said he believed the time was not far distant when most of the small sized prunes would be canned. One could readily see what that would mean to a prune growing section like this.

A general discussion of the merits of the plans proposed by Mr. Parrett was taken up by several of those present. It seemed to be the opinion of most to organize the locality in some manner to operate the cannery next year.

Individuals involved, the liquor should not be returned, but used as evidence against the men.

The trio then pleaded guilty. Remac getting a fine of 250 and his two partners $500 each.

CHRISTMAS BAZAAR

The Ladies Aid society of the M. E. church will hold a bazaar and sale at the Crede market on Saturday, Dec. 3. Come and see what the ladies have to offer.

Brownie Newman started last Saturday on a trip to Hood River by auto, but encountered the freeze at Tigard and turned back, which was certainly a lucky thing for him as he could not have gotten through to the Columbia river city.

NEWBERG LEADS ALL IN NEW BOYS' CHORUS

121 BOYS HAVE JOINED CHORUS

Rev. H. E. K. Whitney Was With The Boys Here Again on Tuesday. 147 Newberg Boys Were Out

Newberg has the largest charter membership in the Whitney Boys' chorus in ratio to its population of any city in the state where a chorus has been started. A second meeting of this organization was held at the high school on Tuesday evening of this week and 147 boys were present. Of this number 121 have become members. Rev. Whitney states that he is more than pleased with the showing made and also with the cooperation which he has received from the boys' parents in Newberg. From off the bat the chorus has shown that it means business.

At the Tuesday evening meeting, the following were selected to have charge of the various operations in connection with the chorus: C. A. Morris, director; Miss Eva Moore, pianist; Mrs. Fred Frost, soprano leader; Mrs. W. E. Crozer, alto leader; and Fred Frost, bass leader. The interest shown and help given by Prof. H. C. Ross, Prof. VanWormer and H. G. See is very much appreciated. Mr. See has been elected secretary-treasurer of the chorus and he will be assisted by Messrs. Ross and VanWormer. All boys remember that next Tuesday evening at 7:30 is the time for the next meeting and every boy who means business should be in his seat by 7:25 p. m.

CLUB MEETS

We are glad to note with what enthusiasm the women of Park addition responded to the call "To Arms" in forming a club for the betterment of our homes in our vicinity. At the first meeting last Tuesday, November 15th, at the home of Mrs. P. J. Darby, there were eleven women present. The organization was completed and the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Beatrice Merrill; first vice, Mrs. Nellie Thorne; second vice, Mrs. Marie Adams; third vice, Mrs. Addie Wright; secretary, Mrs. Dalton Cook; treasurer, Mrs. Lois Way.

A resolution was adopted that we come to the meetings to help and be helped. Gossip and the habit of serving eats were tabooed on the start and the well known verse "There is so much good in the worst of us, and so much bad in the best of us it hardly behoves any of us to talk about the rest of us," was adopted as our motto. Our meeting this week was held in community hall on Ninth street. Four new names were added to our roll.

YAMHILL COUNTY BANKERS MET HERE TUESDAY NIGHT

Representatives of the banks of Yamhill county met at the Imperial Hotel, Newberg, Tuesday evening, November 22, and organized the Yamhill county bankers' association. S. L. Parrett, president of the United States National bank of Newberg was elected president of the association; Paul Fundman, cashier of the Willamina State bank, vice-president; J. L. Stuart, cashier of the Bank of Dayton, secretary, and Sam Laughlin, cashier of the Yamhill State bank, Yamhill, treasurer.

The next meeting of the association will be held at McMinnville.

REBEKAHS AND ODDFELLOWS ENJOY DINNER TUESDAY EVE

The Rebekah lodge served a splendid dinner at the lodge hall on Tuesday night of this week when a very large number of Oddfellows and Rebekahs met for a social evening. Prior to the dinner the Rebekahs held a session of their lodge and put on the work. The feed was in the nature of an oyster dinner and it was some feed say those who were present. Speeches were made by quite a number of those present, among them being: F. A. Morris, Mrs. Marie K. Evans, Mrs. Eckerson, and Mr. Eckerson.

FOUR NEWBERG MEN CAUGHT IN FLOODS

TRIP FROM TILLAMOOK EXCITING

Abandon Cars and Have Close Call Getting Home From Fishing Trip at the Coast

Four local men had some thrilling experiences in connection with the storm which hit the coast country over the past week end. Dr. J. W. Barcroft, Dr. C. A. Eldredge, Elgin VanBlaricom and "Red" Rice left here last Saturday for Tillamook and other coast points. They stopped at Sheridan on the way over for supper, eating at a restaurant there at about noon. They arrived at Tillamook at about 5 p. m. and by eight o'clock there were several bridges reported out. The water raised so rapidly that in some instances people were unable to save anything and had to flee for their lives.

The local men started back from Tillamook at 9 a. m. Monday and did not reach here until 7 o'clock that evening. At Hebo a garage which stood beside the road was found to be in the Nestucca river which had jumped its banks and washed out under the garage. At one place they encountered some mud and backed their car out to test it and see how deep it was, and just then down came a big log and several tons of dirt just where they had been.

At one place they found the concrete highway bridge washed away entirely with ten feet of the concrete paving, and between Willamina and Sheridan the bridge was gone. At Sheridan they looked in vain for the restaurant where they had eaten and were told that it had been swept down the river. Everywhere the basements were full of water and all sorts of both serious and humorous situations were in evidence as a result of the flood conditions. For over half a mile in one place they drove through water two feet deep. Of course the four Newberg men were mighty glad to get back here safely and will be more careful about picking a time to go to the coast hereafter.

THE FISHER OPERATIC QUINSET GAVE A FINE ENTERTAINMENT

The Fisher operatic quintet which gave the second number of the lyceum course at Wood-Mar hall Monday evening thoroughly captivated their audience and proved their right to their splendid reputation as a musical organization. Owing to the storm which demoralized all traffic early in the week, the performers did not arrive until about 9:30 and President Pennington filled in by telling a number of good stories and calling upon several to respond to impromptu numbers. Mrs. Chas. Morris gave two humorous readings. Dr. Hester told a true story, and Miss Jessie Britt told a funny story and gave a reading.

The work of the company was excellent throughout, both in solo work, duets and ensemble numbers. Miss Fisher who heads the company has a voice of great power and range and of splendid quality. Both the tenor and contralto voices were also excellent.

Such favorites as the quartet from "Rigoletto," were given and in a specially arranged sketch from "The Bohemian Girl," the company in costume sang many gypsy songs. Among these were Cadman's "Where My Caravan has Rested," "In the Gypsy Life," "Then You'll Remember Me," and "The Heart Bowed Down."

The accompanist also gave a number of readings and on the whole the audience were greatly pleased with this second number of the lyceum course.
