The hard wind storm last Thursday blew trees in most every direction. Several had to be cut out of the road in order for the Newberg mail carrier to get through.

Work has begun on the new road through Parrett mountain and next Monday has been set for donation work to begin. Everyone that is interested in this road should come out and help put it through. The county is furnishing the powder to clean it out 40 feet wide.

MUSINGS

Sometimes a woman's hair is golden—and occasionally it is plaited.

If a man amounts to anything he doesn't have to boast of his ancestors.

It makes a woman heartsick every time she has to cut a valuable piece of lace.

There may be plenty of room at the top, but victims of that tired feeling never reach it.

If you compliment some men they will never forget you—unless you overdo the thing by lending them money.

Linoleum and oilcloth will last twice as long if they are varnished once a year.
