LET'S HAVE UNITY

The business men of Newberg should, and we believe practically all of them do, realize that their very existence depends upon the success of the farmers. Under this condition it should be the aim of the business men and of their various organizations to back the farmers in any way which is at all possible. If the farmers need help with any enterprise which they are going to launch or which they are striving to keep going, the business people of Newberg should take enough interest in those things to be willing to do anything in their power to help. They should have the welfare of the farmers enough at heart so that they would be willing to not only cooperate with them, but so that they would be looking out for his welfare even to the point of going ahead of him in this respect. If they think a move along certain lines would be wise, they should foster it. If they think it would be unwise, they should not be slow to say so. Such a real interest manifested in the farmer will find a ready acceptance on his part and will ultimately win him away from the idea that the merchant is always trying to gouge him and get the best of him.

The question of the local cannery has been a very vital one with the farmers here of late and they have held numerous meetings on this subject. We understand that there has been a division among them regarding the advisability of what action they should take. We believe that the matter is still not entirely settled. Why would it not be a good idea for the business men of Newberg to evince an interest in this question. Get together and try to help the farmers solve this difficult problem.

After nine months residence in Newberg, we feel that there should be some organization which would actually function in the interests of the business men and the farmers. The Commercial Club has its sphere of activity it is true. The Farmers club apparently has a like sphere for the farmer. The Berrians, which we had hoped would unite the two, has perhaps done more than either of the others to show an interest in a cooperative way. Yet, there is still a big gap between the farmer and the business man and there is no use in ignoring the fact.

We have farmers who say that they will not attend a meeting which is held in the Commercial Club rooms; we also have Commercial Club members who apparently dislike the farmers and think them unwilling to cooperate. It is really too bad that such a condition should exist. We cannot believe that very many of the business men hold anything but a most kindly feeling for the farmers. On the other hand, if the merchants will go to the trouble to make the farmer know he feels that way we believe that the farmers will soon be practically unanimous in their friendship for the business men. If such a cooperation could be effected it would be one of the biggest things which could be put over in this community and it would boost Newberg as nothing else could possibly do.

We should have farmer members in the Commercial Club taking an active interest in it. We should have business people showing an active interest in the farmers' affairs. All should unite in the Berrians to the benefit of both elements of our community's society. It's a case where, if there are any old hatchets, they should be buried and everyone should get together for the good of all alike.

NEW PLANS

Less than a year ago a new organization came into existence in Newberg, which is known as the Berrians. This organization grew like a mushroom overnight almost, and soon numbered its members by the hundreds. In about two weeks time, after its first organization, it put a float in the rose festival parade which carried off two prizes. It is unnecessary to go further into the history of the Berrians. You all know what was accomplished last year. Officers have been elected for the coming year and these officers are already getting busy on the plans for the coming year's work. These plans are just in the embryo state so far, but they look to us even better than those of last year. We believe that something will be worked out for the rose festival parade that will be an added laurel for Newberg and which will give us an even better standing over the state at large than we enjoy now.

Nothing definite can be given out at this time, but the public will undoubtedly be taken into the plans very soon and a plan will probably be evolved which should enlist the hearty cooperation of practically everyone in the community. Our participation will be on a much larger scale than last year, if plans now pending mature, and it will require a great concerted support on the part of all of our people to make it a success.

Among other things, The Berrians plan to uniform the Berrian band and the drill team by the time the rose festival is given, but these will be simply added features to what is planned in connection with the float itself. Newberg will certainly be in the limelight at the rose festival and if past history is anything to go by, this community should reap a great deal of benefit from the advertising of our berry industry at the rose festival. Will you help? They need you and unless you do, there may be that much of a failure in the plans. Join the Berrians, boost Newberg, but don't stop there. Help in any way and place where you can. That sort of cooperation and united effort will be sure to win.

Have you secured your 1922 license? The secretary of state has declared that January 20 will be the last date on which autos will be permitted to run without them. The secretary of state's office has been so overwhelmed with the rush of demands for licenses that although many people have sent in their money, they have been unable to secure their plates. In some cases where plates have arrived, they were ordered almost a month in advance of their receipt.

There seems to be little doubt that the 1925 exposition will be held. Most people are apparently in favor of it. However, when it comes to the financing of the exposition, that is a different question and all the counties outside of Multnomah seem to think that Portland should hold the exposition and pay the bills. On the other hand Portland has shown her willingness to pay a big part of the cost, but thinks that the rest of the state should help her. We believe that if the matter could be properly explained to the public over the state and the exposition sold to the outlying districts as it has been to Portland and vicinity that the people of the state at large would be ready to help finance the big fair.

Practically $2,335,000 was the state's receipts from auto licenses last year. With the greatly increased license fee which has been put on this year, with the probable increase in the number of licenses which will be issued, the receipts for this year should approximate $4,000,000.

California may boast of her wonderful climate, but a recent letter from a friend in that state tells of rain and storm, while here we are now enjoying some of the most beautiful weather one could possibly imagine. Oregon suits us.
